CAMPAIGN FOR SALE OF WAR BONDS WILL START HERE TODAY

Committees to Conduct the Sale in Every Georgia Town Will Be Named at Meeting to Be Held This Afternoon.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE TO HAVE SUPERVISION

Many Big Organizations in This District Are Turning Their Sales Forces Into "Liberty Bond" Salesmen.

The active campaign for the sale of $65,000,000 worth of "Liberty Loan" bonds in the Atlanta federal reserve district will be launched at a committee meeting which has been called by St. Elmo Massengale, chairman of the bond publicity committee for this district, at the Atlanta Federal Reserve bank this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

At this meeting arrangements will be completed for the general sale of the bonds throughout this district, which is composed of the states of Georgia, Alabama and Florida and about half of the states of Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana, including the city of New Orleans.

Central Committee.

Owing to the fact that these gentlemen are in Atlanta and can readily keep in touch with the Atlanta Federal Reserve bank, through which the sale in the Atlanta federal reserve district is being conducted, the entire sales campaign for this district will be supervised by the central committee composed of W. C. Wardlaw, chairman; Mell R. Wilkinson, J. Epps Brown, F. J. Paxon, Ivan E. Allen, St. Elmo Massengale and W. H. Toole, of Winder, Ga. This committee will be assisted by the district publicity committee, of which St. Elmo Massengale is chairman, and which committee meets Friday afternoon at the Atlanta Federal Reserve bank.

The personnel of this committee is as follows:

St. Elmo Massengale, president of the Southern Association of Advertising Agents, chairman; L. D. Hicks, Frank Lowenstein, W. W. Orr, Fred Houser, Richard Schwab, Fred L[illegible] Evelyn Harris, Frank Coffee, Ed [illegible] Johnson, Henry DeGive, Charles D. Atkinson, James Holliday and Walter G. Brown.

At the committee meeting to be held this afternoon committees will be named to conduct the local campaigns in every town and city in the Atlanta federal reserve district.

Will Perfect Organization.

These local committees in each city will perfect their own organizations, and thus by next week a great machine will have been created for the advertising and sale of the "Liberty Loan" bonds in the southeast. Many big organizations, such as insurance companies, are turning their sales forces into salesmen for the "Liberty Loan" bonds, and the entire machinery is being aided by wide publicity as to what the "Liberty Loan" bonds are and what advantages these bonds offer as investments. Many concerns are volunteering the contract advertising space for publicity for the bonds, and news columns of newspapers all over the country are spreading the story of the big bond issue, by which the man who cannot go to the front may do his patriotic "bit" for the colors.

At a dinner tendered the Presidents' club by the Atlanta Federal Reserve bank, through M. B. Wellborn, chairman of the board of directors, at the Piedmont hotel Wednesday night, the campaign for the sale of Atlanta's quota of the bond issue was begun. Atlanta will absorb $10,000,000 worth of the $65,000,000 worth of bonds which are to be sold in this district.

At this meeting a committee, composed of Thomas C. Erwin, chairman; W. W. Orr, Colonel W. L. Peel, W. Carroll Latimer and H. D. Carter, was named to supervise the sale of the bonds in the city of Atlanta, and this committee is to be aided by innumerable subcommittees and by the efforts of business concerns and individuals.

HERE ARE REASONS URGED FOR BUYING WAR BONDS

Atlanta has started a campaign for the sale here of $10,000,000 "Liberty Loan" bonds. The machinery of the campaign will be set in motion this afternoon for the sale of a total of $65,000,000 "Liberty Loan" bonds in the Atlanta federal reserve district, composed of the states of Georgia, Florida, Alabama and about half of Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana, including the city of New Orleans.

There are reasons innumerable, it is pointed out, why everybody should subscribe to these bonds, some of which are as follows:

It is doing one's patriotic "bit" toward aiding the country in the war.

It is the safest investment there is.

The "Liberty Loan" bonds are exempt from federal, state and local taxation, except as they become a part of an inheritance.

They bear a good rate of interest and are convertible into bonds bearing a higher rate, should the government hereafter issue such bonds.

The money put into subscriptions to "Liberty Loan" bonds will be spent by the government for army pay and supplies right back among the people who subscribed it.

There is no easier or better way of saving money than by investing in a small denomination bond in easy payments through your bank.

Your bank will lend you 100 per cent of the value on your bond, should you need the money, and the interest on your bond will pay the interest on the loan.

Prompt subscription of the loan will save American lives and will hasten the end of the war.

The president of the Guarantee Trust Company of New York gives further reasons:

"It is of the first importance that the success of the loan should not be dependent upon the amount taken by the banks.

"The more they tie up, the less capable will they be of solving other problems, commercial and industrial, as they materialize.

"The more they tie up on their own account, the less credit will they be in a position to extend to those customers who want to buy.

"The bond issue is a war measure. Bond buyers become participants. They muster themselves into service.

"Those who can buy and do not are disloyal to the extent that they withhold proof of loyalty.

"It is a travesty for those who can buy, and do not, to salute the flag."

"Report of My Death Much Exaggerated," Says Rev. C. C. Carey

Comes now Rev. C. C. Carey, retired Methodist minister, who, before the fire, lived at 61-B Highland avenue, and in the immortal words of Mark Twain, deposes and says as follows, to-wit:

"The report of my death is very much exaggerated."

Following erroneous reports of his death and a story in an afternoon newspaper, Mr. Carey called upon The Constitution to let the friends of himself and wife know that both are alive and well, and would like to know who got the two bundles which he removed from his home and placed on Highland avenue last Monday afternoon.

AUSTRIA NOT STARVING, SO PENFIELD REPORTS

Washington, May 24.—Former Ambassador Penfield, who has just returned from Austria-Hungary, said today at the white house that conditions in that country are not so bad as might be expected. There is no starvation, he said, but a great deal of deprivation. He said he had but little to report to President Wilson that is not already known. The people in Austria-Hungary still believe that Germany and Austria are winning the war, because their only information is given in newspapers censored by the government.

LARGE SUM NEEDED FOR BLAZE VICTIMS

At Least $40,000 More Must Be Subscribed Before Committee Can Adequately Cope With the Situation, Says Paxon.

An urgent appeal for $40,000 additional to the fund already subscribed for the fire fund and an emphatic statement that $100,000 must be secured before the relief organization is able to cope with the situation, was issued yesterday afternoon by F. J. Paxon, chairman of the relief committee. He stated that so far only 300 persons had responded to the call for finances.

"Immediate relief," says Mr. Paxon in his appeal, "that is for a period of twenty-four hours, is being handled. Many families will have to be cared for a week or more until they can get on their feet. Many of the best people of the middle class have lost everything.

"The bulk of the losers are not beggars, and must be helped. Carpenters have lost their tools; we must furnish them with tools so they will not be a drain on the community. Dressmakers and sewing women have lost their machines. The machines must be replaced, else the women will be pauperized. Thus runs the story in innumerable cases."

In connection with the appeal, a tribute was paid the women of Atlanta for their noble response to the need of the fire sufferers.

"Many noble women of our city are helping to the very uttermost of their ability; they are doing more than their share, and the Atlanta public will never know how greatly it is indebted to these women who have laid aside all household and social duties to aid their brothers and sisters," he writes.

Appeal for Funds.

Mr. Paxon's appeal follows:

Editor The Constitution: Unfortunately the impression has gained hold that the relief committee has all the money it needs. Speaking for myself and for our committee, I will appreciate it if you will give conspicuous emphasis to this fact in your paper: We have received in contributions and money about $60,000. At the lowest estimate we will need $40,000 additional to bring the necessary relief. Immediate relief, that is for a period of twenty-four hours, is being handled. Many families will have to be cared for for a week or more until they can get on their feet. Many of the best people of the middle class have lost everything. They are not beggars and must be helped. Carpenters have lost all their tools; we must furnish them so they will not be a drain on the community. Dressmakers and sewing women have lots their sewing machines. The machines must be replaced or they will be pauperized. Thus runs the story in innumerable cases.

Assure the public that each and every application is thoroughly investigated; the negroes, through their colored pastors, and then by our corps of investigators; the applications of whites are also looked into by the investigators.

Some three hundred people have contributed money to the fund. These three hundred are those who are usually called upon, but the rank and file of our citizens have done nothing. We are confident that every man, woman and child in the city desires to do their bit. Donations in money from $1 up will be gladly received. The money should be sent to LEE ASHCRAFT, chairman. Many people have clothing they can give. Some can donate furniture and provisions. Wholesale houses can contribute generously. If the information bureau, Ivy 1061, is called, information will be cheerfully given as to disposition of contributions.

Many noble women of our city are helping to the very uttermost of their ability—they are doing more than their share, and the Atlanta public will never know how greatly it is indebted to these women who have laid aside all household duties and social engagement to aid their fellow-brothers and sisters, black or white. Surely those who have not volunteered their personal services will do so. If they cannot leave their homes, they can send a contribution in money. Every little helps and it is the aggregate that counts.

This is an URGENT CALL FOR HELP—(S. O. S.). Your assistance is needed, and we are begging you for it.

F. J. PAXON,
Chairman Relief Committee.

Find Homes for Victims.

A committee composed of prominent men, both white and colored, was appointed Thursday to secure homes for all families now shelterless.

Every family which was without insurance to cover the loss of property will be given individual attention by this committee. The work of rehabilitation will require several weeks.

The rehabilitation committee appointed by General Chairman Lee Ashcraft follows: Edward H. Inman, chairman; Isaac Schoen, Judge Walter H. Colquitt, white; and H. H. Pace, Rev. E. H. Oliver and A. R. Herndon, colored.

In an advisory capacity to this committee the following body of women will serve: Mrs. Spencer R. Atkinson, Mrs. R. L. Foreman and Miss Susan Young. The two bodies began work Thursday.

Another important branch of relief activity was launched at the Auditorium when Chairman Ashcraft appointed a committee on employment and inaugurated an employment bureau at relief headquarters.

This branch will strive to find employment for the hundreds who were thrown mestic servants, butlers, gardeners, mestic servants, butlers, gardeners, janitors, carpenters and the like.

The employment committee is composed of Mrs. David Marx, chairman; Mrs. Spencer R. Atkinson, Mrs. R. Woodruff, Mrs. J. N. Bell, Mrs. R. Roberts, Mrs. A. H. Harris, Mrs. A. A. Johnson and Mrs. A. Heyman.

Added to the forces aiding in the Auditorium was the detachment of the marine corps now stationed in Atlanta on recruiting duty. The Junior Marine corps of Tech High school went on duty Wednesday.

Will Help Women.

The A. C. club, the business women's boarding home at 178 Washington street, will accommodate two business women until they are located. The following members of the advisory board will each take two business women until located: Mrs. W. L. McCorley, Jr., 60 Westward avenue, West 1392-J; Mrs. R. D. Crusoe, 81 East Ninth street, Ivy 3827; Mrs. C. W. Heery, 304 Park avenue, Main 3621-L. The club will also contribute some furniture. Phone Main 1526.

W. F. Stallings has been added to the warehouse committee of the citizens' commission for the burned district. The telephone number of the warehouse committee is Main 790.

The Armour Packing and Fertilizer company have notified their branches in Atlanta and elsewhere that, in order that all their employees may participate in the liberty loan, a plan has been formulated by which employees may purchase liberty bonds through the company on a weekly payment basis.

A. Watson Armour, the president of the concern, states that this plan has been adopted in order that employees may manifest their loyalty to the government to such an extent as their circumstances may permit and at the same time aid in the sale of liberty bonds.

The Armour company has over 400 branch departments, ten big packing houses and about 30,000 employees. Full details of the purchasing system will be sent to the various branches in the course of two or three days.

As Great Adventure Waite Greets Death In Electric Chair

Young Dentist, Who Confessed to Cold-Blooded Murder of Rich Father-in-Law, Is Executed.

Ossining, N. Y., May 24.—Dr. Arthur Warren Waite was executed at Sing Sing prison at 11:10 o'clock tonight for the murder of his father-in-law, John E. Peck, of Grand Rapids, Mich.

The young dentist walked calmly and with a firm step from his cell to the death chamber, accompanied by the Rev. A. N. Peterson, Protestant chaplain of the prison. He faltered, however, as he neared the electric chair, but recovered quicly and nodded to the group of physicians, prison officials and others who had assembled as witnesses.

Waite submitted quietly to the ordeal of being strapped into the chair, and went to his death without a word of protest or good-bye. Three shocks were administered within four minutes.

No Farewell Message.

The two hours before his death Waite spent in prayer with his spiritual adviser. Just before 11 o'clock the clergyman asked the condemned man if there was any one to whom he wished to send a message of farewell.

"No, thank you, doctor," Waite replied, with a smile, "there really is no one to whom I care to send a farewell message."

"Not even to your mother," queried Mr. Peterson. "No, sir, to none," was the answer.

The chaplain declared that Waite, who confessed that he had poisoned his wealthy father-in-law in the expectation that his wife would obtain a large share of the wealthy Mr. Peck's estate, seemed to look upon his approaching doom as a wonderful adventure.

Not once during the day did Dr. Waite lose his composure. He maintained the same smiling indifference that has marked his stay of almost a year in the death house.

Parting With Brother.

Waite said farewell to his brother, Frank A. Waite, at 6 o'clock. The brothers had spent nearly the entire afternoon together talking over family matters.

All that Dr. Waite said at parting was: "Well, good-bye, Frank."

They clasped hands for a moment. Tears sprang to the brother's eyes, but Waite's eyes were dry and there was a smile on his lips.

Frank Waite returned to New York after making arrangements with an undertaker in Ossining to take Dr. Waite's body after the execution. He refused to say where the body will be buried, but said it would not be sent to Grand Rapids.

The prison physician examined Waite in the afternoon and was astonished to find his temperature and pulse exactly normal. He said this was the most remarkable instance of "nerve" he had ever seen in a condemned man, and he has examined more than forty on the day before they went to the chair.

Waite was awakened at 6 o'clock this morning, after a night of sound sleep. During the day he ate three hearty meals. At suppertime the principal keeper asked him if he desired any special dish in view of the fact that it was to be his last meal.

"No, I think not," Waite replied, after some deliberation.

NO ITALIAN STEAMERS SUNK DURING WEEK

Rome, May 24.—(Via Paris.)—No Italian steamers were sunk by submarines during the week ending May 20. One was attacked by gun fire and sustained some damage. Only two sailing ships, both under 300 tons, were lost during the same period.

During the week 460 ships representing a tonnage of 475,000, entered Italian ports, and 387, representing 413,000 tons, left.

During the week ending May 13 two Italian steamers under 1,900 tons each and seven small sailing craft were sunk. Some fishing boats also were lost.

MINISTER ARRESTED AS PLUMBING THIEF

Norfolk, Va., May 24.—J. Paul Spence, supervisor of instruction in the Norfolk public schools, was sent to the corporation court today charged with housebreaking and larceny. Mr. Spence, who is an ordained Baptist minister, is next in authority to the school superintendent of this city. He was arrested last night coming out of a house, from which the owner was absent, with plumbing fixtures valued at $20. He explained that he took them to prevent boys stealing them. He was released on bail.

ANNAPOLIS FIRST CLASS WILL GRADUATE JUNE 28

Washington, May 24.—The present first class of the naval academy will be graduated June 28 next in order to provide additional officers of the small craft, including submarine chasers the navy department expects to put in commission about that time.

CHURCHES WILL HELP

From every pulpit in the city outside of the burned district, ministers will urge their congregations next Sunday to contribute liberally to the proposed $100,000 relief fund for the fire sufferers.

Pastors have also been requested to appoint committees among their people to assist in getting aid to many who are really in distress, but whose pride has prevented them from asking it.

In order to avoid confusion with tse Red Cross, the committees under the direction of Chairman Lee Ashcraft have been named by the mayor the Citizens' Commission for the Burned District.

Balfour Says Good-By to America Confident Her Help Will Win War; Italians Smashing Way to Triest

ALL COUNTER ATTACKS REPULSED BY ITALIANS

Comparative Quiet Prevails on Western Front in France Save for Intense Artillery Duels.

New York, May 24.—(By Associated Press. From European Cables of the Day.)—On a front of nearly 10 miles on the Carso plateau, the Italian troops smashed the Austrian line hard and taken various positions from the town of Castagnavizza to the head of the Gulf of Triest. In their renewal of their offensive, the Italians received valuable aid from some of the nine British batteries that have hauled their big guns down to the Isonzo front to help in the efforts aimed at the conquest of Triest, Austria's big seaport on the Adriatic.

Not alone were the Italians successful in capturing numerous points of vantage, but more than 9,000 Austrian prisoners, including officers in excess of 300, were taken. The Austrians are declared to have been taken completely by surprise by the sudden onslaught of the Italians, who, diverting attention from the southern end of the Isonzo line, had struck a hard blow to the north. When, however, the Austrians recovered from their surprise they launched heavy counter attacks, but the Italians tenaciously held the ground they had won.

The new advance of the Italians brings them appreciably nearer Triest, which, from the lower part of the line, is less than 10 miles away. The ground traversed and yet to be passed over is difficult for military operations, and even with other successful advances, such as the last one, the objective of the Italians will not be attained except by fighting of a most desperate nature.

FRONT IN FRANCE COMPARATIVELY QUIET.

Comparative quiet still prevails on the western front in France held by the British, but farther south, around the bend in the line from Soissons eastward, intensive artillery duels are in progress beween the French and Germans, being most severe in the regions of Moulin de Vauclerc, Californie plateau and Chevreux.

On none of the other fronts has there been an engagement of any great importance.

ITALIANS BREAK AUSTRIAN LINES; 9,000 CAPTURED

Rome, May 24.—(Via London)—Italian forces yesterday broke through the Austro-Hungarian lines from Castagnavizza to the sea, taking more than 9,000 prisoners, says an official statement issued today by the Italian war department.

The Italian war office announced that Italian forces had occupied part of the area south of the Castagnavizza-Boscomalo road, had passed Boscomalo and had captured the town of Jamiano and strong heights east of Pietrarossa and Bagni.

The Italian official statement said that the Austro-Hungarians were at first surprised and nonplussed. Towards evening they launched counter attacks, but were repulsed.

Italian airplanes numbering 130 dropped ten tons of bombs on the Austro-Hungarians.

The British batteries co-operated with the Italians.

The announcement follows:

"On the Carso yesterday after ten hours of violent bombardment the gallant troops of the third army assaulted and broke through the well-organized lines of the enemy from Castagnavizza to the sea. While we were heavily engaging the enemy on our left our troops, after carrying enemy trenches in the center and on the right, occupied part of the area south of the Castagnavizza - Boscomalo road passed Boscomalo and captured Jamiano, the important and strongly fortified heights of Hill 92, one kilometer east of Pietrarossa; Hill 77, Hill 58, Bagni and Hill 21.

"The enemy was at first surprised and nonplussed by the sudden onslaught, but towards evening he counter attacked in force, supported by exceptionally heavy bombardment. He was repulsed with severe loss.

"During the day we captured more than 9,000 prisoners, including more than 300 officers.

"Aerial squadrons, consisting of 130 machines, including a group of navy seaplanes, dropped ten tons of bombs on the enemy's lines and brought their machine guns to bear on masses of the enemy. Our airmen all returned safely.

"Ten British batteries which are on our front as evidence of the brotherly co-operation of our ally, made a large contribution to the artillery preparation. Our naval guns also proved very effective.

"In the Gorizia area our troops repulsed heavy enemy attacks, captured a strong point on the northwest slopes of San Marco and after severe fighting made considerable progress in the Monte Santo and Vodice areas."

ITALIANS GAINED ALL OBJECTIVES.

London, May 24.—The Italian offensive has entered into its second stage with new and important gains between Gorizia and the sea, said Major General F. B. Maurice to the Associated Press today. The first day of the new drive has resulted in the capture of more than 3,000 prisoners.

General Maurice said all the objectives of the Italians had been gained and that details of the operations would be given in the official communication at Rome later in the day.

RUSS TROOPS EAGER TO FIGHT GERMANS

Sebastopol, May 24.—(Via London.)—The officers and men of the local garrison have unanimously requested that they be sent to the Riga front to fight the Germans. Their action is in response to the speech of Minister of War Kerensky and the appeal of the council of soldiers' and workmen's delegates.

BERLIN OFFICE DENIES DETAINING AMERICANS

Departure of Those Desiring to Leave Delayed Solely by Official Routine.

Berlin, May 24.—(Via London, May 25.)—The foreign office today emphatically denied assertions alleged to have emanated in the United States that Germany is intentionally holding Americans desirous of leaving the country.

Their departure, it was explained, was delayed solely by official routine which, in view of existing circumstances, was naturally slow of motion, even subjects of neutral countries, as well as Germans desiring to cross the frontier, being without, exception, called on to secure permission from the police and military authorities.

Forewarned Citizens Meet Bank Robbers With Fatal Volley

Tuskahoma, Okla., May 24.—One robber is dead and two others are dying as the result of an unsuccessful attempt to rob the First State bank, of Tuskahoma today.

Early in the day A. H. Palmer, cashier of the bank, was notified by telephone that three bandits were headed toward Tuskahoma with the intention of looting the bank. The message was sent from Hugo.

Palmer immediately began preparations to receive the robbers by distributing arms and ammunition among the merchants and when the three men reached here about 10 o'clock everything was in readiness.

Tying their horses on a little knoll behind the bank, they entered the building, and covering the employees with guns, took all the cash in sight and started out. As they reached the door Palmer started firing. One of the bandits, apparently the leader of the gang, dropped to the floor dead. Another stumbled through the door and fell to the sidewalk in front of the building. The third robber started to run but fell before he reached his horse. The robbers have not been identified.

About $300 taken by the robbers was recovered, all of the bank's money with that exception having been secreted.

All windows in the bank were shot out and several other stores in the city were damaged by random shots.

Revolt Threat Made By Pan-German Union In Letter to Hollweg

Washington, May 24.—Warning that any renouncing of Germany's victories "will have for immediate consequence a revolution," was contained in a letter by the Pan-German Union on May 5 and published in the Vorwaerts in Berlin. The letter and the reply of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, to whom it was addressed, appeared in the paper under the heading "The Revolutionary Threat."

The German chancellor was warned in the letter that the population was bordering on desperation. The chancellor was urged to state Germany's war aims and was told that unless those aims correspond to desires of the people they will rise and sweep away the monarchy.

The pan-Germans were sharply reminded by the chancellor in his reply that their duty to the crown was to wait and not to force the government to take a position it was not ready to formulate. He said that if a revolution did occur the responibility would be with those who have not combated such a tendency.

THIRTY-FIVE INDICTED IN ORE CONSPIRACY

Cheyenne, Wyo., May 24.—Thirty-five indictments in the so-called "high-grading" conspiracy cases were returned by the federal grand jury here today. The men involved, the government alleges, made a fortune by selling stolen ore to United States mints throughout the country. The amount involved is said to have exceeded a million dollars.

British Minister to Tell Allies Across Ocean That America's Full and Decisive Weight Will Soon Be Thrown Into Struggle.

MUCH ACCOMPLISHED BY THE UNITED STATES SINCE ENTERING WAR

Expresses Mission's Gratitude for Reception Given Them—Feels Sure Congress Will Grant Wilson Powers Necessary.

Washington, May 24.—In a farewell address to the American people today, Foreign Secretary Balfour warmly expressed thanks for the kindness and sympathy with which the British war mission has been received in this country, declared what the United States has accomplished during the forty days since it entered the war was most remarkable, and said he would carry back to the allies across the water his belief that with as little delay as human imperfections allow the full and decisive weight of America would be thrown into the struggle for democracy.

The message was delivered through the Washington correspondents, gathered at the National Press club to hear the last speech of the British statesman's visit. It was spoken with evident feeling.

Of those who say the war preparations of the United States have proceeded slowly, Mr. Balfour said they "know very little of the actual way in which public life is and must be carried on in free countries."

Has Confidence in Congress.

"I think what has been acomplished in these forty days most remarkable," he said. "It is squite true that the executive government has been delayed by the fact that certain measures placed before congress took time to pass. Some of them have not yet passed. But who is it that supposes that representative assemblies are going to make great and new departures in public policy solely at the waving of a wand?"

He added that he felt confident congress would give the president the great powers necessary to successful conduct of the war.

In expressing the mision's gratitude for the reception given them, the foreign minister spoke with regret of their inability to visit many sections, and voiced the hope that it might be done at a later and happier time. To the correspondents themselves and to the American press generally he paid a tribute for their accuracy and patriotic principles.

"Gentlemen," said Mr. Balfour, "I came to the United States conscious, of course, of the importance of the mission with which I have been entrusted.

Kindness of Reception.

"The kindness with which we were received, the warmth of the welcome which reached us from all parts of the country, soon made it plain the strictly and narrowly business side of our mission was not the only one which was important at the present juncture. For my own part, I have felt more deeply than I find it easy to express the kindness of the reception which you have given to the mission in general, and to myself in particular. That kindness has been shown me, lavishly shown me, in Washington. It was shown not less fully and not less lavishly in New York and in Richmond, and I only mourn that the levitable exigencies of public business make it impossible for me to visit other points of the United States, to communicate directly and personally with men in the middle west, in the far west and in the other portions of this colossal territory.

CAMPAIGN FOR SALE OF WAR BONDS WILL START HERE TODAY

Committees to Conduct the Sale in Every Georgia Town Will Be Named at Meeting to Be Held This Afternoon.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE TO HAVE SUPERVISION

Many Big Organizations in This District Are Turning Their Sales Forces Into "Liberty Bond" Salesmen.

The active campaign for the sale of $65,000,000 worth of "Liberty Loan" bonds in the Atlanta federal reserve district will be launched at a committee meeting which has been called by St. Elmo Massengale, chairman of the bond publicity committee for this district, at the Atlanta Federal Reserve bank this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

At this meeting arrangements will be completed for the general sale of the bonds throughout this district, which is composed of the states of Georgia, Alabama and Florida and about half of the states of Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana, including the city of New Orleans.

Central Committee.

Owing to the fact that these gentlemen are in Atlanta and can readily keep in touch with the Atlanta Federal Reserve bank, through which the sale in the Atlanta federal reserve district is being conducted, the entire sales campaign for this district will be supervised by the central committee composed of W. C. Wardlaw, chairman; Mell R. Wilkinson, J. Epps Brown, F. J. Paxon, Ivan E. Allen, St. Elmo Massengale and W. H. Toole, of Winder, Ga. This committee will be assisted by the district publicity committee, of which St. Elmo Massengale is chairman, and which committee meets Friday afternoon at the Atlanta Federal Reserve bank.

The personnel of this committee is as follows:

St. Elmo Massengale, president of the Southern Association of Advertising Agents, chairman; L. D. Hicks, Frank Lowenstein, W. W. Orr, Ed Houser, Richard Schwab, Fred L. Evelyn Harris, Frank Coffee, E. Johnson, Henry DeGive, Charles D. Atkinson, James Holliday and Walter G. Brown.

At the committee meeting to be held this afternoon committees will be named to conduct the local campaigns in every town and city in the Atlanta federal reserve district.

Will Perfect Organization.

These local committees in each city will perfect their own organizations, and thus by next week a great machine will have been created for the advertising and sale of the "Liberty Loan" bonds in the southeast. Many big organizations, such as insurance companies, are turning their sales forces into salesmen for the "Liberty Loan" bonds, and the entire machinery is being aided by wide publicity as to what the "Liberty Loan" bonds are and what advantages these bonds offer as investments. Many concerns are volunteering the contract advertising space for publicity for the bonds, and news columns of newspapers all over the country are spreading the story of the big bond issue, by which the man who cannot go to the front may do his patriotic "bit" for the colors.

At a dinner tendered the Presidents' club by the Atlanta Federal Reserve bank, through M. B. Wellborn, chairman of the board of directors, at the Piedmont hotel Wednesday night, the campaign for the sale of Atlanta's quota of the bond issue was begun. Atlanta will absorb $10,000,000 worth of the $65,000,000 worth of bonds which are to be sold in this district.

At this meeting a committee, composed of Thomas C. Erwin, chairman; W. W. Orr, Colonel W. L. Peel, W. Carroll Latimer and H. D. Carter, was named to supervise the sale of the bonds in the city of Atlanta, and this committee is to be aided by innumerable subcommittees and by the efforts of business concerns and individuals.

HERE ARE REASONS URGED FOR BUYING WAR BONDS

Atlanta has started a campaign for the sale here of $10,000,000 "Liberty Loan" bonds. The machinery of the campaign will be set in motion this afternoon for the sale of a total of $65,000,000 "Liberty Loan" bonds in the Atlanta federal reserve district, composed of the states of Georgia, Florida, Alabama and about half of Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana, including the city of New Orleans.

There are reasons innumerable, it is pointed out, why everybody should subscribe to these bonds, some of which are as follows:

It is doing one's patriotic "bit" toward aiding the country in the war.

It is the safest investment there is.

The "Liberty Loan" bonds are exempt from federal, state and local taxation, except as they become a part of an inheritance.

They bear a good rate of interest and are convertible into bonds bearing a higher rate, should the government hereafter issue such bonds.

The money put into subscriptions to "Liberty Loan" bonds will be spent by the government for army pay and supplies right back among the people who subscribed it.

There is no easier or better way of saving money than by investing in a small denomination bond in easy payments through your bank.

Your bank will lend you 100 per cent of the value on your bond, should you need the money, and the interest on your bond will pay the interest on the loan.

Prompt subscription of the loan will save American lives and will hasten the end of the war.

The president of the Guarantee Trust Company of New York gives further reasons:

"It is of the first importance that the success of the loan should not be dependent upon the amount taken by the banks.

"The more they tie up, the less capable will they be of solving other problems, commercial and industrial, as they materialize.

"The more they tie up on their own account, the less credit will they be in a position to extend to those customers who want to buy.

"The bond issue is a war measure. Bond buyers become participants. They muster themselves into service.

"Those who can buy and do not are disloyal to the extent that they withhold proof of loyalty.

"It is a travesty for those who can buy, and do not, to salute the flag."

"Report of My Death Much Exaggerated," Says Rev. C. C. Carey

Comes now Rev. C. C. Carey, retired Methodist minister, who, before the fire, lived at 61-B Highland avenue, and in the immortal words of Mark Twain, deposes and says as follows, to-wit:

"The report of my death is very much exaggerated."

Following erroneous reports of his death and a story in an afternoon newspaper, Mr. Carey called upon The Constitution to let the friends of himself and wife know that both are alive and well, and would like to know who got the two bundles which he removed from his home and placed on Highland avenue last Monday afternoon.

AUSTRIA NOT STARVING, SO PENFIELD REPORTS

Washington, May 24.—Former Ambassador Penfield, who has just returned from Austria-Hungary, said today at the white house that conditions in that country are not so bad as might be expected. There is no starvation, he said, but a great deal of deprivation. He said he had but little to report to President Wilson that is not already known. The people in Austria-Hungary still believe that Germany and Austria are winning the war, because their only information is given in newspapers censored by the government.

LARGE SUM NEEDED FOR BLAZE VICTIMS

At Least $40,000 More Must Be Subscribed Before Committee Can Adequately Cope With the Situation, Says Paxon.

An urgent appeal for $40,000 additional to the fund already subscribed for the fire fund and an emphatic statement that $100,000 must be secured before the relief organization is able to cope with the situation, was issued yesterday afternoon by F. J. Paxon, chairman of the relief committee. He stated that so far only 300 persons had responded to the call for finances.

"Immediate relief," says Mr. Paxon in his appeal, "that is for a period of twenty-four hours, is being handled. Many families will have to be cared for a week or more until they can get on their feet. Many of the best people of the middle class have lost everything.

"The bulk of the losers are not beggars, and must be helped. Carpenters have lost their tools; we must furnish them with tools so they will not be a drain on the community. Dressmakers and sewing women have lost their machines. The machines must be replaced, else the women will be pauperized. Thus runs the story in innumerable cases."

In connection with the appeal, a tribute was paid the women of Atlanta for their noble response to the need of the fire sufferers.

"Many noble women of our city are helping to the very uttermost of their ability; they are doing more than their share, and the Atlanta public will never know how greatly it is indebted to these women who have laid aside all household and social duties to aid their brothers and sisters," he writes.

Appeal for Funds.

Mr. Paxon's appeal follows:

Editor The Constitution: Unfortunately the impression has gained hold that the relief committee has all the money it needs. Speaking for myself and for our committee, I will appreciate it if you will give conspicuous emphasis to this fact in your paper: We have received in contributions and money about $60,000. At the lowest estimate we will need $40,000 additional to bring the necessary relief. Immediate relief, that is for a period of twenty-four hours, is being handled. Many families will have to be cared for for a week or more until they can get on their feet. Many of the best people of the middle class have lost everything. They are not beggars and must be helped. Carpenters have lost all their tools; we must furnish them so they will not be a drain on the community. Dressmakers and sewing women have lots their sewing machines. The machines must be replaced or they will be pauperized. Thus runs the story in innumerable cases.

Assure the public that each and every application is thoroughly investigated; the negroes, through their colored pastors, and then by our corps of investigators; the applications of whites are also looked into by the investigators.

Some three hundred people have contributed money to the fund. These three hundred are those who are usually called upon, but the rank and file of our citizens have done nothing. We are confident that every man, woman and child in the city desires to do their bit. Donations in money from $1 up will be gladly received. The money should be sent to LEE ASHCRAFT, chairman. Many people have clothing they can give. Some can donate furniture and provisions. Wholesale houses can contribute generously. If the information bureau, Ivy 1061, is called, information will be cheerfully given as to disposition of contributions.

Many noble women of our city are helping to the very uttermost of their ability—they are doing more than their share, and the Atlanta public will never know how greatly it is indebted to these women who have laid aside all household duties and social engagement to aid their fellow-brothers and sisters, black or white. Surely those who have not volunteered their personal services will do so. If they cannot leave their homes, they can send a contribution in money. Every little helps and it is the aggregate that counts.

This is an URGENT CALL FOR HELP—(S. O. S.). Your assistance is needed, and we are begging you for it.

F. J. PAXON,
Chairman Relief Committee.

Find Homes for Victims.

A committee composed of prominent men, both white and colored, was appointed Thursday to secure homes for all families now shelterless.

Every family which was without insurance to cover the loss of property will be given individual attention by this committee. The work of rehabilitation will require several weeks.

The rehabilitation committee appointed by General Chairman Lee Ashcraft follows: Edward H. Inman, chairman; Isaac Schoen, Judge Walter H. Colquitt, white; and H. H. Pace, Rev. E. H. Oliver and A. R. Herndon, colored.

In an advisory capacity to this committee the following body of women will serve: Mrs. Spencer R. Atkinson, Mrs. R. L. Foreman and Miss Susan Young. The two bodies began work Thursday.

Another important branch of relief activity was launched at the Auditorium when Chairman Ashcraft appointed a committee on employment and inaugurated an employment bureau at relief headquarters.

This branch will strive to find employment for the hundreds who were thrown mestic servants, butlers, gardeners, mestic servants, butlers, gardeners, janitors, carpenters and the like.

The employment committee is composed of Mrs. David Marx, chairman; Mrs. Spencer R. Atkinson, Mrs. R. Woodruff, Mrs. J. N. Bell, Mrs. R. Roberts, Mrs. A. H. Harris, Mrs. A. A. Johnson and Mrs. A. Heyman.

Added to the forces aiding in the Auditorium was the detachment of the marine corps now stationed in Atlanta on recruiting duty. The Junior Marine corps of Tech High school went on duty Wednesday.

Will Help Women.

The A. C. club, the business women's boarding home at 178 Washington street, will accommodate two business women until they are located. The following members of the advisory board will each take two business women until located: Mrs. W. L. McCorley, Jr., 60 Westward avenue, West 1392-J; Mrs. R. D. Crusoe, 81 East Ninth street, Ivy 3827; Mrs. C. W. Heery, 204 Park avenue, Main 3621-L. The club will also contribute some furniture. Phone Main 1526.

W. F. Stallings has been added to the warehouse committee of the citizens' commission for the burned district. The telephone number of the warehouse committee is Main 790.

The Armour Packing and Fertilizer company have notified their branches in Atlanta and elsewhere that, in order that all their employees may participate in the liberty loan, a plan has been formulated by which employees may purchase liberty bonds through the company on a weekly payment basis.

A. Watson Armour, the president of the concern, states that this plan has been adopted in order that employees may manifest their loyalty to the government to such an extent as their circumstances may permit and at the same time aid in the sale of liberty bonds.

The Armour company has over 400 branch departments, ten big packing houses and about 30,000 employees. Full details of the purchasing system will be sent to the various branches in the course of two or three days.

As Great Adventure Waite Greets Death In Electric Chair

Young Dentist, Who Confessed to Cold-Blooded Murder of Rich Father-in-Law, Is Executed.

Ossining, N. Y., May 24.—Dr. Arthur Warren Waite was executed at Sing Sing prison at 11:10 o'clock tonight for the murder of his father-in-law, John E. Peck, of Grand Rapids, Mich.

The young dentist walked calmly and with a firm step from his cell to the death chamber, accompanied by the Rev. A. N. Peterson, Protestant chaplain of the prison. He faltered, however, as he neared the electric chair, but recovered quicly and nodded to the group of physicians, prison officials and others who had assembled as witnesses.

Waite submitted quietly to the ordeal of being strapped into the chair, and went to his death without a word of protest or good-bye. Three shocks were administered within four minutes.

No Farewell Message.

The two hours before his death Waite spent in prayer with his spiritual adviser. Just before 11 o'clock the clergyman asked the condemned man if there was any one to whom he wished to send a message of farewell.

"No, thank you, doctor," Waite replied, with a smile, "there really is no one to whom I care to send a farewell message."

"Not even to your mother," queried Mr. Peterson. "No, sir, to none," was the answer.

The chaplain declared that Waite, who confessed that he had poisoned his wealthy father-in-law in the expectation that his wife would obtain a large share of the wealthy Mr. Peck's estate, seemed to look upon his approaching doom as a wonderful adventure.

Not once during the day did Dr. Waite lose his composure. He maintained the same smiling indifference that has marked his stay of almost a year in the death house.

Parting With Brother.

Waite said farewell to his brother, Frank A. Waite, at 6 o'clock. The brothers had spent nearly the entire afternoon together talking over family matters.

All that Dr. Waite said at parting was: "Well, good-bye, Frank."

They clasped hands for a moment. Tears sprang to the brother's eyes, but Waite's eyes were dry and there was a smile on his lips.

Frank Waite returned to New York after making arrangements with an undertaker in Ossining to take Dr. Waite's body after the execution. He refused to say where the body will be buried, but said it would not be sent to Grand Rapids.

The prison physician examined Waite in the afternoon and was astonished to find his temperature and pulse exactly normal. He said this was the most remarkable instance of "nerve" he had ever seen in a condemned man, and he has examined more than forty on the day before they went to the chair.

Waite was awakened at 6 o'clock this morning, after a night of sound sleep. During the day he ate three hearty meals. At suppertime the principal keeper asked him if he desired any special dish in view of the fact that it was to be his last meal.

"No, I think not," Waite replied, after some deliberation.

NO ITALIAN STEAMERS SUNK DURING WEEK

Rome, May 24.—(Via Paris.)—No Italian steamers were sunk by submarines during the week ending May 20. One was attacked by gun fire and sustained some damage. Only two sailing ships, both under 300 tons, were lost during the same period.

During the week 460 ships representing a tonnage of 475,000, entered Italian ports, and 387, representing 413,000 tons, left.

During the week ending May 13 two Italian steamers under 1,900 tons each and seven small sailing craft were sunk. Some fishing boats also were lost.

MINISTER ARRESTED AS PLUMBING THIEF

Norfolk, Va., May 24.—J. Paul Spence, supervisor of instruction in the Norfolk public schools, was sent to the corporation court today charged with housebreaking and larceny. Mr. Spence, who is an ordained Baptist minister, is next in authority to the school superintendent of this city. He was arrested last night coming out of a house, from which the owner was absent, with plumbing fixtures valued at $20. He explained that he took them to prevent boys stealing them. He was released on bail.

ANNAPOLIS FIRST CLASS WILL GRADUATE JUNE 28

Washington, May 24.—The present first class of the naval academy will be graduated June 28 next in order to provide additional officers of the small craft, including submarine chasers the navy department expects to put in commission about that time.

CHURCHES WILL HELP

From every pulpit in the city outside of the burned district, ministers will urge their congregations next Sunday to contribute liberally to the proposed $100,000 relief fund for the fire sufferers.

Pastors have also been requested to appoint committees among their people to assist in getting aid to many who are really in distress, but whose pride has prevented them from asking it.

In order to avoid confusion with tse Red Cross, the committees under the direction of Chairman Lee Ashcraft have been named by the mayor the Citizens' Commission for the Burned District.

Balfour Says Good-By to America Confident Her Help Will Win War; Italians Smashing Way to Triest

Comparative Quiet Prevails on Western Front in France Save for Intense Artillery Duels.

New York, May 24.—(By Associated Press. From European Cables of the Day.)—On a front of nearly 10 miles on the Carso plateau, the Italian troops smashed the Austrian line hard and taken various positions from the town of Castagnavizza to the head of the Gulf of Triest. In their renewal of their offensive, the Italians received valuable aid from some of the nine British batteries that have hauled their big guns down to the Isonzo front to help in the efforts aimed at the conquest of Triest, Austria's big seaport on the Adriatic.

Not alone were the Italians successful in capturing numerous points of vantage, but more than 9,000 Austrian prisoners, including officers in excess of 300, were taken. The Austrians are declared to have been taken completely by surprise by the sudden onslaught of the Italians, who, diverting attention from the southern end of the Isonzo line, had struck a hard blow to the north. When, however, the Austrians recovered from their surprise they launched heavy counter attacks, but the Italians tenaciously held the ground they had won.

The new advance of the Italians brings them appreciably nearer Triest, which, from the lower part of the line, is less than 10 miles away. The ground traversed and yet to be passed over is difficult for military operations, and even with other successful advances, such as the last one, the objective of the Italians will not be attained except by fighting of a most desperate nature.

FRONT IN FRANCE COMPARATIVELY QUIET.

Comparative quiet still prevails on the western front in France held by the British, but farther south, around the bend in the line from Soissons eastward, intensive artillery duels are in progress beween the French and Germans, being most severe in the regions of Moulin de Vauclerc, Californie plateau and Chevreux.

On none of the other fronts has there been an engagement of any great importance.

ITALIANS BREAK AUSTRIAN LINES; 9,000 CAPTURED

Rome, May 24.—Via London)—Italian forces yesterday broke through the Austro-Hungarian lines from Castagnavizza to the sea, taking more than 9,000 prisoners, says an official statement issued today by the Italian war department.

The Italian war office announced that Italian forces had occupied part of the area south of the Castagnavizza-Boscomalo road, had passed Boscomalo and had captured the town of Jamiano and strong heights east of Pietrarossa and Bagni.

The Italian official statement said that the Austro-Hungarians were at first surprised and nonplussed. Towards evening they launched counter attacks, but were repulsed.

Italian airplanes numbering 130 dropped ten tons of bombs on the Austro-Hungarians.

The British batteries co-operated with the Italians.

The announcement follows:

"On the Carso yesterday after ten hours of violent bombardment the gallant troops of the third army assaulted and broke through the well-organized lines of the enemy from Castagnavizza to the sea. While we were heavily engaging the enemy on our left our troops, after carrying enemy trenches in the center and on the right, occupied part of the area south of the Castagnavizza - Boscomalo road passed Boscomalo and captured Jamiano, the important and strongly fortified heights of Hill 92, one kilometer east of Pietrarossa; Hill 77, Hill 58, Bagni and Hill 21.

"The enemy was at first surprised and nonplussed by the sudden onslaught, but towards evening he counter attacked in force, supported by exceptionally heavy bombardment. He was repulsed with severe loss.

"During the day we captured more than 9,000 prisoners, including more than 300 officers.

"Aerial squadrons, consisting of 130 machines, including a group of navy seaplanes, dropped ten tons of bombs on the enemy's lines and brought their machine guns to bear on masses of the enemy. Our airmen all returned safely.

"Ten British batteries which are on our front as evidence of the brotherly co-operation of our ally, made a large contribution to the artillery preparation. Our naval guns also proved very effective.

"In the Gorizia area our troops repulsed heavy enemy attacks, captured a strong point on the northwest slopes of San Marco and after severe fighting made considerable progress in the Monte Santo and Vodice areas."

ITALIANS GAINED ALL OBJECTIVES.

London, May 24.—The Italian offensive has entered into its second stage with new and important gains between Gorizia and the sea, said Major General F. B. Maurice to the Associated Press today. The first day of the new drive has resulted in the capture of more than 3,000 prisoners.

General Maurice said all the objectives of the Italians had been gained and that details of the operations would be given in the official communication at Rome later in the day.

RUSS TROOPS EAGER TO FIGHT GERMANS

Sebastopol, May 24.—(Via London.)—The officers and men of the local garrison have unanimously requested that they be sent to the Riga front to fight the Germans. Their action is in response to the speech of Minister of War Kerensky and the appeal of the council of soldiers' and workmen's delegates.

BERLIN OFFICE DENIES DETAINING AMERICANS

Departure of Those Desiring to Leave Delayed Solely by Official Routine.

Berlin, May 24.—(Via London, May 25.)—The foreign office today emphatically denied assertions alleged to have emanated in the United States that Germany is intentionally holding Americans desirous of leaving the country.

Their departure, it was explained, was delayed solely by official routine which, in view of existing circumstances, was naturally slow of motion, even subjects of neutral countries, as well as Germans desiring to cross the frontier, being without, exception, called on to secure permission from the police and military authorities.

Forewarned Citizens Meet Bank Robbers With Fatal Volley

Tuskahoma, Okla., May 24.—One robber is dead and two others are dying as the result of an unsuccessful attempt to rob the First State bank, of Tuskahoma today.

Early in the day A. H. Palmer, cashier of the bank, was notified by telephone that three bandits were headed toward Tuskahoma with the intention of looting the bank. The message was sent from Hugo.

Palmer immediately began preparations to receive the robbers by distributing arms and ammunition among the merchants and when the three men reached here about 10 o'clock everything was in readiness.

Tying their horses on a little knoll behind the bank, they entered the building, and covering the employees with guns, took all the cash in sight and started out. As they reached the door Palmer started firing. One of the bandits, apparently the leader of the gang, dropped to the floor dead. Another stumbled through the door and fell to the sidewalk in front of the building. The third robber started to run but fell before he reached his horse. The robbers have not been identified.

About $300 taken by the robbers was recovered, all of the bank's money with that exception having been secreted.

All windows in the bank were shot out and several other stores in the city were damaged by random shots.

Revolt Threat Made By Pan-German Union In Letter to Hollweg

Washington, May 24.—Warning that any renouncing of Germany's victories "will have for immediate consequence a revolution," was contained in a letter by the Pan-German Union on May 5 and published in the Vorwaerts in Berlin. The letter and the reply of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, to whom it was addressed, appeared in the paper under the heading "The Revolutionary Threat."

The German chancellor was warned in the letter that the population was bordering on desperation. The chancellor was urged to state Germany's war aims and was told that unless those aims correspond to desires of the people they will rise and sweep away the monarchy.

The pan-Germans were sharply reminded by the chancellor in his reply that their duty to the crown was to wait and not to force the government to take a position it was not ready to formulate. He said that if a revolution did occur the responibility would be with those who have not combated such a tendency.

THIRTY-FIVE INDICTED IN ORE CONSPIRACY

Cheyenne, Wyo., May 24.—Thirty-five indictments in the so-called "high-grading" conspiracy cases were returned by the federal grand jury here today. The men involved, the government alleges, made a fortune by selling stolen ore to United States mints throughout the country. The amount involved is said to have exceeded a million dollars.

British Minister to Tell Allies Across Ocean That America's Full and Decisive Weight Will Soon Be Thrown Into Struggle.

MUCH ACCOMPLISHED BY THE UNITED STATES SINCE ENTERING WAR

Expresses Mission's Gratitude for Reception Given Them—Feels Sure Congress Will Grant Wilson Powers Necessary.

Washington, May 24.—In a farewell address to the American people today, Foreign Secretary Balfour warmly expressed thanks for the kindness and sympathy with which the British war mission has been received in this country, declared what the United States has accomplished during the forty days since it entered the war was most remarkable, and said he would carry back to the allies across the water his belief that with as little delay as human imperfections allow the full and decisive weight of America would be thrown into the struggle for democracy.

The message was delivered through the Washington correspondents, gathered at the National Press club to hear the last speech of the British statesman's visit. It was spoken with evident feeling.

Of those who say the war preparations of the United States have proceeded slowly, Mr. Balfour said they "know very little of the actual way in which public life is and must be carried on in free countries."

Has Confidence in Congress.

"I think what has been acomplished in these forty days most remarkable," he said. "It is squite true that the executive government has been delayed by the fact that certain measures placed before congress took time to pass. Some of them have not yet passed. But who is it that supposes that representative assemblies are going to make great and new departures in public policy solely at the waving of a wand?"

He added that he felt confident congress would give the president the great powers necessary to successful conduct of the war.

In expressing the mision's gratitude for the reception given them, the foreign minister spoke with regret of their inability to visit many sections, and voiced the hope that it might be done at a later and happier time. To the correspondents themselves and to the American press generally he paid a tribute for their accuracy and patriotic principles.

"Gentlemen," said Mr. Balfour, "I came to the United States conscious, of course, of the importance of the mission with which I have been entrusted.

Kindness of Reception.

"The kindness with which we were received, the warmth of the welcome which reached us from all parts of the country, soon made it plain the strictly and narrowly business side of our mission was not the only one which was important at the present juncture. For my own part, I have felt more deeply than I find it easy to express the kindness of the reception which you have given to the mission in general, and to myself in particular. That kindness has been shown me, lavishly shown me, in Washington. It was shown not less fully and not less lavishly in New York and in Richmond, and I only mourn that the ievitable exigencies of public business make it impossible for me to visit other points of the United States, to communicate directly and personally with men in the middle west, in the far west and in the other portions of this colossal territory.

which is already occupied by the most powerful community in the world and which is, I think, destined in the future to have an abiding influence for all that makes for peaceful civilization and freedom, and has certainly shown, on the present occasion, that a great community can be moved to perform great sacrifices for an ideal which has in it nothing of selfishness, nothing of the petty appetite for power, nothing but a pure and unstained desire to benefit the cause of civilization and of mankind.

"Gentlemen, you have shown, during the month's experience which I have of your labors, that the American press is animated by the highest patriotic principles; that it is incapable or has shown itself, so far as I am concerned, as incapable of misrepresenting or perverting in the smallest particular anything which I may have said or done. I know that it is to you and your friends that any word I have spoken, be it worth listening to or not worth listening to, at all events reaches unperverted those for whom it is intended. For that I wish to express to you my grateful thanks.

Hopes Far Surpassed.

"I came with high hopes to Washington. Those hopes have been far surpassed by the reality. I expected, from what I knew of American friends on the other side of the Atlantic, that I should be received with kindness, with courtesy and with sympathy, but the kindness, the courtesy and the sympathy which I have received are far in excess of anything which I dared to hope for or anything which I can pretend even to myself to have deserved.

"It is a sad thought to me that the moment of parting has come, and that those whom I looked upon as my friends before I knew them, and who have become my friends in very truth and in deed since I knew them, I shall be separated from, at all events, during the continuance of the present war. After that, may it be my happy lot to return in a less responsible and official position to renew the connection for a moment severed by the tragic events in which we areall equally concerned.

"But, gentlemen, the mission could not stay here forever. It has received a welcome, a welcome which none of its members will forget, and to me falls the pleasant duty on my own behalf and on behalf of my friends, of saying to you and to all whom you can reach, how deeply we thank the American public for what they have done.

"There are those who have said that the prepaartions made by the United States are proceeding slowly and haltingly, and that a country which has been in the war for some forty days ought to have done far more than has actually been accomplished. For my own part, I think those who speak in accents like those know very little of the actual way in which public life is and must be carried on in free countries. At the beginning of the forty days of which I speak no preparations had been made, the country was anxiously, indeed, watching the events, it had not begun to make any of the preparations necessary for taking part in a gigantic struggle.

Representative Assemblies Slow.

"I think that what has been performed in those forty days is most remarkable. It is quite true that the action of the executive government may be delayed, and has been delayed, by the fact that certain measures placed before congress took some time to pass, some of them have not yet passed. But I have lived with representative assemblies all my life, and who is it that supposes that representative assemblies are going to make great and new departures in public policy solely at the waving of a wand? Such expectations are vain. It is useless to entertain them.

"I am quite confident—I, perhaps, feel more confident than it seems to me one who has had no personal experience of American policies should feel—but, speaking for myself, I feel quite confident that congress will not refuse to the president and to the government of the country, all powers, great as they are, which are absolutely necessary if the war is to be successfully pursued.

"I am not only persuaded that it will give those powers, but I am persuaded that when those powers are given they will be used to the utmost with as little delay as the imperfection of human institutions and of human being allow, to throw the great and, I believe, the decisive weight of America to the full extent into the great contest.

"In that belief I shall leave these shores. In that belief I shall make my report to the allied governments, so far as I can reach them, on the other side of the Atlantic, and in that belief I look forward with a cheerful confidence today which will undoubtedly be days of trial and difficulty, but beyond which we can surely see the dawn of a happier day, coming not merely to the kindred communities to which we belong, but to all mankind and all nations which love liberty and pursue righteousness.

"Mr. President, I will say no more. I thank you. Through you I thank every well wisher in America for all that you have done for me and for my friends. I wish you a farewell. I wish for a reunion at no distant date, under happier circumstances, when we can meet, not feeling that we have to deal with a great crisis which requires all our capacity, all our courage, and all our perseverance, but that we can look back upon trials already successfully passed, upon days happily accomplished, upon a permanent peace for ourselves and for the rest of the world."

ITALIANS SMASHING WAY TOWARD TRIEST

tacks in the region of the Vauclero plateau were repulsed last night with heavy losses, according to an official statement issued by the war office this morning. Since May 1 the French have taken 8,600 prisoners in this district.

BRITONS REPULSE GERMAN RAIDERS.

London, May 24.—The British official communication issued this evening says:

"A hostile raid attempted this morning in the neighborhood of Armentieres was driven off with loss by our machine gun-fire.

"The activity in the air increased yesterday. A number of fights occurred in which five German machines were brought down by our airplanes. Six other hostile machines were driven down out of control. Three of our airplanes are missing."

ARTILLERY ACTIVE ON FRENCH FRONT.

Paris, May 24.—"There is nothing to report except artillery fighting, at times violent, in the regions of Moulin de Vauclerc, the Californie plateau and Chevreux," says the official statement issued by the war office tonight.

"Last night our bombarding airplanes dropped 2,200 kilograms of projectiles on stations in the neighborhood of Rethil, where fires broke out.

"Belgian Communication: One of our patrols fought an engagement last night with an enemy reconnoitering party south of Dixmude. Today was marked by the usual artillery actions. We carried out destructive fires on the enemy works in the neighborhood of the Chateau Gicogne.

"Eastern Theater, May 23.—An intermittent cannonade took place on the Serbian front. In the region of Hadji Darimah and Srka Di Legen there was grenade and torpedo fighting."

GUNS WERE ACTIVE IN WEST CHAMPAGNE.

Berlin, May 24.—(Via London.)—A supplementary official statement issued from headquarters tonight says:

"Increased artillery activity is reported from western Champagne only."

Today's army headquarters statement says:

"Yesterday ten enemy airplanes and one captive balloon were brought down. Lieutenant Schaefer shot down his 28th and 29th opponents. Lieutenant Voss reached the same number of air victories by bringing down a machine.

"During the 21st and 22d instant the British and French lost five airplanes in aerial battles and through anti-aircraft gunfire."

"Eastern Front: Fighting activity has revived at several points. East of Tukum in the neighborhood of the Baltic coast, Russian reconnoitering parties were driven off."

The statement says there is nothing of importance to report from the Macedonian front.

His Hunt for Spy Results in Arrest Of Young Soldier

Two Comrades, Members of the Seventeenth, Capture Patrick Sheehan, Believing Him to Be German or Austrian.

Private Thomas Dade, hearing reports Thursday night that a German spy was hiding in the neighborhood of No. 50 Houston street, Private Thomas Dade, of the Seventeenth infantry, set out to capture the alien enemy.

When Mrs. I. B. Dobbins, of No. 50 Houston street, saw a soldier doing a Sherlock Holmes in the immediate vicinity of her back yard, she telephoned police headquarters.

Captain Dobbs and an officer went to the scene of the spy hunt and found Private Dade explaining all about it to Mrs. Dobbins. He was locked up while a telephone message was sent to Fort McPherson.

Private Dade afterwards admitted that two friends, who knew that Dade had been in the service but six weeks, had given him the tip on the spy.

Thirty minutes after his arrest call officers were told by an excited voice on the phone that a German spy was hiding in Grady hospital. After a short chase officers captured a man who gave his name as Patrick Sheehan. Also two soldiers from Fort McPherson, who were said to have been in the company of Private Dade earlier in the evening, were taken to police headquarters.

It then came out that Sheehan had accosted the soldiers on the street near the hospital and his unusual accent made them suspicious.

A negro pedestrian also had noted him and advised the soldiers to take him into custody. They telephoned the police and brought officers to the rescue.

Sheehan was about to spend the night in jail on account of his inability to speak well, until it was seen that he was afflicted with a facial infirmity which prevented easy enunciation. Detective Hiram Davis once worked for the same concern by which Sheehan was employed, so the prisoner was allowed to go to his home, which he said was on a farm near Decatur.

The three soldier detectives were all released.

Bill on Bridge Tolls.

Rome, Ga., May 24.—(Special.)—If a bill to be introduced at the June session of the legislature becomes a law, all moneys paid into the county treasury by the Rome Railway and Light company for the purpose of crossing the Rome bridges, must be applied to the principal of the bonded indebtedness of the county. Such a bill will be introduced by Senator Denny and Representative Seaborn Wright. Under the present law the county commissioners may apply such sums as may arise from this source to the payment of current indebtedness, building other bridges throughout the county, or any purpose they see fit. Under the proposed new law the money will be applied to the retirement of the bridge bonds.

Muscogee Men Fined.

Columbus, Ga., May 24.—(Special.)—Jack Thomason and Ben Autrey, two white residents of Muscogee county, were fined nine hundred and twenty dollars each today in superior court on charges of violating the prohibition law. Appeals were at once taken. A negro, Cooper Jackson, was fined one hundred and twenty-five dollars for the same offense.

Petition to Secure Possession of Bauxite Mines in Floyd County

Rome, Ga., May 24.—(Special.)—The Kirkland bauxite mines and property is again in the legal limelight here because of a petition filed yesterday in Floyd superior court asking the appointment of a receiver. It is valued at $36,000 and has for several years been the subject of litigation between a bank at Utica, N. Y., and the Kirklands. The latter appear to have given the bank a mortgage for $28,000 and failed to pay it, or even the taxes or insurance on the property, according to the bank. The latter instituted suit and after long proceedings finally had the property sold by the sheriff and bought it, but the Kirklands refused to deliver possession and the suit filed yesterday is to get possession by the appointment of a receiver, who shall take the income from the property and the property itself for the benefit of the mortgagees.

A sensational feature has been added to the affair by the recent arrest at Utica of Elmer Kirkland and Alfred Kirkland on a criminal charge based on the allegation that the Kirklands misrepresented the value of the property to obtain the loan from the New York bank. The bauxite mines and the other property are situated about four miles from Rome near Silver creek.

Soperton High School.

Soperton, Ga., May 24.—(Special.)—Commencement of Soperton High school closed with the graduating exercises last night and the literary address, delivered by Hon. Clifford Walker. There were seven members of the graduating class this year, three boys and four girls. The board of education has re-elected Superintendent B. H. McLarty, with his present faculty, for another year.

7000 Abusive Miles Prove HUDSON Endurance

Note What the Super-Six Did

Perhaps the Hudson record which means most to you is the ocean-to-ocean record.

Each new claimant to greatness, for several years, has tried to prove it by a trahscontinental run.

A seven-passenger Hudson Super-Six broke the best record made up to last summer by nearly 2½ days—from San Francisco to New York. Then turned around and broke the record from New York to San Francisco. It completed the round trip in 10 days and 21 hours—over 7000 miles, including mountains and desert. And thus twice won America's most coveted record in one continuous trip.

1819 Miles in 24 Hours

Next to that, the greatest official endurance record is the 24-hour top-speed run. A Hudson Super-Six stock chassis ran 1819 miles in that time—as far as from New York to Denver. That broke the best previous stock chassis record by 52 per cent.

These Tests Were Official

The 24-hour run, 102½-mile an hour speed, both made with stock chassis, and the 100-mile and the one-hour stock car tests, as well as many others, were official.

They were made under the supervision of the American Automobile Association. They mean more than the speed records won—more than the best time regardless of size or class in the Pike's Peak hill-climb, by a Hudson Super-Six Special, in which 20 racing cars participated.

They Prove Endurance

We made these tests just to prove endurance. Nothing else is so important to motor car owners. It is not how well a car will run in ordinary use that counts. How long and how little attention—how free from mechanical needs and excessive fuel and lubrication charges, is the main thing. These tests have demonstrated that, measured by other standards, there is a yet unknown limit to the endurance of a Hudson Super-Six.

What the Super-Six has proved, in performance and endurance, has never before been done.

The Menace of Parsimonious Policies

Should a sudden and drastic program of hysterically curtailing expenditures for daily needs be inaugurated by the public, political economists have pointed out the fact most conclusively, that a condition of absolute panic would prevail; and that the family, instead of gaining a point of economy, would find they had launched a formidable boomerang to turn and smite them with. You create a weapon to hit your own head when you unnecessarily and ill-advisedly tighten the strings on your purse and begin an unwarranted retrenchment in your expenditures. This does not advocate extravagance or misusage of things bought; but a normal buying indulgence that will continue to provide you with your customary choice of food, and your customary style of dress. This program can be successfully carried out if you'll read Constitution advertising, and in that way keep in touch with the advantages the merchants daily provide in their pricings to convince you beyond further question that "buying as usual" is just as much an assured fact as ever it was.

SENATE COMMITTEE CUTTING WAR TAXES

Would Reduce Gross Levy One-Third--Elimination of Increased Rates on Second-Class Mail Agreed Upon.

Washington, May 24.—Revision of the $1,800,000,000 war revenue bill, passed yesterday by the house, was begun today by the senate finance committee.

Reduction of the gross tax levy of the bill about one-third, or to about $1,250,000,000, is said to be favored by most of the committeemen. It is deemed certain, at least, that the aggregate tax burden will not be increased and that the committee will not consider adding the extra estimates of $445,000,000 recently submitted by the treasury department. Short-term bonds to take care of the millions by which the total levy for this year probably will be reduced apparently is generally favored.

Chairman Simmons announced after today's meeting that the committee had agreed to the following changes in the house measure:

To strike out the additional retroactive income tax on incomes earned in 1916;

Second-Class Mail Rates.

To strike out all provisions for increased second-class mail rates, under the zone system and substitute a low direct tax, probably about two per cent on all advertising, including that in newspapers and magazines and of billboards, posters and street cars;

To strike out all the proposed increases in inheritance tax schedules; and

To substitute for the house excess profits tax, on profits over 8 per cent of invested capital, an excess profits tax based instead on average profits for a period of years not more than five.

Elimination of the retroactive tax on 1916 incomes, Senator Simmons estimated, alone would result in reduction of the house bill's tax levy by $108,000,000.

Newspapers and magazines have vigorously fought the proposed zone system increase, declaring they would be ruinous to many publications. The loss of revenue by elimination of the section will be partly, if not wholly, recouped, the committee believes, by the proposed 2 per cent tax on all advertising.

The excess profits tax principle adopted today, the committeemen say, would greatly relieve this year's tax burdens upon business interests generally, provide a more equitable basis of taxation and also increase by many millions the net revenue returns. While not finally decided, the committee apparently favors retaining the house rate of 16 per cent on excess profits over earnings of 8 per cent, but with invested capital abandoned as the basis of taxation calculation and the period of years average substitute.

Parcel Post Tax Proposed.

Consideration is being given a tax upon parcel post packages, smaller than that on express shipments. A parsel post tax, senators say, would be considered more as a freight than a postal tax. In deciding to strike out the second-class postage zone increase, the committee believed this is more a matter of postal administration than of taxation.

The committee today debated and tomorrow hope to vote on the general question of reducing the aggregate tax levy of the bill. The committee sentiment generally is in favor of having the present generation largely bear the cost of the war, but against imposing unnecessary burdens the first year. Short-term bonds, running from one to five or possibly ten years, thus "spreading out" the war burden over that term, are being considered.

Completion of the senate committee's redrafting work within a week or possibly ten days, to be followed by immediate consideration of the bill in the senate, was the prediction tonight of Chairman Simmons.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT EXAMS ARE PASSED BY THE TECH BOYS

If any further evidence was needed to prove the high standing of the Georgia Tech School of Commerce, it was furnished recently when every graduate of this school who stood the examination for the degree of certified public accountant, held at the Ansley hotel, succeeded in passing. This is probably the most difficult examination given by any state professional examining board in Georgia, the C. P. A. certificate conferring some important legal privileges and representing the goal of ambition of every practicing accountant.

Two of the Tech School of Commerce men who passed are Floyd C. Fenn, who is with the Atlantic Ice and Coal corporation, and J. B. Moore, a practicing accountant. It is a noteworthy fact that out of only about fifty who have received the C. P. A. degree since the board, of which Joel Hunter is chairman, was organized, seven are Tech School of Commerce graduates.

In addition to the regular course of study, there is being developed at the school a commercial research laboratory, where men may undertake the solution of complicated industrial and commercial problems and perfect themselves in all the details of modern office management.

ARMY DOCTORS TO TRAIN AT FORT OGLETHORPE

Georgia Post Gets One of the Three New Medical Schools.

Washington, May 24.—New army medical schools will be established at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.; Fort Riley, Kan.; Fort Benjamin, Ind., and possibly Leon Springs, Texas, for training the thousands of doctors who will be needed when the war armies are mobilized. An official statement issued today says 5,000 men are needed now and that the services of 10,000 more will be required by the end of the year.

To decentralize the educational work and train doctors for special branches of the profession three new divisions of the army medical corps have been created. They are the division of sanitary inspection, under Colonel Frederick P. Reynolds; the division of hospitals and hospital construction, under Colonel James B. Glennan, and the division of medical military instruction, under Colonel Edward L. Munson, all three divisions being under the general supervision of Colonel Henry R. Birmingham.

Each of the camps will accommodate 600 doctors during the training course and the three in Georgia, Kansas and Indiana will be ready June 1. The first four weeks will be devoted to instructing the doctors as to duties of enlisted men of the hospital service, the second month to medical officers' course and the third to field work which can be omitted if the emergency requires. The doctors must in turn train 50,000 enlisted men in hospital work.

The first 1,800 doctors will come from the medical reserve corps and the national guard. An ambulance company and field hospital will be established at each camp and later special schools for enlisted men of the hospital corps will be added.

The hospital division of the medical corps is working out plans for the 32 divisional hospitals, one to be established at each of the divisional training camps for the new armies. Each of these will be able to care for 1,000 patients and in addition a number of clearing hospitals for more serious cases and receiving hospitals at coast points also will be established.

A beautiful program is offered, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

COLE COMPANY OFFERS PREMIUM ON WAR BONDS

Indianapolis, Ind., May 24.—(Special.) For the purpose of assisting Secretary McAdoo and the government in financing liberty loan bonds and putting them into immediate circulation, the Cole Motor Car company, of Indianapolis, yesterday announced an original plan which will give liberty loan bond owners a buying value of $102 for each hundred dollars invested in the bonds. For example, a fifty-dollar bond will have a purchasing value of fifty-one dollars, and a thousand dollars worth of bonds will be equivalent to $1,020 in trade.

The Cole liberty loan plan, as it is known, has met with the hearty approval of the government officials, it is understood, and been indorsed by some of the most prominent New York bankers. A market value of $102 for each hundred dollar government bond is unique, it is said, in financing war loans.

The Cole liberty loan plan follows: On and after Wednesday, May 23, the Cole company at its factory and at all its salesrooms all over the country will accept liberty loan bonds at a rate of $102 for each hundred dollar bond in part or full payment for products which it produces. Added interest is given the plan in that this company announces it allows purchasers to redeem their bonds at any time they so desire. B. M. Calloway, president of the Georgia Cole Motor company, this city, said yesterday: "This is the first effort that any large business has made to help absorb the liberty loan bonds and to offer a premium on same. It's a suggestion by the Cole Motor company that no doubt will lead to other large, as well as small, business concerns doing the same and will thus encourage the people to a liberal patronage of the $2,000,000,000 liberty loan of this government."

INDIANA FILLS QUOTA IN ARMY RECRUITING

Washington, May 24.—Indiana today made the fourth state that had filled its quotas in recruiting for the regular army. With a quota of 5,409, Indiana yesterday had supplied 5,549 men. Total recruiting for yesterday showed 1,517 men obtained. New York led for the day with 169 men. The total enlistments since April 1 was 31,437.

Seeking Cantonment.

Columbus, Ga., May 24.—(Special.)—A committee of three, headed by ex-Mayor Lucius Chappell, leaves Columbus tonight for Charleston, S. C., to appear before Major C. E. Kilbourne, chief of staff to Major General Leonard Wood, to pave the way for the appearance of a large committee Saturday morning to present data seeking to have an army cantonment located at Columbus.

A Sale of Blouses

And It's the Sort of Sale We Like to Announce

550 Blouses of Georgette and Voile, $5.75 and $6.95 Values, at $4.75

Indeed we do like to announce a sale such as this, because it isn't often that any store is so privileged, this kind of merchandise is not to be had underpriced except rarely---very, very rarely. It is clean and desirable, just as desirable as any could be, and there's a worth-while saving on every blouse of the five hundred fifty---but the details---

400 of the Georgette Blouses, White and Flesh

All but some two dozen of them as new as the morning. Sixty-five per cent of them white; the others flesh color. Some eighteen different styles, from a maker who stands among the great ones of New York.

They are styles made for $5.75 and $6.95 selling, and, what is even better, women will know this the moment they see the workmanship and finger the soft, full quality of the Georgette.

Here's a square neck effect that is really a V neck, a matter of the lines of a vestee, which has little panels of blue French knots and beads.

Here's the new high neck and jabot style—the collar and jabot of net and lace.

Here's the deep, full jabot front in several variations, edged with filet and Valenciennes.

Several lovely styles with hemstitched seams and panels down the front and great wide collars.

Eyelet embroidered fronts—the embroidery hand done.

A lovely thing is this one, with little motifs of wool embroidery in pastel shades.

150 of the French Voile Blouses, All White

The greater part of them from our own stocks; every one of them a $5.75 blouse.

We marked them $4.75 because there are but one or two of a style.

Hand embroidery on many, florals, eyelet and French knots.

Full jabot fronts.

Lace-edged collars and cuffs, lace inserts in fronts—Valenciennes and filets.

Just such styles as a woman would "love" to choose from were she seeking something smart and attractive at $5.75.

The Great Window Is Filled With These Blouses. See Them

SAYS OGLETHORPE SECURE OF FUTURE

President Jacobs Declares "Fear of Learning Tipped Scales" in Assembly, But University in Stronger Position Than Ever.

Oglethorpe university, with the hearty endorsement of the general assembly of the southern Presbyterian church, but free from the control of ecclesiastical courts, is now in a stronger position than ever before, according to President Thornwell Jacobs, who explained the action taken by the general assembly at Birmingham in regard to the institution on his return to the city yesterday.

"Many friends of Oglethorpe," says Dr. Jacobs, "have asked me what the meaning of this action is, and many of them have misunderstood its purport and bearing upon the institution. The founders of Oglethorpe university, believing that a great southern Presbyterian university could be best maintained when operated by a board of directors composed of Presbyterian men, but not subpect to the control of ecclesiastical courts, founded their university on that principle. There are, however, many members of the southern Presbyterian church and friends of Oglethorpe who think that it would be advantageous both to the church and to the university for the general assembly, which is the highest court of the church, to own and control it. After conference with a special committee of the assembly, a report was unanimously agreed upon, looking toward this end. In the assembly there were many men who did not want a university at all, and many others who wanted one, but did not want the assembly to own and control it, and even friends and supporters of Oglethorpe university, who believed it to be for the best interests of the university that no ecclesiastical court should ever have any power over it. When the vote was taken it stood 111 to 117 against the ownership and control of the university by the assembly.

The Richards Resolution.

"Dr. C. M. Richards, of Davidson, N. C., who offered the resolution that was passed by the above vote, and which declared that 'the southern Presbyterian church at this time neither needs, desires, nor is in position to establish an educational institution of the university grade,' explained his opposition to the university idea by saying that if the Presbyterian church establishes a university, it would become a center of heresy if operated outside of the control of the church, and if operated by the church, would lead to inumerable trials for heresy. It was this 'fear of learning' that tipped the scales in the matter. The assembly later passed a substitute for Dr. Richards' motion, which contained the following words: 'That the assembly commend the zeal and energy of the managers of Oglethorpe university, and wish them great success in building up an institution in Georgia, which we trust will be a blessing to generations.' Oglethorpe will, therefore, proceed with its work as heretofore, with the good will and commendation of the highest court of Presbyterianism in the south, but with no official relationship thereto.

"This vote and action leaves the university in a stronger position than before. It means that no change whatsoever will be made in the form of ownership and control, and yet gives the scheol a most favorable position among thousands of Presbyterians who now know that its originators were willing to offer their institution to the highest court of their church.

Most Prosperous Year.

"The management of the university is planning an aggressive campaign for funds, friends and students. Oglethorpe is closing a most remarkable year of splendid success. Students, who are loyal and enthusiastic, are planning to bring one hundred freshmen back with them next fall. Subscriptions to the university are being paid with most gratifying promptness, and the commencement season, which will begin next Sunday morning by a special sermon from a distinguished minister of North Carolina, will open most auspiciously another brilliant chapter in the history of the institution."

67 COUNTIES LACK REGISTRATION BOARDS

Nash Awaiting Reports Also From Savannah, Macon and Augusta.

Georgia's machinery for registering men of ages subject to selective draft is being rapidly perfected, as indicated by reports of sheriffs to Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash Thursday. Every mail brought in new reports from various counties that their registration boards had been perfected and are ready for the work that lies before them on registration day, June 5.

Though every mail was bringing in further reports, at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon there were still 67 sheriffs to be heard from, including the sheriff of Fulton county, and the mayors of three of the Georgia cities having more than 30,000 population. Atlanta has already reported the perfection of her registration board.

Savannah, Macon and Augusta have not yet submitted their reports to the adjutant general.

Thefollowing counties had not reported Thursday afternoon:

Appling, Baker, Bleckley, Butts, Carroll, Chattooga, Chatham, Chattahoochee, Cherokee, Clarke, Clayton, Clinch, Cobb, Crisp, Dawson, Dodge, Early, Elbert, Effingham, Evans, Fannin, Floyd, Franklin, Fulton, Gilmer, Glynn, Gwinnett, Habersham, Hall, Harris, Hart, Henry, Jenkins, Johnson, Jones, Liberty, Lumpkin, Macon, McDuffie, McIntosh, Meriwether, Monroe, Muscogee, Quitman, Polk, Rabun, Richmond, Talbot, Tattnall, Telfair, Terrell, Toombs, Troup, Turner, Twiggs, Union, Walker, Ware, Wilcox and Worth.

BANKS TRYING TO FIND LOST HOUSEHOLD GOODS

C. H. Banks, of 335 Ponce de Leon avenue, who is connected with the Champion Supply Company of Atlanta, is desirous of locating a drayload of his household effects which were lost in the fire Monday. BODENHAMER HEADS STATE ODD FELLOWS

Officers Are Installed and 1917 Convention Comes to Close Thursday.

The 1917 convention of the Georgia Grand Lodge Odd Fellows ended yesterday afternoon with the installation of officers for the ensuing year.

J. E. Bodenhamer, of Decatur, was installed grand master, succeeding Homer R. McClatchey, of Rome.

Other officers installed were:

Deputy grand master, W. A. Slaton, Washington; grand warden, Buell Stark, Dalton; grand secretary, T. H. Robertson, Gainesville; grand treasurer, R. E. Edwards, Douglasville; grand representatives, H. R. McClatchey, Rome, and W. B. Sloan, Gainesville; grand chaplain, Rev. John S. Wilder, Savannah; grand marshal, T. B. Bonner, Lithonia; grand conductor, J. W. Markham, Macon; grand guardian, M. C. Strickland, Atlanta; grand herald, R. L. J. Smith, Commerce.

The following were named chairmen of the standing committees:

Credentials, James A. Perry, Lawrenceville; finance, Paul L. Lindsay, Tucker; appeals and grievances, Jere Ayers, Jefferson; mileage and per diem, A. D. Deas, Augusta; subordinate lodge returns, D. W. Herndon, Lafayette.

At the closing meeting of the convention W. H. Barnes, grand scribe of the California Grand encampment, delivered the principal address. Following the address resolutions pledging the support of the Georgia Grand Lodge to President Wilson in the present war crisis were adopted. Thomasville was selected the place for next year's convention.

The Georgia Rebekah assembly, composed of the wives and daughters of Odd Fellows, concluded their convention Thursday morning. The following is a list of officers elected by the Rebekahs:

President, Mrs. Myrtice Beattie, Atlanta; vice president, Mrs. Sarah Lee Tice, Augusta; warden, Mrs. M. C. Strickland, Atlanta; treasurer, Mrs. Ivie Henderson, Savannah; marshal, Mrs. L. P. Wilson, Atlanta; conductor, Miss Alberta Ivens, Griffin; chaplain, Mrs. Sarah Lee McGinnis, Rome; inside guardian, Mrs. Della Anderson, Atlanta; outside guardian, Mrs. S. H. Edge, Americus.

Mr. J. E. Bodenhamer, newly-elected grand master of the Georgia Grand Lodge, is a prominent Decatur business man. He has seen seventeen years of Odd Fellow service and during this time has filled every chair and been in every important office in the grand lodge. He was instrumental in the founding of the Decatur lodge and in many other lodges all over the state. He is a member of the Masons, K. of P., Red Men and Maccabees.

U. S. REMOUNT STATION MAY BE LOCATED HERE

In addition to the two divisional army training camps, which the government has designated for Atlanta, it was regarded locally Thursday as probable that a remount station might also be located here.

Members of the federal board who Wednesday inspected the prospective camp sites Atlanta has to offer, were said to be impressed with the facilities for such a station afforded by some of the sites, and these advantages are enhanced by the fact that Atlanta is the second largest horse and mule market in the world.

MOTORIZE EQUIPMENT FOR FIRE, SAYS JOYNER

The need for completely motorizing the city fire department is the lesson State Fire Marshal W. R. Joyner sees for Atlanta in the big fire of Monday.

"The one big idea in fighting fire," said the former Atlanta fire chief, "is to get there. A minute at the beginning of a fire is sometimes worth half an hour after the fire has got a start. If Atlanta's fire department had been completely equipped with motor machines there might have been a different story to tell."

Though he believes that the origin of the fire was accidental, Fire Marshal oyner intends to make an investigation.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY EXCUSED UNTIL JUNE 7

In order that members of the federal grand jury who are within the ages prescribed by the federal selective conscription act may have an opportunity to register in accordance with the president's proclamation, Judge W. T. Newman yesterday excused that body from June 5, when they were scheduled to meet again, until Thursday, June 7.

Explosion in Steel Plant By Spill of Molten Slag Injures Two Employees

Two workmen were injured and the side wall of a building was blown out by an explosion at the plant of the Atlantic Steel company early Thursday morning. The injured are: Guy Nostrom a metal pourer, and Henry Watson, a negro. Nostrom was not seriously hurt, and remained at work. Watson was taken to Grady hospital, where it was found that he had sustained injuries to his side.

Investigation by company officials proved that the explosion was an accident. It occurred in an open hearth pit when a bucket of molten slag turned over and spilled into a puddle of water accidentally left by workmen. When the molten metal came into contact with the water, steam accumulated and the explosion resulted. Lewis J. Bailey, head of the federal secret service here, also made a thorough investigation and reported that the explosion was entirely accidental.

Twenty feet of roof and the whole side of the building, mostly galvanized iron, was blown off. The force of the explosion sent Watson through the opening in the side of the building and removed his shoes. One workman was above the pit on a swinging crane when the shock came, but escaped without injury, because he was protected by the iron bucket.

The open hearth pit is located in the center of the plant. The explosion interrupted work for only a few minutes. It was heard all over the north side of Atlanta.

MISS MAUDE RAGLAND MARRIES MR. THOMPSON

The fire, war and submarines were topics of conversation at the breakfast table of Prof. Eugene Ragland, who lives at 934 East North avenue, Wednesday morning, when the professor and his wife and sister, Miss Maude Ragland of Brownsville, Texas, were having their morning meal.

A few moments later William Augustus Thompson, well-known Atlanta lawyer, came in and the conversation was at once changed to May and marriage, when Professor Ragland was told of the wedding of his sister and Mr. Thompson.

Bishop Warren A. Candler officiated at the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will go to Jacksonville on their wedding trip and will make Atlanta their home.

DECLARES BRAZIL IS ALREADY AT WAR

Foreign Minister Pecanha Says Formal Statement Is Not Necessary, as State of War Has Been Forced on Country.

Rio Janeiro, May 24.—Foreign Minister Nilo Pecanha declared in the council of ministers, according to newspapers, that it was not necessary for Brazil to declare war on Germany because she had been virtually forced into a state of war by circumstances. He said that the torpedoing of the Brazilian steamer Tijuca did not essentially modify the situation created by the destruction of the Parana.

Senhor Pecanha said that, in regard to co-operation between Brazil and the United States, the government should devote its entire attention to military and naval organization, especially with respect to collaborating with the United States in the policing of the south Atlantic, and should prepare for any eventuality. After the meeting of the council Senhor Pecanha was asked as to the possibility of Brazil declaring war on Germany. The minister replied: "Brazil declares war on nobody. She defends herself. It is Germany which declares war on all neutrals."

Facts Before Senate.

Senhor Pecanha will send to the chamber of deputies and the senate today the result of the inquiry into the sinking of the Tijuca. He will also furnish details of the diplomatic exchanges regarding the international situation. The comments of the newspapers indicate a hardening of public opinion on the neecssity of declaring war against Germany as a step to effect the solidarity of Brazilian policy with that of the United States. The Jornal do Commercio says:

"In the presence of German barbarity there are two attitudes to choose from, either co-operation in the cause of liberty, or the humiliation of Brazil. Brazil will not humiliate herself. Our government is not free to declare war; that is for congress to decide, but the government is fortified by the confidence of the entire country. It is not the torpedoing of the Tijuca which has determined the firm attitude of the Brazilian government, that is the consequence of more elevated considerations.

Neutrality Ended.

"Our neutrality is ended. We are not yet in war, but we are aligned with and for America, and we will enter freely into a state of belligerency without considering for a moment an alliance with Europe. Such is our point of view at present. The sequel depends not on the government, but on congress, and the nation waits for congress to do its duty as the government has indicated it."

The Correio de Manha says:

"The action of the United States was inspired by the supreme interests of civilization. This circumstance places American intervention, with which we associate ourselves today on a superior plane. We have become deliberate collaborators in American policy."

G. Paiz considers the torpedoing of the Tijuca of secondary importance compared with events which preceded it. "The torpedoing," says the paper, "will not oblige us to make a theatrical declaration of war against Germany, but it will oblige us to take measures of national defense which Germany can interpret as she may."

CAMPAIGN FOR SALE OF WAR BONDS STARTS

on their stationery such slogans as "If you want to sink a submarine, buy a 'Liberty Loan' bond," or "Buy a Bond."

Apply to Massengale.

By applying to St. Elmo Massengale, who has opened his office at the federal reserve bank, business houses may obtain cuts or rubber stamps for the purpose of carrying reminders of the "Liberty Loan" bond issue on their stationery. Mr. Massengale can also furnish circulars to be sent out in packages of merchandise and in other ways be distributed through the agency of business houses.

Mr. Massengale's telephone number at the federal reserve bank is Ivy 2382. This is also the telephone number of W. C. Wardaw, who has charge of the actual sale of the bonds. All inquiries as to sales should be directed to Mr. Wardlaw, while inquiries as to publicity or information should be directed to Mr. Massengale.

Many details of advertisement and publicity such as those above suggested will be worked out within the next few days. One of these will be a button which will be given to every man who purchases a bond, showing that he has done his duty in this respect and urging others to do likewise.

Services Volunteered.

At the dinner at the Piedmont Wednesday night Chairman Wellborn, of the directors of the federal reserve bank, explained that the undertaking of selling so large an amount of the "Liberty Loan" bonds in Atlanta is a stupendous one, and for that reason the bank had desired the co-operation of the able men represented in the Presidents' club. He then showed how such men in other cities are volunteering their time and energy to selling the bonds, such as, one instance, which he mentioned, where expert bond salesmen have volunteered their services. Mr. Wellborn commended the action of Mr. Wardlaw and Mr. Massengale in giving up their work to make the sale of the bonds a success in Atlanta and the Atlanta federal reserve district.

Indication of the splendid co-operation which Atlanta will give these men was shown in the act of the life insurance agents of the Atlanta Federal reserve district, volunteering to devote all of June 5 to the sale of "Liberty Loan" bonds in Atlanta.

The Salesmanship club also pledged its full co-operation.

The Southeastern fair will also, as far as possible, give its premiums at the next fair in these bonds.

Governor Joseph A. McCord, of the Atlanta Federal Reserve bank, also spoke, showing the tremendous assets which the United States has to back the bond issue.

"The United States," he said, "is the strongest corporation in the world, having assets of $250,000,000,000, and liabilities of only $1,250,000,000."

Speakers at Meeting.

Other men who spoke, pledging their personal support and the support of the institutions which they represent, were George L. Hunt, president of the Salesmanship club; Hugh M. Willet, who pledged the services of 50,000 life insurance men for June 5; Mayor Asa G. Candler, who stated that every man in the financial institution of which he is head will buy a $50 bond, and that he anticipates the Atlanta district will over-subscribe her quota; Colonel Fred J. Paxon, Mell R. Wilkinson, Ivan E. Allen, H. G. Hastings, H. D. Carter, C. H. Kelley, W. W. Orr and others.

Those present at the meeting were Frank E. Lowenstein, Atlanta Ad Men's club; Louis D. Hicks, Rotary club; William C. Royer, Hotel Men's association; E. P. McBurney, Atlanta Commercial exchange; Frederic J. Paxon, Convention bureau; Mell R. Winkinson, president of the Presidents' club; W. Carroll Latimer, Atlanta Bar association; T. C. Erwin, Atlanta Clearing House association; P. C. McDuffie, Atlanta Ad Men's club; J. Epps Brown, Sothern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company; Hugh M. Willet, president Anti-Tuberculosis association; Thomas H. Daniel, Atlanta Association of Life Insurance; George L. Hunt, Salesmanship club; E. M. Horine, Atlanta Association of Building Owners and Managers; St. Elmo Massengale, Southern Association of Advertising Agents; Ivan E. Allen, president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce; W. C. Wardlaw, chairman of the liberty loan central committee; M. B. Wellborn, chafrman of the Federal Reserve bank; Joseph A. McCord, governor of the Atlanta Federal Reserve bank; Asa G. Candler, mayor of Atlanta; Colonel W. L. Peel, president of the Atlanta Music Festival association; C. H. Kelley, Wholesale Grocers' association; W. W. Orr, Retail Merchants' association; H. D. Carter, Atlanta Association of Credit Men; H. G. Hastings, president of the Southeastern fair and the Georgia Chamber of Commerce; W. O. Foote, the Employing Printers' association, and W. J. Sayward, Georgia chapter, American Institute of Architects.

Toole Gives His Aid.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, through its official head, M. B. Wellborn, has made a patriotic appeal to Warren H. Toole, of Winder, Ga., a director of the Federal Reserve bank, to give his services to the bank in selling the liberty loan bonds.

Mr. Toole has accepted the call and will be placed in active charge of a large force of clerks in the promotion of the sale of these bonds. He is a thorough banker, and Mr. Wellborn stated that the Federal Reserve bank deeply appreciated Mr. Toole leaving his business at Winder and devoting his time and attention to this great patriotic cause.

Negroes Go to Macon To Attend Conference On Labor and War Aid

Macon, Ga., May 24.—(Special.)—Negroes of the state will gather in Macon tomorrow night for a conference of statewide interest, which will be attended by Governor Harris and Commissioner of Agriculture J. J. Brown, both of whom will make addresses. The meeting was called by R. R. Wright, president of the State Industrial college at Savannah, a negro institution, for the purpose of discussing problems which confront the negroes and the country. Among the subjects to be discussed will be the negro exodus from the south, labor question, compulsory registration and the patriotic duties of the negroes during the war with Germany.

R. R. Wright has already arrived in the city and today he said he expects the meeting to be the largest gathering of representative negroes ever gotten together in Georgia. In addition to Governor Harris and Commissioner Brown, the speakers at the conference will be H. G. Hastings, president of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce; Bishop R. S. Williams, of Augusta; Rev. H. H. Proctor, Atlanta; Bishop J. S. Flipper, Atlanta; William E. Holmes, president of Central City college, Macon; Rev. M. W. Reddick and R. R. Wright, of Savannah.

AMUSEMENTS

Oglethorpe Players.

(At the Atlanta.)

The audience at the Atlanta theater last night was treated with an agreeable surprise by the Oglethorpe Players, where they presented Shaw's comedy, "You Never Can Tell," in a highly acceptable manner. Miss Carolyn Cobb, the director of the play, is to be praised in the very highest terms for the wonderful way in which she has whipped this play together, and the great number of difficulties she has had to overcome.

The play was given for the benefit of the fire sufferers, and considering the circumstances, a very good crowd was present.

The whole cast did exceptionally well, and the play was produced with a smoothness that is rarely found in amateur theatricals.

Fain Thompson and Miss Elsie Trip as the Clandon Twins were the distinct hits of the play. Through all their work ran a sparkling humor that kept the audience continually laughing. The difficult part of Mrs. Clanden was handled in an exceptional way by Miss Louise Dourough. Chessley Howard, as Mr. Crampton, did a great piece of work. Others taking part in the play were Charles Tidwell, Morton T. Nicholes, Joe Murphy, Marion Gaertner, Bryan Burks, Miss Maude Cobb and Mr. Hardy.

Loew Vaudeville.

(At the Grand.)

A pleasing and entertaining bill of Loew's vaudeville is on at the Grand theater for the week-end change, and the efforts of the actors and actresses were enthusiastically greeted by three large audiences Thursday.

Besides five acts of excellent vaudeville there is a Bluebird photoplay, "Southern Justice," which tells a story in vivid form of life among the Cumberland mountains.

Caesar Rivola, heralded as the world's greatest quick-change artist, was the bright feature of the vaudeville acts. His one-man one-act sketch, in which he alone plays the roles of six different actors and actresses, was marvelous as well as entertaining.

Rivola's work in interpreting the music masters was far above par, and too much praise cannot be given to his master-work in these roles in which he presents to his audience such noted musicians as Gounod, Liszt, Sousa, Creatore, and others.

Smith and Farmer in a song and comedy offering probably rank second in pleasing the audience, although Stella Stamper in her song act, with Charles Ost at the piano, would be much more pleasing if she made a change of her sombre black dress to one more becoming to her complexion and hair.

The Levollos, expert rope walkers, in the opener, show remarkable talent in their line.

The monkeys, who perform several vaudeville acts as well as present a monkey orchestra, with drummer, pianist, trombone player and a complete round of musicians, make the Rochez Music Hall as enjoyable to the "kiddies" as ever.

The bill is well worth the patronage of vaudeville lovers in Atlanta.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Lyric.)

There is nothing cheap about the end of the week bill at the Lyric, which had its first appearance yesterday, but the price. There is not a number of the lot that doesn't make good and, at least, two of them would do credit to any vaudeville house, regardless of the price.

Whatever may be meant by a Futuristic Revue and whoever the Countess de Leonardi, billed as "Europe's celebrated violiniste," may be, she has gathered under her direction some of the classiest operatic voices that have made their appearance in Atlanta vaudeville. Her act will prove a delight to Atlanta music lovers, even those whose taste has been trained in grand opera.

There are a soprano and a tenor in her company who essay some of the most difficult airs in the classic French and Italian operatic repertoire and display a voice range that to the untutored ear, at any rate, is not unworthy of comparison with the high-priced songbirds. Her performance on the violin also met with genuine appreciation.

Eli Brendel in a comic skit, entitled "On the School Playgrounds," proves himself a Swede, so silly in make-up and mannerism, that he keeps the audience almost convulsed with laughter from start to finish. Then he has to help out his act a bunch of girls, togged as tiny little primary grade school misses, who get away with some right pleasing songs and dances.

The female impersonator of the Bert Savoy and Jay Brennan pair also made a hit with the audience. He makes little effort to disguise the male quality of his voice and so the audience is never fooled as to his sex, but he succeeds in satirizing some of the weaknesses of the gentler half of humanity to the amusement of the crowd.

The Gusmani trio which opens the bill, do some unusual and clever stunts of balancing on large balls. They have a climax to their act that almost startles the audience with its apparent difficulty, one of the trio standing on his head on the top of a ball, balanced on the head of another who is in turn balancing his feet on a ball.

Jim and Marian Harkins are the weakest number of the bill, but they get a pretty good hand as part of their dialogue seems to be new.

"Submarine Eye."

(At the Rialto.)

The Williamson Brothers' production of "The Submarine Eye," which continues to fill the Rialto theater afternoon and night, has its consistent coherent story; has its wonderful photography; has its superb cast, headed by Barbara Tennant, but the magnetic feature of the spectacle is the dramatic action that takes place fourteen fathoms beneath the surface of the ocean. Five performances are given daily at the Rialto, starting at 1, 3, 5, 7 and 9 p. m. The prices are 10, 15, 25 cents general admission and 50 cents for loge seats. The engagement will terminate tomorrow night.

Theda Bara.

(At the Strand.)

Manager Fourton, of the Strand theater, was wearing last night a smile that wouldn't come off. Theda Bara was making good all of his predictions and the Strand's second day, with the great star as the magnet, played to several hundred people more than it did on the opening day of Miss Bara's four-day engagement in "Heart and Soul." The production will be repeated today and tomorrow. "Heart and Soul" is an ideal vehicle for the display of Miss Bara's talents. The drama is from H. Rider Haggard's "Jess." Manager Fourton is looking for a new four days' record with Miss Bara.

Mary Miles Minter.

(At the Vaudette.)

Glad tidings to the theater-goers of Atlanta always is the announcement that Mary Miles Minter is coming to town to entertain her admirers at the Vaudette. So, when the announcement was made last Sunday that this famous and generally popular little star was on the way city-wide interest immediately began to assert itself. The sequel will be found today and tomorrow at the Strand. Her vehicle will be "Anne For Spite," with a title role that admirably fits the gifts of the young star. Miss Minter's production will entertain the Vaudette audiences today and tomorrow.

Dorothy Dalton Today.

(At the Odeon.)

"Wild Winship's Widow," one of the breeziest comedy-dramas that has come from the studios of Thomas H. Ince, is today's attraction at the Odeon theater, featuring the radiantly beautiful Dorothy Dalton. Miss Dalton plays the widow and she lends to the role a charm, personality and versatility that combine to make her work a distinct creation. The supporting company, like all of Ince's companies, is superb. The photography is a work of art. The comedy feature of the bill is "Twin Troubles," one of those sure-fire hits from the Triangle studios.

Today at the Movies.

RIALTO—"The Submarine Eye."
CRITERION—Clara Kimball Young in "The Easiest Way."
STRAND—Theda Bara in "Heart and Soul."
ODEON—Dorothy Dalton in "Wild Winship's Widow."
ALAMO 3—Fatty Arbuckle in "Reckless Romeo."
VAUDETTE—Mary Miles Minter in "Anne for Spite."
ALPHA—Val Paul in a "Startling Climax;" also a comedy, "Crooks and Crocodiles."
SAVOY—Madam Petrova in "The Undying Flame."

THANKS STUDENT OFFICERS.

Chief W. B. Cody, of the Atlanta fire department, has sent the following letter to Colonel C. R. Noyes, thanking him for the aid rendered by the student officers in the recent fire:

Colonel C. R. Noyes, Commanding Officer, Citizens' Training Camp, Fort McPherson, Ga.—Dear Sir: General Wood telegraphed me just before midnight Monday suggesting that I call on you for any assistance needed, but happily the brave men of your command, with others from the national guard of Georgia, had responded many hours before and rendered valiant and positively invaluable service to the citizens of Atlanta.

I desire to especially thank you for the services rendered by Mr. L. O. Grice, of the third company, citizen's training camp, who was the first soldier in uniform to reach me. He had first gone toward his home at 370 Houston street, where he lost everything he possessed, and then journeyed northward along the fringe of the fire zone, where he exercised wonderful leadership, pressing into service scores of negroes and white civilians to man fire hose not being used and skillfully directing the playing of the hose.

Upon reaching me at North Jackson and Linden I availed myself of Mr. L. O. Grice as aid, where he rendered invaluable assistance for hours, he being very successful in bringing to the aid of the firemen large numbers of idle civilians and in co-ordinating the fire fighting in that vicinity, which finally stopped the conflagration between Hunt street and North Jackson on North avenue.

The arrival of several platoons of soldiers at this time at this stragetic point at this moment enabled us to finally crush the fire in that vicinity.

The wonderful support of all the soldiers, as typified by Mr. Grice's unusual initiative and clear-headedness, is largely responsible for the fact that the fire was finally subdued, and all Atlanta is obligated to the men in our country's uniform.

Yours truly,
(Signed) W. B. CODY,
Chief Atlanta Fire Department.

TRANSYLVANIA IS SUNK WITH LOSS OF 413 LIVES

45 Perish When French Liner Sontay Is Torpedoed in Mediterranean.

London, May 24.—The British transport Transylvania was torpedoed on May 4 with the loss of 413 persons.

The Transylvania was torpedoed in the Mediterranean. The following official statement was given out today:

"The British transport Transylvania, with troops aboard, was torpedoed in the Mediterranean on May 4, resulting in the following losses: Twenty-nine officers and 373 of other ranks, also the ship's captain, Lieutenant S. Bruell, and one officer and nine men of the crew."

The Transylvania, an Anchor line steamship of 14,315 tons gross, had been in the service of the British government since May, 1915, when her sailings were cancelled. There have been no recent reports of her movements. When she was first taken over by the British government she was engaged in transporting troops to Gallipoli.

The Transylvania was built in 1914. She was constructed especially for passenger traffic between New York and Mediterranean ports. She was 548 feet long and had accommodations for 2,450 passengers.

45 LIVES LOST ON FRENCH LINER.

Paris, May 24.—It is officially announced that the French liner Sontay, bound for Marseilles from Saloniki with 344 passengers, was torpedoed on April 16 with a loss of 45 lives. The steamer sank rapidly in a heavy sea, but the prompt and methodical manner in which the small boats were launched saved the majority of those on board. Captain Mages went down with the ship.

The Sontay was a vessel of 7,247 tons and was built in 1908. She was owned in Marseilles.

Waycross Wants Taxes.

Waycross, Ga., May 24.—(Special.)—City Attorney Deen today was instructed to advertise for sale without further notice, all property against which either paving, sidewalk or street and tax executions have been issued. The city is in need of funds to meet its obligations and is carrying a larger list of delinquents than it can afford. Property owners will have until June 1 to pay the executions, after which they will face additional costs.

FEATURES FROM AUGUSTA

Remarkable Display to Be Made at U. C. V. Reunion.

Augusta, Ga., May 24.—(Special.)—Camp 439, U. C. V., going to the Washington reunion, carries 100 uniformed men. In the parade at Washington the Augusta Eagles' drum and bugle corps will precede them. R. G. Tudor, 7 feet high, 275 pounds, will bear the Stars and Stripes and Stars and Bars. Miss Mary Hall will carry the camp banner. Sergeant Berry Benson, with the musket and uniform he used during the war, will head the camp. He will be escorted by D. G. Steffins, of Augusta, a union soldier, who was on duty at Elmira, N. Y., prison, the night Sergeant Benson made his escape. Confederate soldiers will bear six confederate war flags, furled, because they are dropping to pieces now.

This remarkable organization will march to the white house, there to offer such services as they can render, to President Wilson in the war with Germany.

The camp will be in command of Lieutenant E. J. O'Connor. The camp commander, A. J. Twiggs, will be in command of the eastern brigade, Georgia confederate veterans.

GA. LAND OWNERS AT BIG MEET YESTERDAY

Hazlehurst, Ga., May 24.—(Special.)—Z. W. Kirkland, one of the largest land owners and cattle raisers of Jeff Davis county, was unanimously chosen as representative on the board of control of the Georgia Land Owners' association at a meeting of the representative land owners of this county, held here this afternoon. The meeting was addressed by W. B. Hirleman, assistant state veterinarian, on the benefits of state-wide tick eradication, and F. H. Abbott explained the purposes of the Georgia Land Owners' association, which are to make Georgia tick-free in two years, to secure the immediate enactment of the Torrens land title system, and to secure other legislation tending to improve the live stock industry in Georgia.

U. S. TO ADVANCE ALLIES $400,000,000 IN JUNE

Subscribers to Baby Bonds May Pay on Installment Plan.

Washington, May 24.—Treasury officials have turned their attention to the financial requirements of the allies for June and are engaged in formulating a more or less elastic program designed to stand for several months. Indications are that approximately $400,000,000 will be advanced the allies in June, bringing the total up to more than $1,000,000,000.

Members of the Italian commission, who have conferred recently with treasury officials, have sent to Rome for more detailed information as to the commitments of the Italian government in this country, and when this data is in hand it will be used in designing a program to meet Italian financial needs for several months.

Officials today allotted among the banks of the federal reserve districts the $200,000,000 offering of treasury certificates of indebtedness which was closed yesterday. The allotment was made on the basis of 72 per cent of the subscription, the offering having been over-subscribed about 40 per cent.

In a statement issued tonight, officials made it clear that subscribers to the so-called baby bonds of the liberty loan—the $50 and $100 denominations—are not required to pay their full amount of subscriptions in advance, but will receive the same privileges of paying by installments as are granted subscribers to larger amounts. The subscribers to the small bonds may, however, pay the full amount of their subscriptions in advance, if they desire.

SHOWS ADVANTAGE OF VOLUNTEERING

Captain Heidt Again Urges Georgia Boys to Enlist Now and Not Wait for the Conscription Period.

The enlistment of 40,000 volunteers in the regular army from Georgia before conscription begins would obviate the necessity of the draft in this state and would give Georgia the highest patriotic record in the United States, Captain G. V. Heidt, of the army recruiting office, told newspaper men on Wednesday.

Captain Heidt has just returned from a trip of inspection to Athens and to Augusta recruiting points, and is disappointed with the showing made over the entire state in the past few days. He is a native Georgian, and needless to say, is anxious for Georgia to have a high standing among her sister commonwealths.

"There would be no necessity for conscription if we could get the men who will eventually have to go as members of the war army, as the conscription army is being called, to volunteer for the regular army before conscription becomes a fact. These men who are joining the regulars are not only doing a patriotic duty to their state and country, but will get the cream of the commissioned and non-commissioned ranks and will eventually command the conscripted army."

Good Places Are Open.

According to Captain Heidt, under the reorganization of the army which goes into effect at once, 300 non-commissioned officers will be promoted to commissions and about 18,000 non-commissioned officers will be appointed. The non-commissioned officers are to be picked from the men who have volunteered and who will volunteer in the next few weeks. In other words, promotion is practically assured for the man who enlists now, and the surest way to cinch a place as private in the rear rank is to wait for conscription.

Lieutenant Colvocoresses, in charge of marine corps recruiting offices, was exceptionally well pleased Thursday with the character of the men who are enlisting with the "soldiers of the sea" organization. Since it has become certain that a unit of marines will accompany the Pershing expedition to France, enthusiasm has run high among marine recruits.

The Seventh regiment of reserve engineers need many volunteers. This unit, under command of Major Sewell, will be recruited in Atlanta and the south from technical men, railroad men, steam and locomotive engineers, men with experience as bridge builders and men familiar with laying railroad tracks or building roadbeds. At least one unit of engineers is due to go to France "with Pershing."

The Fifth regiment is slowly, but surely, filling up the gap between the present complement and full war strength. Many young men are still needed to bring "Atlanta's own" up to the required number, and recruiting officers for the regiment are making desperate efforts to encourage enlistments. Every man of the Fifth is constituted a recruiting officer, with offices wherever he happens to be standing.

Thursday's Recruiting.

Recruits for Thursday follow:

Army—Lon Camp, Stone Mountain; Edward Hendrix, Stone Mountain; John J. Cook, Grays' Landing; Grant R. Allen, Lindale; Hubert R. Latimer, Fairburn; Gwinn W. Pope, Albany; John C. BURNT TO DEATH AFTER A SOLITARY EXISTENCE

Louisville, Ga., May 24.—(Special.) John Anderson, a bachelor, 72 years old, was burned to death when his home was destroyed by fire near Wrens about 3 o'clock this morning. Just how the fire originated no one knows, but it is thought to be accidental. Anderson had been living as a recluse since young manhood and no one knows anything of his affairs. He owned a small farm which he rented out and lived entirely on the income. His cabin was seldom visited. When the fire was discovered the house was almost burned down and Anderson was found near the front door. In an old metal box in the ruins was found several coins and the ashes of what little money he had, but no one knows how much. He was a confederate veteran.

Atlanta's Big Fires Recalled In General West's Address

"Fires always imply disaster to individuals, but need not imply ruin to cities," asserted General A. J. West in an address before the United Daughters of the Confederacy yesterday afternoon.

"I have not had time to refer to libraries, newspaper files or other records," said General West, "and relying entirely on memory, my facts may be incorrect concerning some fires.

"Nearly all of Atlanta's original hotels have been destroyed by fire. The first Kimball house was built in 1870, and a few years later was destroyed by fire. Immediately H. T. Kimball, the original builder, formed a new company and erected the Kimball house which is standing today. The Markham house was burned, after which the present block of business houses took its place. The old Atlanta hotel, located at the southeast corner of Pryor and Alabama streets, was burned, and the present Joseph E. Brown building stands on the former site. The northeast corner of Pryor and Alabama streets was destroyed by fire and the Harry Jackson hotel took its place. The Sasseen hotel, southwest corner of Pryor and Alabama streets, was burned and two lives were lost. The erection of the office building owed by the Venables followed.

National Hotel Burns.

"The remaining corner of Pryor and Alabama streets, belonging to the Dodd estate, was destroyed by fire last week and a more modern building will be erected on the site. The National hotel, corner of Peachtree and the railroad, was burned and replaced by the Emery-Steiner building, which is now being torn down to make room for the handsomest arcade building south of Cleveland, Ohio.

"One of the most pathetic fires was when the street car stables burned, and about 100 horses and mules were destroyed by the fire. The triangle, where the beautiful Hurt building now stands, was destroyed by fire.

"All of the block from Edgewood to Auburn avenue was completely burned, now replaced by the Equitable building, the Lowry bank and several splendid stores. The entire Sam Inman block, Terminal section, was twice destroyed by fire, and now filled by handsome business houses. The block on the south side of Marietta street, from Peachtree to Broad, was consumed by fire, portions of it twice. The Third and Fourth National banks now stand on the opposite corners of this block.

"The southwest corner of Marietta and Broad streets, known as Tyner's drug store, was burned down, and the Fulton building now stands on the site. Another disastrous fire was the destruction of the state capitol, opposite the Grady monument, known now as the Brown-Randolph building. Another fire, where hundreds of mules and horses were burned to death, was the Miller stock pens on the southwest corner of Marietta and Bartow streets. The Scofield Rolling mills was another fire that caused much excitement.

"Another exciting event occurred in Atlanta when the church spire of the First Methodist church, which stood on the present site of the Candler building, toppled to the ground from a height of several hundred feet. The pastor, Rev. William P. Harrison, narrowly escaped death.

Liquor House Burns.

"The burning of the Paul Jones wholesale liquor house, formerly located where Daniel Bros. store now stands, and also the grocery establishment of Fain & Parrott, then located where the King Hardware store now stands, created much excitement in Atlanta. In those days fire engines operated by hand were in use and water was obtained from a large cistern in the ground where the flag pole now stands.

"Another very destructive fire was the one of the hardware store of W. Haught Ormond and Scrutchen, occupying the place on Whitehall, where the new building of Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose company is now going up. The fire which destroyed the Phoenix Planing Mill company on Decatur street was another ruinous blaze.

"Taylor's hill and Castleberry's hill, near Peters street, known as Snake Nation, were completely swept away by fire and nice dwellings and business houses now stand on the old sites.

"One of the saddest fires that ever took place in Atlanta was the old DeGive opera house on Marietta street in which Miss Maggie Chapman, one of the most beautiful and popular young ladies of the city, lost her life. It was during a benefit entertainment for the poor, and Miss Maggie was costumed as an angel of mercy when the fire broke out. Her father, Dr. Chapman, a prominent druggist at that time, died a little later from a broken heart.

"It was the ambition of the late J. O. Cochran to see the valuable cyclorama at Grant Park housed and protected from fire, and the association of the Daughters of the Confederacy will immortalize itself by having this done."

Her Throat Slashed, Woman Is Thrown In Creek From Auto

Mobile, Ala., May 24.—The young woman whose body, with the throat cut, was found today in Chickasabogue creek, near Mobile, was identified tonight as that of Mrs. R. C. Hess, of Jacksonville, Fla., where she is said to have resided on Oak street.

The identification was made by the night clerk of the St. Andrew hotel, where the woman had apartments until 3 o'clock last Monday morning.

The clerk told the police that Mrs. Hess left the hotel in an automobile in company with a man he did not know. The couple were quarreling, the clerk said.

Both the police and sheriff's departments are working on a clue that the woman was fatally cut in an automobile at 3 o'clock last Moday morning and that the dying woman was thrown into the creek by some one in the automobile.

The latter theory was based on a statement made by Porter Gainey, private of Company M., First Alabama infantry, who saw a person falling into the waters of Chickasabogus. The machine, he said, kept on going, increasing its speed each yard. The drowning woman struggled desperately in the water, but before the soldier could get a boat to the place, the woman was drowned. The soldier at first thought the person in the water was a man. It was so dark, Gainey said, it was hard to distinguish the sex. He thought it was a case of suicide and so reported at the time.

FIRE BUCKET SALE TO BRING BIG SUM TO THE RED CROSS

Many people bought buckets in Atlanta Thursday, and in some instances handsome prices were paid for them. During the next few days it is expected that there will be a rush for the fire buckets at King's, on Peachtree street, and before long all of the 4,000 purchased by the city of Atlanta to fight the fire Monday will be disposed of.

Jake Wells purchased the first bucket and paid $200 for it, and following the example set by the theatrical director, the Haynes Automobile company sent in its check to the bucket relief fund for $350, and E. F. Hutton & Co., New York, also purchased a fire relic at $250.

Others purchasing buckets Thursday were: Winecoff hotel, $5; Wrigley Engraving company, $10; Publishers' Press, $5; Webb & Vary, $10; George Silver, $5; Miss Carabelle Clark, 50 cents; J. Alfred Rasbury, $1; John N. Thomas, 50 cents; H. C. Fisher, $1, and Mrs. E. M. Emmert, 50 cents.

Many of those calling at the King Hardware company store bought buckets and failed to register their names, and for this reason they are unavailable for publication. A register has been provided at the hardware store and all persons purchasing mementoes of the great conflagration are requested to leave their names.

Checks can be addressed to the Bucket Relief Fund, care the hardware store, and buckets will be promptly forwarded you.

Every cent of the money derived from the sale of the galvanized iron buckets will be turned over to the Red Cross for the benefit of the fire sufferers. Mayor Candler has written the following letter in regard to the bucket relief fund:

"Mr. S. P. Bailey, Secretary-Treasurer, Atlanta, Ga. Dear Sir: I am in receipt of yours of the 22d instant which reminds me of how faithful you have been in your efforts to relieve the distressed occasion by the disastrous fire of the 21st.

"I approve the direction you are giving the sale of the buckets as stated in your letter.

"Yours very truly,

(Signed) "ASA G. CANDLER, "Mayor."

Home Is Established For Friendless Girls As Buford Memorial

The Home for Friendless Girls, which was established as a memorial to the late Rev. Gaston R. Buford, was opened yesterday at 143 Spring street.

The home is largely the fruit of labors of the Junior League of Atlanta, a young society girls' organization. It will be operated by a board of directors appointed by the Evangelical Ministers' association, with Mrs. Sarah D. Atwood at superintendent.

The place now provides for sixteen girl guests. Boarding rates are fixed at $1 a week for girls earning $5; $2 for girls earning above $5. In event a girl living in the home earns a wage sufficient to support her comfortably, she leaves the home to make way for some less fortunate. The furnishings of the place were donated by a number of prominent downtown concerns.

The following are directors and associate directors:

Directors—Addison Maupin, Philip Weltner, Rev. A. A. Gordon, Rev. Russell K. Smith, J. E. Kirk, John A. Manget, Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin, Miss C. E. Embree, Mrs. W. W. Kilpatrick, Mrs. J. S. McCullough, Miss Julia Purser.

Associate Directors—Mrs. W. S. Gaar, Mrs. Thomas D. Body, Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, Mrs. Bayard Willingham, Mrs. F. B. Coleman, Miss Adelaide Callaway, Mrs. Charles Fuller, Mrs. Robert Hopkins, Mrs. C. L. Dean, Miss Dorothy High, Miss Wing.

GENERAL BARNETT URGES ATLANTANS TO JOIN MARINES

George Barnett, major general commandant of the marine corps, has sent the following telegram to The Constitution:

Editor Constitution: The bill signed by President Wilson yesterday authorizes the marine corps to enlist men between the ages of 18 and 35 for the period of the war. Men who want to fight where the action is hottest on land, on the sea or in the air will find the marine corps offers them a great opportunity to uphold the honor of their country and their flag.

On behalf of the officers and enlisted men of the marine corps, I again desire to express our sincere appreciation of the able assistance and hearty co-operation rendered by The Constitution in recruiting the corps during these strenuous times. Atlanta has responded splendidly to our calls. I now am asking your further assistance and co-operation in recruiting the marine corps to its full authorized strength of 30,000 enlisted men. The special national marine corps recruiting week is from June 10 to 16, inclusive, and I hope that the marine corps will be at full strength before the close of the present fiscal year.

GEORGE BARNETT,
Major General, Commandant.

Potentate of Lu Lu Temple Of Mystic Shrine Proffers Aid of Temple to Atlanta

Shriners from all over the country, remembering the splendid hospitality shown them by the citizens of Atlanta during the meeting of the imperial council here in 1914, are deeply moved by the disastrous fire last Monday, and stand ready to help in any way they can.

Colonel Walter P. Andrews, potentate of Yaarab temple, received the following telegram from Noble Freeland Kendrick, potentate of Lu Lu temple, Philadelphia, and also assistant rabban of the imperial council:

"The nobles of Lu Lu temple sympathize with you and the citizens of Atlanta at the great disaster to your city, and stand ready to assist you in any manner they can."

Colonel Andrews replied thanking him for the sentiment and proffer of help, but assured him that Atlanta was taking care of her own with true Atlanta spirit.

A NEW VOLUME ABOUT THE WAR

THE publishers of The Encyclopaedia Britannica announce that they have made arrangements for the issue, as soon after the end of the war as possible, of a new volume, containing a full and authoritative history of the war.

The new volume will be written by scholars and experts of the same high character as those who wrote for the Britannica itself, and by many of its own contributors. It will be absolutely impartial, excluding all partisan feeling and prejudice. It will contain

1. A judicial account of the real causes of the war, the progress of the struggle, and the results all over the world; with maps, as necessary, to show changes in boundaries.

2. The lives of the new leaders, whether civil, military or naval, in the belligerent countries.

3. The results of the war outside the sphere of fighting, the progress of surgery, the prevention of contagious disease, the new scientific discoveries, etc.

The new volume will bridge the gap between the days of peace before and after the war. It will be printed and bound to match the Britannica and the publishers guarantee that no matter how difficult and costly the supplementary volume may be from the editorial point of view, the price of it to all who purchase the Britannica during the present sale will not be more than that of a corresponding volume of the Britannica.

President.

The time has come when you must decide and order. That is the whole story.

Today there is no use in telling you what the Britannica is, how valuable it will be to you in your work, what an advantage it will give you and your family to own it. You know now whether you want it or not. There is only one thing left for you to consider—will you order or not?

Unless you order NOW you will NEVER be able to buy the Britannica printed on genuine India paper. Because there is no more India paper for printing the Britannica. And no more can be made—war makes it impossible to import the flax and hemp for making India paper.

If you KNOW you want the Britannica, sign the "Reserve" Order Form in the corner of this announcement, attach a dollar bill to it and mail it just as quickly as you can.

If you are almost sure you need the Britannica, but want to be positive before you order, go to the store named here and ask to see the entire set. If the books convince you that the Britannica will be useful and helpful to you, leave your order in the store and make your first payment of $1.00. The entire 29 volumes will be sent you at once and you will have them to use and profit by while you pay for them.

This advertisement, in order to reach the newspapers of the extreme East, West and South had to be prepared and sent out ten days ago. At that time we estimated that the remaining sets of the "Handy Volume" Britannica—the last in the entire world—would take care of all orders mailed us on or before Saturday, May 26th. But orders have been increasing so rapidly that the last set may be gone before this.

BUT—Do not let this possibility delay you. Send your order TODAY! Every minute now is precious if you are really anxious to own and profit by the knowledge the Britannica will bring you.

(If the last set is sold before your order is received, your money will be returned to you immediately.)

Sets can be seen and orders left at

Those who cannot go to this store may use this "Reserve Order" Form, which will reserve one set for you, just the same as if you ordered it in person.

TIME TO DO SOMETHING!

We publish elsewhere an interesting special from our Washington correspondent presenting an interview with Director Page, of the public roads and rural engineering bureau of the United States department of agriculture.

It will be recalled that several days ago Engineer Hazlehurst, of Atlanta, published over his signature a statement attributing to Director Page certain expressions which, insofar as these expressions criticised the Georgia highway commission, Mr. Page says are "unfounded, unauthorized and incorrect."

Then Director Page goes on to explain the situation with reference to the relation between the state of Georgia and its part of the federal aid fund.

From the statement of Director Page, it appears that it is the state itself and not its highway commission that is to blame for the slow progress being made in the work of highway improvement under the federal aid act.

Mr. Page suggests that when the legislature meets in June "it give most earnest attention to ways and means of upholding and strengthening the highway commission in its work."

Since the ruling of this bureau is largely conclusive in road matters, The Constitution calls the special attention of the members of the legislature-elect to the statement of Director Page, with the hope that something may be done at the approaching session to acquit the state of the responsibility for further delay in getting the benefit of its part of the federal aid appropriation.

We note with pleasure that official ruling has been made disposing of the "all-the-way-postal-route" nonsense under which argument it was held that no highway could receive the benefit of federal aid that was not now covered, every foot of the way, by an R. F. D. delivery. Had this absurd contention been sustained it would have killed the plan to have made the Atlanta-Macon highway one of the first in the state to receive the benefit of federal assistance.

In this connection and speaking of the condition into which this main highway artery of the state has been permitted to drift by inattention, the words of Judge P. T. Colgrove, of Michigan—delivered in an address at Saginaw on Wednesday, apropos of Judge Colgrove's presentation to President M. M. Allison, of the Dixie Highway association, of Michigan's check for $5,000 to aid in its work—are strikingly significant.

Judge Colgrove said:

"Perhaps the worst part of the whole Dixie highway that has been opened to the public is between Atlanta and Macon. That stretch of one hundred miles was almost impassable last winter and many Michigan cars had to be freighted by rail over this link. Unless something is done to get better results there no Michigan car will be routed between Atlanta and Macon next year, if it can find any other way to get to Florida, and I understand that a splendid route is being opened up by Stone Mountain and Milledgeville, which will make us no longer dependent upon what is now about the worst part of the Dixie highway, and which, being the link between Atlanta and Macon, two of the best cities on the highway, ought to be made the best part of the whole highway."

The Constitution has been doing its utmost to wake up the people of the counties between Atlanta and Macon to the importance of putting this highway in good condition. It was practically impassable most of the past winter.

The state highway commission recommended it for immediate improvement under the federal aid act, and Director Page states that the recommendation from Georgia was among the first to be filed with the federal good roads office.

All of which emphasizes the fact that there is something fundamentally wrong somewhere!

The thing has been see-sawed backward and forward from Georgia to Washington until the people have about lost patience.

Certainly somebody is responsible, and if the director of the federal good roads department acquits the Georgia highway commission, then he must himself be prepared to assume a large part of the responsibility.

Spring is about over, and almost a year has elapsed since the creation of the Georgia highway commission. Not a pick has been put in the ground, though the director of the federal good roads department admits that Georgia was one of the first of the states to file its formal recommendation.

Now it is time that order be worked out of this chaos, and that there be an end to the red-tape process that has characterized this entire proceeding.

What the state of Georgia now wants is that work should be begun in this state under the federal good roads act!

We have had talk enough.

If the law must be changed before anything can be done, then it is the duty of the government to let the state know just exactly wherein changes are to be made.

If, however, the work as recommended by the state commission can be executed under the existing law, then it is time that that fact be established and that construction should begin!

In other words, there has been nothing but talk and red tape! It is now time to begin work!

THE FARMER AND THE PRESS.

We present elsewhere on this page a striking communication from C. S. Barrett, the well-known Georgian who is president of the Farmers' Education and Co-operative Union of America, in which he deals with a communication published in The Constitution a few days ago from W. H. Harris, of Fort Valley, who, in a good natured way, took the position that the farmers did not want newspaper advice as to what they should do and how they should do it, and who mildly suggested that what the farmers really want is to be "let alone."

The Constitution, in commenting upon Mr. Harris' letter, endeavored to show the weakness of his position, but it was impossible for us to present the matter as strikingly as Mr. Barrett has done—for he speaks as a representative farmer whose service in behalf of the betterment of agricultural conditions is recognized not only here in Georgia where he lives, but in every state in the Union.

The mistake that Mr. Harris made was in assuming that farmers do not take seriously suggestions from those who are not technically familiar with conditions concerning which they write—he taking it for granted that the newspapers assume the role of advisers from their own experience, when in reality they are simply presenting the judgment of the expert thought and best wisdom of the world in matters concerning which they give advice.

In other words, the newspapers are simply the mediums through which the farmers are reached and aided in development along all lines of interest to agriculture.

In the matter of the development of the cattle industry, for instance, The Constitution first took up this movement in Georgia, not because it personally knew anything about the cattle industry, but because we were tremendously impressed with the fact that millions of dollars were being sent out of this state annually for meats that could just as well be produced here, and for foodstuffs for man and beast that could be grown here in Georgia under equally as good conditions as any other part of the country. We saw that the great cattle ranges of the west were necessarily being broken up into small farms on account of the steadily-increasing demand of new settlers in that part of the country for farm lands. We realized that up to that time the Georgia farmer on a few hundred acres could not compete on a small scale with cattle-raising on extensive ranges, covering perhaps hundreds of miles in area. But we knew that, acre for acre, or mile for mile, the Georgia farmer had just as good an opportunity in the markets of the world as the westerner, and that when it came to supplying the Georgia market he had infinitely a better opportunity to profit by going into this industry.

And so The Constitution undertook, not to advise the Georgia farmer as to the details of procedure, but to present to him from day to day, and from month to month, year in and year out, just what the opportunities were and to urge him to take advantage of them. We gathered the opinions of men whose expert advice on the subject gave their judgment the credentials of authority. The Constitution did not pretend to know of the details of breeding or cross-breeding, nor of the many things that pertained technically to profitable cattle-raising, but we did know how to get expert advice from those whose judgment would be valuable.

And it is along this line that The Constitution has proceeded all these years, and the result of its efforts is given splendid testimonial in Mr. Barrett's communication, which we present with becoming modesty.

In this connection it is probably not too sweeping a statement to say that if it had not been for the newspapers, and for those who have been ever on the alert to carry the light into the dark places and to let mankind know the achievements of modern thought and action in all lines, the average American farmer, like the average American citizen, would be doing business pretty much along the same line as their ancestors of a century or five centuries ago.

In some parts of India and in Egypt—among the oldest civilizations in the world—the farmers are still breaking their ground with wooden plows—the same kind as used by their ancestors before the time of Christ.

Those particular farmers do not read the newspapers!

Funny kaiser, that—to congratulate the crown prince upon helping the Hindenburg line to run backwards.

Since "the kaiser cannot get a throne for each of his sons," Editor Watterson says: "Maybe if there should be a German republic all of 'em could get into congress by taking the stump and telling what they know about Father."

Perhaps the kaiser wouldn't have trusted some nearer home with the hold that American dentist had on him.

But he knows his business better—never gets the weather wrong,
For the Blizzard-Man's a-shuttin' out the sunshine.

III.

Cold Wind, stop a-creepin' from the meadows of the May!
The blue sky wants to come out from behind the wall o' gray,
An' we're wantin' Mister Mockin'bird to sing our sighs away
When the Blizzard-Man's a-shuttin' out the sunshine.

"Your home paper is really the tireless letter writer, if nothing more," says The Greensboro Herald-Journal:

"Week after week we prepare this letter for those living here and for those who have moved to some other locality telling of marriages, births, deaths, the coming and going of people, of business effort and progress, accidents, crops, improvements, meetings and so on. In fact, everything of importance and interest. If you should undertake to write a letter to an absent friend every week telling him all the news, you would get a faint idea of preparing a newspaper. Many of our townspeople recognize this and take pleasure in giving items of news."

When to Quit Advertising.

A correspondent asks that we reproduce this one, credited to "Exchange:"

"When the grasshopper ceases to hop,
And the cow quits bawling;
When the fishes no longer flop,
And the baby stops squalling;
When the dunner no longer duns,
And the hoot owl quits hooting;
When the rivers ever cease to run,
And the burglar stops his looting;
When the vine no longer twines,
And the skylark stops his larking;
When the sun no longer shines,
The young man quits his sparking,
When the heavens begin to drop,
And the old maids stop advising,
Then—it is time to shut up shop,
And quit your advertising."

HEALTH TALKS

By William Brady, M.D.

THE A-B-C OF DEGENERATION.

The great majority of "breakdowns" which occur at forty-five or fifty come from that peculiar American incompatibility—a great big appetite, stimulated by tempting cookery, all sorts of condiments, appetizers, alcohol and the open air by the automobile; and a poor little metabolism which gets no help at all.

A gentleman came complaining that he had lost his appetite. Incidentally he couldn't sleep well, and lacked ambition, had no "pep," and felt "all run down." He volunteered information that, if the doctor would just prescribe something to improve his appetite and help his digestion he believed he would soon be all right again. The poor simpleton! What a lot of him there are! By actual estimation of his daily ration it was found that he was stowing away about 3,400 calories a day; whereas 2,500 calories is ample for health and efficiency for a sedentary middle-aged business man of average dimensions. Heaven only knows how much excess the poor fellow was choking into his carburetor when his appetite was working. But he had the great American delusion—that a man's appetite must be enormous if he is to keep going.

The gentleman's blood pressure was rather high. His aortic valve closed with altogether too much snap. His urinalysis showed one or two hyaline casts. That was all the examination disclosed.

He is just learning his A, B, C's. Overeating has brought on the inevitable autointoxication. That raised the blood pressure. Arteries losing their youthful elasticity too early in life. Arterial degeneration getting a start. All he feels is "lack of ambition." Yes, he puffs a little when he runs a few steps or hurries up a stairway.

A stands for apoplexy—one way to close the race. B stands for Bright's disease—the way in which the gentleman is traveling. C stands for cardiac failure—slow, gradual, insidious encroachment of heart disease. Arterial degeneration underlies the whole process. Autointoxication the chief factor. Overeating is what brings the "nervous exhaustion."

Yet the overfed gentleman wants something to give him a better appetite. He is eternally nibbling at alleged aids to digestion.

With the single exception of convalescence from a severe illness, there is no real occasion, so far as I have ever been able to determine, for the use of medicinal aids to digestion or stimulants of appetite.

Barrett Tells What the Newspapers Mean to the Farmers and Pays Tribute To Effective Work of The Constitution

Editor Constitution: Your editorial in The Constitution of Wednesday entitled "The Press and the Farmer," based on the card of Mr. W. H. Harris, of Fort Valley, Ga., has attracted my attention.

Both Mr. Harris and The Constitution are measurably right. I am disposed to think that you, however, have more right on your side than Mr. Harris. For, despite the truth of the statements made by Mr. Harris, it yet remains true that the big newspaper editor necessarily has a wider view of general conditions than the individual farmer.

As a consequence of this wide view, and his knowledge of general conditions, the editor is in position to tell the farmer many things he ought to know, and which he is not likely to hear from other sources than his newspaper.

The editor may never have "run a furrow," but the wires running into his office tell of demand in one place and supply in another; they tell him of waste in one place and thrift in another; they tell him of loss by bad roads, and one-crop farming; they tell him a multitude of things that he knows will be beneficial to his farmer readers.

And so he passes them on, as he ought to do. Farmers owe much to editors and others, and in no occupation can one afford to get "biggity" with the idea that he knows all about his own business, for no man alive, whatever his trade or business, knows the last word about his own occupation. It is a good thing to listen well, to read much, and then to use as much of the knowledge gained as can be applied profitably to one's business.

"A Great Pioneer."

The Constitution has been one of the great pioneers in the south, concerning two important matters that are of interest to every southern farmer:

I refer to diversified farming and to good roads, both of which, taken together, are making the farmer of the south independent.

I remember very well when years ago The Constitution took up the fight for diversified farming and for the building up of the cattle industry in Georgia. It took a long time to interest the farmers, many of whom took then the same position that Mr. Harris takes today—that the newspapers knew nothing about farming conditions, and hence were not in a position to advise.

Time has fully vindicated the wisdom of The Constitution's position, and the whole state is now ready to award to The Constitution full recognition of its part in the great fight for diversification, with which it has been identified longer than any other southern newspaper.

You pioneered in the matter of the development of the cattle industry, and there were very few farmers in Georgia who were prepared to take your advice when you first began to urge them to go more extensively into the cattle business, and showed them that a thoroughbred hog could be raised almost as cheaply as a "razor-back."

Gradually the farmers took your advice, and now Georgia is forging rapidly to the front as one of the great cattle-raising, hog-producing, packing-house states of the union. And in that development The Constitution has built an everlasting memorial to its great service to the state.

Work for Good Roads.

And in this connection let me call attention to another development in which The Constitution pioneered, and about which, in the beginning, a great many farmers were as skeptical as Mr. Harris is now.

I refer to The Constitution's continued fight for good roads in Georgia.

When you first took up this great movement it was a difficult matter to interest the farmers generally, because many of them believed that it was an automobile proposition. They had no automobiles then, and at that time dreaded them, as their chief function seemed to be to frighten their horses on the public highways.

NOW it is different! The automobile has become a necessity on the farm as well as in the city, and the country people are using them just the same as the city—so they, too, are clamoring for good roads.

And the country people are now beginning to realize, too—even those who do not own automobiles—what good roads mean for them, and they are just as much in favor now of the development of the great highway system of the state as if there were not an automobile in Georgia.

They see now that good roads are bringing the people closer together, that they are putting the farmer within easier and quicker reach of his trading centers, and that various comforts and pleasures follow the development of good roads.

So in this, too, The Constitution's service to the farmers of the state is as indelibly impressed as has been its work for the development of the cattle industry and diversified farming.

I am sure that, upon reflection, Mr. Harris will agree that his advice to the newspapers to "let the farmer alone" was rather impulsively based, and that upon second thought he will also agree with me that the farmers in this state and the whole country owe a debt to the newspapers for shedding the light of, and teaching them the experience of, the world in order that they might profit by it.

And for The Constitution's great service to that end I wish to place myself on record as being profoundly thankful!

C. S. BARRETT,
President Farmers' Education and Co-Operative Union of America.

Mayor Now Member Executive Committee Of League for Peace

Believing that the ultimate high purpose of the war will be to effectuate a league among the free nations of the world to secure the general peace and freedom of national development along legitimate lines, as set forth by President Wilson, Mayor Candler yesterday accepted a place on the executive committee of the League to Enforce Peace, of which former President Taft is president and the guiding spirit.

In a letter to Mr. Taft, accepting the position, the mayor sets forth his views of the situation as follows:

"My Dear Mr. Taft: I am notified of my election to membership on the executive committee of the League to Enforce Peace, of which you are the honored head.

"On the day you came to our city recently to address our citizens I issued a proclamation to our people in which I said: 'Ex-President Taft comes to Atlanta to speak to you upon a subject that vitally concerns every man, woman and child in the world.' Such was my belief in the supreme importance of the League to Enforce Peace then—and your masterful exposition of the purposes, aims, methods and achievements of the organization tremendously enhanced my appreciation and deepened my conviction of the necessity for the organization of a permanent league of nations at the close of the present war.

"I believe that it can be brought to pass—and that every right-thinking person should do his bit to aid this greatest of all movements for the welfare of the world. I therefore esteem it an honor to be associated with yourself and the other distinguished gentlemen who constitute the committee, and accept election to membership.

"Under present conditions, my time has many demands upon it, and my activities are necessarily circumscribed, but I assure you of my complete sympathy with the principles of the league and my earnest desire to do all in my power to promote its work.

"I am greatly pleased that you are personally so ably leading this world movement that President Wilson has made a cardinal policy of his administration. With such men leading, we are all glad to follow, and are sure of success. With high esteem, I am, very sincerely yours,

(Signed) "ASA G. CANDLER."

The chairman of the executive committee is President A. Lawrence Lowell, of Harvard university, and it includes such well-known citizens as Mr. Taft himself and Judge Alton B. Parker, former democratic nominee for president, as ex-officio members; John Hays Hammond, Henry C. Ide, John B. Finley, William Jay Schieffelin, Oscar S. Straus, Thomas Taggart and Talcott Williams. John K. Doan, of Charleston, S. C., is the district secretary for the southern section.

Companies Required to Pay Dynamite Loss Claims

Editor Constitution: I saw in The Atlanta Constitution this morning the statement that "owners of property which was destroyed by dynamite for the purpose of preventing the spread of the disastrous fire in Atlanta Monday are not entitled, as a matter of right, to collect their insurance on the ground that the same was not a liability under the legal terms of the policy."

I know that your paper desires to be absolutely accurate and, therefore, I desire to call your attention to the law of Georgia which expressly makes insurance companies liable for all such loss, the same as if the houses were destroyed by fire.

The Code of Georgia, section 2476, is as follows: "A loss or injury may occur from fire without actual burning of the articles or property; as a house blown up to stop a conflagration, or goods removed in imminent danger, or damage by water used to extinguish the flames."

You will see from the above statute that insurance companies are liable for houses blown up to stop conflagration the same as if they had been damaged by water used to extinguish the flames, and, therefore, all of the parties suffering loss in this manner are legally entitled to collect their insurance the same as if their houses had been actually burned.

I trust you will call attention to this section of the code in your issue tomorrow so that none of the unfortunate ones will be misled by your news article of today and, perhaps, not obtain the full amount of their loss. Yours very truly, H. H. DEAN.

Plan for Rebuilding Used in Other Cities Suggested by Brown

Among the plans suggested for rebuilding the burned area of the city, one suggested by A. Ten Eyck Brown, the architect, in a letter to Mayor Candler is, at least, worthy of thoughtful consideration. Mr. Brown advises that, instead of the re-erection of isolated dwellings on individual lots, the owners of each block form a corporation for rebuilding the block, the cost being prorated among them according to the value of the holding of each.

An apartment house could thus be located in the center of each block with apartments of varying sizes, from three to six rooms each, or if groups of small houses were preferred, they could be built in accordance with some agreed plan looking to harmony and beauty, of high-class fire-proof construction with a central heating plant and, where feasible, a central kitchen and dining room. In this way small open spaces and residence parks might be provided in each block.

The plan, Mr. Brown says, has been tried in Washington and St. Louis to the general satisfaction of the property owners participating. He adds:

"These ideas would accomplish a great many purposes besides those of mere living accommodations, as these buildings would not only be of a high-class fire-proof materials but would allow more open grounds around them than the present method of individual lots, involving a great waste of property in the heart of each block for backyards and unsightly outhouses of owners. The beautifying of these blocks would give the effect of a park rather than that of the ordinary residential city block. This idea could be so carried out as to accomplish the purpose above outlined and in addition establish a division between the white and colored neighborhoods, thereby working out a good scheme of city planning which would be second to none, and instead of this neighborhood being neglected on account of the catastrophe and built up with an indifferent class of structures it could, with the proper thought and planning, be made into one of the most attractive neighborhoods in the entire city.

"As a suggestion for the practical operation of this idea a general committee composed of not more than five men could be appointed by the mayor composed of, say, two architects, one real estate operator, one insurance man and one civil engineer or landscape architect. The insurance or real estate members to be selected also for their business ability as organizers and financiers. This general committee could then take charge of the entire matter with the necessary authority from the city vested in them, and under them—in order to insure the particular development suitable for each particular block—could be subcommittees of perhaps three individuals from each of the block corporations who would co-operate in the general plan and unification of the ultimate result for the entire territory.

"I feel sure that the local chapters of the American Institute of Architects and the American Society of Civil Engineers, who can be reached through the heads of their organizations in this city, would be glad to assist in bringing this scheme to a satisfactory conclusion."

Commends Parkway Plan And Urges Immediate Action

Editor Constitution: The great constructive idea of Mr. Ivan Allen and the chamber of commerce to utilize the calamity of the great fire for the city's greatest improvement, should have the co-operation of every citizen. To convert a strip of this present vast desolate burnt district into a beautiful boulevard connecting the city's north and south side park systems with a continuous parked avenue several miles in length, is a great and practical idea. It is an amazing opportunity calling for immediate action, and should not be complicated by the University High school, which is an entirely different proposition.

Let us work out the park idea and transform Atlanta from a city most inadequately provided with parks into one of the most beautiful and modern of American cities. City and county should join forces in this great enterprise and a mass meeting of citizens should immediately organize into a working body for the development of the proposition.

Page Says He Did Not Attack State Commission As Hazlehurst Said

Georgia Law to Be Blamed for Long Delay in Highway Work. Hopes to See the Work Under Way Before Very Long.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, May 24.—(Special.)—The difficulties in the way of carrying out a satisfactory program of good road work in Georgia, under federal aid, are not due to a lack of efficiency on part of the state highway commission, but a failure of the law to give them more authority and more money.

This is the opinion of Logan Waller Page, director of the office of public roads in the department of agriculture. Mr. Page today denied statements attributed to him by James Nisbet Hazlehurst, of Atlanta, in criticism of the commission. He recalled having talked to Mr. Hazlehurst and said the latter was very critical of the commission, but he was unwilling to have these aspersions attributed to him. The expressions put into his mouth by Mr. Hazlehurst, he said, were "unfounded, unauthorized and incorrect."

"The fault is with the Georgia law, and not its highway commission," says Director Page.

He points out these defects:

1. Failure to give the state highway commission sufficient leeway.

2. Failure to provide adequate funds with which to operate.

Mr. Page today addressed the following letter to the editor of The Constitution correcting statements attributed to him by Mr. Hazlehurst in a communication from the latter:

United States Department of Agriculture, Office of Public Roads and Rural Engineering—Washington, D. C., May 23, 1917.—Hon. Clark Howell, Editor, The Atlanta Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.—Dear Sir: My attention has been called to a communication, signed by Mr. James Nisbet Hazlehurst, and appearing in a recent issue of The Constitution, in which Mr. Hazlehurst refers to a conversation with me and undertakes to present my views concerning the state highway department, the management of road work by counties, and the road situation generally in Georgia.

Mr. Hazlehurst's statements with reference to my views are unfounded, unauthorized and incorrect. I have no criticism whatever to make of the state highway commission of Georgia. I have no knowledge of any deadlock among the members of the commission, such as Mr. Hazlehurst mentions, and I have no fault to find with Fulton county in connection with the arrangement under which this office co-operated with the county last year.

I do think it desirable in all states that the highway department have adequate powers granted it by law, and that the state provide funds with which to aid the counties in road work. I realize, however, that some constitutional questions enter into the problem in Georgia and that these must be taken into account.

It is my earnest desire to co-operate to the fullest possible extent with the state highway commission of Georgia, and the relations between this office and the highway commission of Georgia have been most harmonious.

My only suggestion is that when the legislature meets it give most earnest attention to ways and means of upholding and strengthening the highway commission in its work. L. W. PAGE, Director.

Where the Blame Lies.

In an effort to clear up the uncertainty as to the cause for the delay in getting good road work under way in Georgia, I sought Director Page to learn what is the real reason for the several postponements and where the blame lies.

He was quite positive that the work of preparation is moving as rapidly as possible in view of the requirements of the federal statute which limits federal aid to "post roads" or those in regard to which there is a "reasonable prospect that the road will be used as a rural route" upon being improved.

"I have never criticised the Georgia state highway commission," said Mr. Page. "I have no doubt they are doing all that they can possibly do under the law. Chairman Patterson has made five or six trips to Washington and has shown the keenest interest in the work. Professor Strahan, of the state commission, is a wonderful man—as fine a man as one would want to work with. There is no possible criticism of any member of the commission. They are the men to be consulted as to what the needs in Georgia are. They probably realize the defects of the law under which they are working far better than I do. They have never complained of them to me.

"Georgia was one of the first states to file its statement of projects covering the five years' program. The commission is now working out with the district engineers of this office the details of those projects."

"Has there been any unusual delay in beginning actual work of construction in Georgia?" I asked.

"No," he replied. "The secretary of agriculture must first approve a statement. Then the state makes a survey and prepares plans and estimates of cost. If we agree with the state officials, the work is begun. The question as to what is a post road, and, therefore, subject to improvement, must, in every case, be fought out with the district engineers."

Under the federal statute the department of agriculture cannot negotiate with individual counties as to road work, but must treat with the state highway commission. If the funds appropriated by congress for work in Georgia, which amount must be duplicated by the state, is divided by 157 the result will be that only a few hundred yards of improved road can be constructed in each department.

Georgia will not lose her apportionment of $134,329 because of the delay in beginning work. A part of the lost time was due to the delay in getting an opinion from the attorney general of the United States as to what is a post road, within the meaning of the act of congress. That decision has already been communicated to the state highway departments of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina and Tennessee, constituting District No. 3, by J. P. Bulen, district engineer, and was published in The Constitution of May 17 last.

Can Now Go Ahead.

This decision, which has an immediate bearing upon the Atlanta-Macon highway, sets forth that "In order that a road may be accepted as a project under the federal aid road act, it is not necessary that mail shall be carried on the road throughout its entire length prior to the construction of the road." Each separate case shall be decided upon its merits. If the secretary of agriculture finds that "a substantial part of the road is used as a rural route before improvement and there is a reasonable prospect that the road will be used as a rural route throughout its entire length immediately or within a reasonable time after its improvement," it may be held to be a post road and subject to improvement.

Following this decision the district engineers and the state highway commission got together to study the facts and see if the Atlanta-Macon highway met the requirements of the law.

After a lengthy interview with Director Page I am satisfied it is the purpose of the office of public roads and rural engineering to go the limit in co-operating with the Georgia commission. The department here realizes the handicap under which Georgia labors because of the constitutional provision against the state engaging in works of internal improvement. In comparison with states which are appropriating vast sums for highway work and bonding themselves heavily to do it, the Georgia work must proceed slowly. New York state has issued $50,000,000 of bonds for road work, California has raised $15,000,000 by bond issues for this purpose and Maryland about $6,000,000. The roads improved by federal aid in these states is but a small part of their highway work. South Carolina, on the other hand, is in the same position as Georgia, and Alabama is even worse off.

ASKS FOR HEARING IN RAILROAD CASE

President Warfield, of Association of Railroad Securities Owners, Makes Request of Commerce Commission.

Baltimore, Md., May 24.—(Special.)—Less than twenty-four hours after its organization, the National Association of Owners of Railroad Securities, through its president, S. Davies Warfield, who is also president of the Continental Trust company of this city, and one of the largest individual owners of railroad securities in the south, addressed a communication to the interstate commerce commission requesting permission for the security holders in the American railroad systems to present their view as to the needs of the carriers for an increase of 15 per cent in freight rates. This action follows the organization here yesterday of the National Association of Owners of Railroad Securities by 500 prominent bank and trust company and insurance company officials and representative business men whose action was backed by three billion dollars of capital, one-fifth of the total invested in the carriers.

Letter to Hall.

President Warfield, in a letter to Chairman Hall, of the interstate commerce commission, stated that he had been authorized to appoint a committee to appear in the present rate case and also stated, "We shall be glad, if it suits your convenience, to appear towards the end of the present hearing in order that time may be had to prepare to present to the commission such facts concerning the relation between the credit of the carriers and their rates and the part railroad credit plays in economy in the operations of the carriers as in the judgment of the association should be presented for your consideration."

In his first public statement, President Warfield said:

"The remarkable gathering held yesterday in Baltimore of men from every section of the country owning directly or representing great investments in railroad securities demonstrates the fact that owners of securities of the railroads are aroused to the necessity of concerted action for the protection of their interests. It was particularly gratifying to have such an able and extended representation from the great life insurance companies and savings banks of the country. These institutions, with their large clientele throughout the entire country, represent the greatest ownership in the securities of the railroads. Furthermore, they represent the small investor through either life insurance policies on the one hand and deposits in savings banks on the other.

"The work of this association entails great responsibility. It occupies in a large measure fiduciary relations with those who become associated with it as members. I have hesitated to undertake it, but having done so I ask the co-operation of every class of investor in the securities of the railroads."

To Stabilize Railroad Credit.

The association will aim to stabilize railroad credit in the interest of national property and defense. The owners of the properties realize, according to Mr. Warfield, that the additional burden of expense which the railroads have had to assume this year, over last, has had a depressing effect on their credit. He said that in many instances it costs the companies as much as 7 per cent for new financing, whereas if they received sufficient compensation for service performed capital could be obtained possibly for less than 5 per cent, and this difference in the cost of capital would have an important bearing on rates and service to the public.

The National Association of Owners of Railroad Securities will have five vice presidents in each of the geographical sections of the country. There will also be a general committee of two security holders in each state. Headquarters will be established in Baltimore.

INTEREST GROWING IN GOLDEN JUBILEE AT COLORED CHURCH

Interest in the golden jubilee exercises at the First Congregational church, colored, continues, despite the interruption on account of the recent great fire, in which so many of the members of the church suffered.

Last night addresses were made by Rev. H. M. Kingsley, of Talladega, Ala.; Professor E. H. Webster, of Atlanta university; Rev. Ernest Hall, of this city, and Dr. W. G. Alexander, of Valdosta, who conducted the devotional exercises.

Tonight is young people's night and addresses will be made by Rev. G. Lake Imes, of Tuskegee, Ala.; Rev. F. A. Sumner, president Talladega college, Talladega, Ala., and Professor Kelly Miller, of Howard university, Washington, D. C. There will be a musical program preceding the addresses, in which some of the leading singers of the colored race will take part.

LOANS ARE OFFERED TO REBUILD HOUSES DESTROYED BY BLAZE

Samuel T. Weyman, of Weyman & Connors, local correspondents for the Penn Mutual Life Insurance company, of Philadelphia, announced yesterday that he had received notice from the Penn Mutual officials that the company had decided to make construction loans on buildings to be erected in Atlanta's burned zone. For the past three years, due to war conditions, the company has not made loans anywhere in the country, but it intends making Atlanta's burned district an exception to this rule.

"The Penn Mutual Life Insurance company," stated Mr. Weyman, "has more loans and aggregating a larger amount than any other insurance company which operates in Atlanta, and in the burned districts were many loans held by them, amply protected in each case, of course, by fire insurance. As an evidence of the desire of the company to do all that is possible to help the present situation, as well as to show their continued confidence in Atlanta as an investment point, word has just been received from Mr. J. W. Hamer, third vice president of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance company, stating that while during the war period the company is not prepared to consider construction loans anywhere in the country, it will make an exception for Atlanta dwellings in the burned district."

Hugh Willet, of the firm of Bagley & Willet, general agents of the company, stated that the company has insurance in force on the lives of Atlanta residents aggregating about $5,000,000 and a total in Georgia of over $36,000,000.

Definite Plan Is Urged To Increase Production Of Foodstuffs in Dixie

In a recent letter to the department of agriculture at Washington J. T. Holleman, president of the Southern Mortgage company, of Atlanta, stresses the importance of a definite plan of action as a means to bring about increased production of foodstuffs and feedstuffs in the south and declares that all plans heretofore adopted by the government have left untouched the real southern farmer. He states that it is a mistake to depend on moral suasion to bring about this result.

The following is an extract from the letter:

"Mr. Secretary, you have not yet touched the cotton farmer, the big land owner, the great cotton planter, who, themselves, or through their innumerable tenants, produce or cause the production of the cotton crop and prevent the production of food crops and the raising of live stock. No, these men have not yet been reached. They are going forward as usual. It is said that on the battle fields of Europe the birds and other wild things of the fields and forests are undisturbed by the roar and carnage of war. They seek their food and build their nests and rear their young unmindful of it all. So with the southern cotton growers. They heard the big guns fired by President Wilson, by the secretary of agriculture, by Vrooman and Pinchot and many others. They have heard the cannonade of the newspapers, the gun-fire of chambers of commerce and bankers, and the pistol popping of the women and children in the home gardens. But the curtain fire has not yet reached the cotton farmers. The Hindenburg line is not more formidable than the line behind which the cotton farmers are entrenched. Hindenburg built his line amid the tumult and stress of battle, and built it hastily. The fortifications of the cotton farmer have been building more than fifty years, and have withstood every assault made upon them. If the men and newspapers who are so concerned about sending American soldiers to Europe at this time would devote their thought and energy to the food situation in the south, they would serve their country better.

A survey should at once be made for the purpose of ascertaining who owns the cotton plantations of the south. And it will be found that the men who own these lands do not live on them at all. They live in the villages, towns and cities. You might begin with the southern senators and congressmen in Washington, list them and their cotton plantations, then come down to southern governors, judges, bankers, merchants, cotton mill owners, etc. These are the men responsible for all-cotton farming. Such reports as have been made show a reduction in cotton acreage of little more than 2 per cent. This reduction has been caused, not by the war, but by the boll weevil. I charge that no material reduction in cotton acreage will be made this year. No arguments have yet been made and no plans yet proposed that will avail against cotton at 20 cents a pound. Whatever is to be done should be done quickly. When this month passes it will be too late."

In reply to this letter D. L. Houston, secretary of the department of agriculture, stated that the department, while doing everything in its power to increase food and feed production in the south, was greatly hampered by existing conditions, but he added that the passage of a bill now pending in congress will, if enacted, enable the department to greatly extend its co-operative demonstration work throughout the country. He added that the department was confronted with many difficult problems and that all suggestions of this kind were appreciated.

GEORGIA SURGEONS TO HOLD MEETING HERE ON MAY 28

The Georgia Surgeons' club will hold its annual meeting in Atlanta May 28-29 at the Ansley hotel.

Doctors from all parts of Georgia will be present and among the prominent speakers will be Dr. John A. Bodine and Charles H. Chetwood, both of New York, who are two of America's most prominent surgeons. They will illustrate their lectures with motion pictures.

Prominent Atlanta doctors and physicians from all parts of the state will lecture at local hospitals and on Monday night the Atlanta doctors will give a supper in honor of the visitors.

Following are the officers of the organization: E. C. Davis, M. D., Atlanta, president; Thomas J. McArthur, M. D., Cordele, vice president; R. M. Harbin, M. D., Rome, secretary-treasurer. Executive committee: W. S. Goldsmith, M. D., Atlanta; G. R. White, M. D., Savannah, and W. W. Battey, M. D., Augusta. Committee on arrangements: Drs. E. G. Jones, J. M. Ellis and E. P. Merritt.

Concentration Camp Sites Are Discussed By Safety Committee

The public safety committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce held a meeting yesterday morning in the chamber of commerce hall and discussed the sites under consideration for the concentration camp which the committee is working to bring to Atlanta.

The committee has had detailed maps of each site drawn by B. M. Hall, showing every natural advantage of the location. All of the sites are favorably located.

Preston S. Arkwright stated that the Georgia Railway and Power company would furnish light and car connections to the sites under consideration. The committee is considering the supplying of those sites not on water mains, with water. Zode Smith, superintendent of waterworks, has visited these sites and made estimates as to the expense of extending the water mains, which will be taken up at the next meeting of the committee.

DEALER IN GASOLINE OFFERS PERCENTAGE TO THE RED CROSS

R. N. Reid, proprietor of three of Atlanta's largest gasoline filling stations, has offered to the Atlanta Red Cross association 1 cent on every gallon of gasoline sold at his places of business beginning this morning. The money will be devoted to relief work for the Atlanta fire sufferers, and it is expected that it will amount to a considerable sum.

PRESBYTERIANS TAKE STEP TOWARD REUNION

Southern Church Appoints a Committee to Confer With Northern Branch.

Birmingham, Ala., May 24.—Having disposed of church union proposition, by appointing a committee to confer with a like committee from the northern branch, and the completion of all other business before it, the fifty-seventh general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States was dissolved late this afternoon, and another assembly ordered to meet at Durant, Okla., on May 16, 1918.

Both sessions of the closing day were crowded with business, but before recess was taken for lunch the assembly had completed its discussion of the appointment of a committee on organic union requested by the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, and had adopted the paper of the Rev. Thornton L. Whaling, offered on Wednesday, as the action in this matter. The paper had first been substituted for the minority report of the special committee, also presented on Wednesday with the majority committee report. When this substitution had been effected the vote was taken between the majority report and the substitute offered by Dr. Whaling, and the latter was adopted, 141 to 42.

Report As Adopted.

The report as adopted reads:

"While the assembly does not regard organic union as practicable, yet it hereby appoints the committee of conference on union asked for by the assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, and recommends to the proposed conference the consideration of the federation of all the Presbyterian churches of our country upon some practical and effective basis."

The church union question was taken up at the morning session as unfinished business and many of the commissioners participated in the discussion, each report, majority and minority, as well as the substitute, having its advocates. Two other substitutes were submitted, one by Dr. E. R. Loyburn and another by Dr. C. W. Grafton, but the assembly was adverse to both papers.

Later in the day a motion was carried that a telegram be sent to the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., informing that body of the action of this assembly, and a committee of seven members appointed to confer with a like committee from the northern branch. Those composing the committee are Dr. J. M. Wells, moderator for the ensuing year; Dr. Thornton L. Whaling, Dr. A. B. Curry, Dr. W. R. Dobyns, Dr. J. B. Hutton, Dr. Homer McMillan and Dr. A. M. Fraser. Dr. Wells will act as chairman.

Paper Warmly Discussed.

Animated discussion preceded the adoption of the paper, which becomes the voice of the assembly, the speakers for each side presenting strong argument in favor of the stand taken. The charge of inconsistency in the wording of the paper adopted was made, in view of its beginning with the statement that the assembly believes organic union is impracticable at this time, and then recommending the appointment of a committee on the proposition. Plea was made that if the assembly believes organic union is not practicable it would express its belief flatly and refuse positively to appoint the desired committee. On the other hand the opinion was expressed that failure to appoint a committee on organic union would cause the assembly to be accused of provincialism.

A committee was appointed for the purpose of determining the relation of the American Bible society to the general assembly and to report its finding to the next assembly.

An overture presented to the assembly asking for a reversion of the action of the assembly of 1916 touching woman's position in the church was placed on the docket to be considered at the assembly of next year. This question precipitated one of the most heated discussions in the history of the church at last year's assembly, it was said, and a reopening of the subject promises the basis for further discussion of great interest to the entire church.

NORTHERN CHURCH VOTES TO MEET IN COLUMBUS.

Dallas, Texas, May 24.—The general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America (North) today voted unanimously to hold the 1918 assembly at Columbus, Ohio.

EMORY COMMENCEMENT TO OPEN NEXT SUNDAY

The commencement exercises of the professional schools of Emory university, all of which are located in Atlanta, will begin with the commencement sermon in the auditorium of Wesley Memorial church at 11 o'clock Sunday.

The sermon will be preached by the celebrated president of Oberlin university, Rev. Henry Churchill King, D. D., the subject of his discourse being, "Citizens of a New Civilization."

In the afternoon of Sunday the beautiful and imposing chapel of the School of Theology will be dedicated, Chancellor Candler preaching the dedicatory sermon. The pulpit which will be used on this occasion is one made for John Wesley, from which he preached often in the open air at Winterbourne, Wales. It was purchased by L. B. Robeson, a graduate of Emory, and presented to the university.

On Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock, the commencement address will be delivered by Dr. Clarence Victor Vaughan, of the University of Michigan, and at the conclusion of the address the degrees of doctor of medicine and bachelor of theology will be conferred.

MERCURY WILL CLIMB INTO EIGHTIES TODAY

A rapidly rising thermometer, reaching into the eighties during the afternoon, and a continuance of fair weather is the forecast of the local weather bureau for today. Thursday morning was unusually cold, but the mercury was some degrees higher than the coldest of two weeks ago, the minimum being 48 degrees Thursday morning.

Fair weather prevailed Thursday over the greater part of the country east of the Mississippi river, a little rain having fallen at a few stations on the south Atlantic coast and at Buffalo. Asheville, N. C., reported a light frost, as did several stations in the north and northwest.

New Discovery Ends Corn Misery--- Touch a Corn with Ice-Mint, Then Lift It Right Off---It Won't Hurt a Bit

Soreness Stops Quickly, then the Corn Shrivels and Lifts Off—Try It and See.

Here is the real "Corn Killer" at last. Say good-bye to your old corn salve and plasters for that Pet Corn of yours is sure to be a "Goner" if it ever feels the Magic touch of Ice-mint. This is a new discovery made from a Japanese product and it is certainly a wonder the way it ends corn misery. From the very second that Ice-mint touches that sore, tender corn your poor tired, aching feet will feel so cool, easy and comfortable that you will just sigh with relief. Think of it; only a little touch of that cooling, soothing Ice-mint and real foot joy is yours. No pain, not a bit of soreness, either when applying it or afterwards and it doesn't even irritate the skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also toughened callouses just shrivel up and lift off so easy. It is wonderful! Just ask in any Drug Store for a little Ice-mint and give your poor, suffering, tired feet the treat of their lives. There is nothing better, or nothing "just as good."

RAILROAD PRESIDENTS QUIZZED ON STATISTICS

Markham, of Illinois, Admits Road Could Live Without Increased Rates.

Washington, May 24.—Railroad executives from widely separated sections of the country appeared today at the interstate commerce commission hearings on the carriers' petition for a 15 per cent advance in freight rates and submitted to vigorous cross-examination by counsel for shippers.

The shippers' representatives probed into the finances of the railroads, trying to get the executives to say that the emergency the railroads claim exists does not affect every line.

Henry Walters, chairman of the board of the Atlantic Coast Line, was asked how much stock of the Louisville and Nashville his line controlled. He replied that it was more than 50 per cent. It was a fact, he said, that the increase in net revenue of the Atlantic Coast Line was greater during the first three months of this year than in the corresponding period of 1916, but additional expenses which the road must stand did not show in the reports.

Net Revenue Larger.

Mr. Walters added that while there was no doubt that the net revenues of the line would be larger this year than last, they would not be sufficient to meet the increased costs.

"Is that a prediction based upon probabilities?" he was asked.

"No," was the reply; "it is based principally upon contracts."

"The witness said the accumulated surplus of the Atlantic Coast Line was about $35,000,000, of which $20,000,000 was in cash, and of that sum $14,000,000 had been appropriated. He agreed with the examiner that the partial purpose of a surplus was to tide railroads over lean years and meet emergencies.

"In view of the fact that you control, through stock ownership, at least 51 per cent of the stock of the Louisville and Nashville, would it not be practicable, in order to meet the existing situation and in view of the fact that the Louisville and Nashville earned 19 per cent last year, to have that line pay you more dividends?" Mr. Walters was asked.

"We have never undertaken to control the L. & N.," he replied.

Questioning then turned back to surplus and Mr. Walters said he considered the Atlantic Coast Line was better situated than some of its neighbors.

"Then you think the emergency is on the other roads and not on yours?"

"It depends upon how long it will last," he said.

Declared Extra Dividend.

T. C. Powell, vice president of the Queen and Crescent, in response to questioning, said that last week his company declared a regular dividend of 3 per cent on the common stock and an extra dividend of 3½ per cent.

"You claim an emergency exists," said the questioner. "If that is so why have you seen fit to further deplete the funds of your road by declaring an extra dividend, and is the burden which has caused you to come before this commission not sufficient to have caused you to abandon that extra dividend?"

Mr. Powell said the dividend was regarded by the directors as a duty to the stockholders.

Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the Southern Pacific, was questioned first regarding the timber lands owned by the system. Mr. Thorne introduced figures he said were compiled by the government showing that the Southern Pacific owns one-twentieth of all the privately owned timber lands in the country. Mr. Kruttschnitt said it was true that the Southern Pacific's return on the capital stock last year was slightly over 12 per cent and the greatest return in its history.

Cross-examination of railroad executives will be concluded tomorrow.

FLAMES WILL NOT PREVENT GATHERING OF ROTARIANS HERE

Despite handicaps imposed by the fire, it was definitely decided at a meeting yesterday in the Piedmont hotel that the 1917 Rotary convention would be held in Atlanta as scheduled.

Many offers of aid from Rotary clubs, which thought the fire area had extended across most of the city, were received by the Atlanta organization.

Grateful replies were sent to the senders of each offer, together with word of assurance that the fire would not interfere with convention plans, nor deter the efforts of Atlanta Rotarians to make it the most rousing meeting in the history of the order.

James A. Macdonald, editor of The Toronto Globe, is one of the noted newspaper men who has accepted an invitation to speak at the convention of the International Association of Rotary clubs to be held in Atlanta June 17 to 21. Mr. Macdonald is one of the foremost editors on the American continent.

Mr. Macdonald's definite promise to be present came in a letter to Albert S. Adams, chairman of the executive committee.

"Long ago," wrote Mr. Macdonald, "I promised to lend a hand to this program. I shall stick to that program in spite of wars and all their horrors."

One of the big features of the Rotary convention will be an immense patriotic meeting at which General Leonard Wood will be the principal speaker. Theodore Roosevelt also is expected to be a speaker at this meeting.

Exercises at Tifton.

Tifton, Ga., May 24.—(Special.)—The faculty of the Second District Agricultural and Mechanical school will be re-elected without opposition. The term closed with the commencement exercises today. There were 26 graduates this year and the attendance was from 12 of the 18 counties composing the district. The literary address was delivered by Colonel Levy Rogers, of Ocilla. The diplomas were presented by Mr. J. L. Pickard, of the board of trustees. Rev. Lamar Sims, of Albany, preached the commencement sermon Sunday. The senior class gave a play Monday evening and the Alumni-ae association had a banquet Monday night. Monday there were exhibitions of the domestic science and art departments. The board of trustees, acting through the local executive committee, will re-elect the entire faculty, headed by S. L. Lewis, principal; J. M. Thrash, mathematics and mechanics; J. H. Breedlove, agricultural science; Mrs. J. J. Crumley, domestic science and domestic arts; Miss Nanette Rozar, English; Miss Viola Perry, normal course; Miss Lucile Sasser, piano and voice; Miss Anna Olive Repass, expression and art; Miss Dora Owens, library and dining hall, and A. H. Hasty, farm superintendent.

BURNED CHURCHES WILL BE REBUILT

Westminster Presbyterian, Grace Methodist and Jackson Hill Baptist Hold Services Next Sunday.

Undismayed by the fire which destroyed their wonted places of worship last Monday, the congregations of the three white churches in the burned area, the Westminster Presbyterian, Grace Methodist and Jackson Hill Baptist, have made arrangements to hold services next Sunday so that there may be absolutely no break in the regular assembling together of their respective memberships.

Dr. A. A. Little, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian, said Thursday night that it was the intention of his church to continue services right on the lot where the ruins of their former edifice stands. It was their plan to have a tent in readiness by Sunday, where they would go right ahead with their Sunday school service at 9:30 o'clock and preaching at 11 o'clock, as usual. It would be impossible to hold a night service the first Sunday, he thought, because they could not have the tent wired and furnished with lights by that time.

As soon as possible the church will be rebuilt. At a meeting of the officers of the church in the Marion hotel, a committee on relief was appointed for members of the congregation whose houses were destroyed, of which committee J. Guy O'Dell is chairman. He can be reached at the Third National bank, Ivy 7000.

The stewards of the Grace Methodist church have arranged to have a service at the Forrest avenue school at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, when there will be preaching by the pastor, the Rev. Luke G. Johnson.

Plans are already being laid for rebuilding this church. It is not considered likely that it will be rebuilt on the same ground, but nearer Ponce de Leon avenue, where it will be more convenient to a majority of the members. The church had $30,000 insurance on the church building proper and the parsonage, which will be used as a nucleus in building a new church.

Although quite a number of sister Baptist churches in the city, including the Second Baptist and the Ponce de Leon avenue church, have invited the Jackson Hill congregation to worship with them next Sunday, the Rev. Harold Major, the pastor, said Thursday night that it was the intention to hold services in the burned district, so as to keep the congregation as much together as possible.

While the plans had not been definitely settled, it was proposed to hold a service in a tent on the Nelson lawn, on North Boulevard between Highland and East avenues. While it was not certain that the church would be rebuilt on the same lot as formerly, it would be in the same community.

Not only were the houses of worship destroyed by the fire, but the pastors of all three of the burned churches lost their homes. Since the fire they have been temporarily cared for, with their families, in the houses of friends.

SMOKE BOMBS USED AGAINST SUBMARINES

New York, May 24.—Smoke bombs, designed to protect merchant vessels from submarine attacks, are being used on vessels passing through the war zone, according to information brought to an American port today on a French ship. The bombs are thrown by hand and on striking the water ignite and throw out a dense cloud of black vapor which hangs low over the water like fog. They will burn for more than an hour and are said to be effective in screening the movements of a vessel in danger of attack.

CARPENTER SAYS HE IS DOING TWICE THE WORK HE ONCE DID

"It's All Due to Tanlac," Says R. B. Edmonds—Suffered for Years and Was in Awful Shape.

"I never expect to be without Tanlac as long as I am able to buy it," said R. B. Edmonds, a well-known carpenter of Bakewell, Tenn., a few days ago.

"For five long years I've been bothered with a bad stomach trouble," he continued, "which kept getting worse and worse, until I got in an awful run-down condition. I was all out of fix. Everything I'd eat made me feel like there was a big lump in my stomach. There was a lot of gas, too, which caused dreadful pains and kept me all the time trying to belch, and I suffered so much I'd have to quit work and keep quiet for a while. Then I got so nervous I could hardly lie in bed for I would roll and toss for hours at a time and in the morning I got up all fagged out with a bad taste in my mouth. I never seemed to care whether I had my breakfast or not and I never felt like going to work either.

"One day I decided to try Tanac and, it's a fact, four bottles of it has relieved all my stomach troubles. There's no more gas or belching and everything I eat sets well on my stomach. They don't have to call me the second time to come to breakfast, and I sure do enjoy sitting down to a good meal. I sleep like a log all night and wake up in the morning feeling fine and I'm doing twice as much work as I did before and don't feel fagged out either. I feel better than I have in years and I know it's all due to Tanlac. My wife took it, too, after seeing what it did for me and she's gained eight pounds and feels like a new woman. We both talk Tanlac all the time because we know what it will do."

LITTLE LOCALS ABOUT THINGS OF CITY INTEREST

Thursday at the state capitol was chiefly notable for the number of distinguished legislators in teh city, among whom were Senators Burnside, Lawrence, Smith and McLaughlin, and Colonel Sam Olive, of Augusta, candidate for the presidency of the next senate. All of them called upon Mrs. Louise Marsh, stenographer to the state senate, and assured her that, beyond any shadow of peradventure, the country is safe.

Dr. J. J. Hall returned yesterday from New York and Washington, to find his home burned to the ground. All his effects went up in smoke. Mrs. Hall and Miss Edith had been taken to a place of safety, but the home, 321 North Boulevard, was in the very center of the great fire. Dr. Hall's present address is 149 West Peachtree street.

R. E. Ferguson, of East Atlanta, 70 years old, was struck by an automobile on Marietta street, near Forsyth, Thursday morning and taken to Grady hospital, but escaped injury. The car which struck him was driven by C. J. Gaines, of Kingston, Ga., against whom a case was made by the police. His trial was set for Thursday week.

The colored women of the third ward under the auspices of the relief committee will begin a campaign this morning soliciting bed linen and such articles for the fire sufferers and ask the co-operation of all sympathizers of the third ward.

Due to the new chamber of commerce organizations which have been recently organized throughout the state, the Georgia Chamber of Commerce is receiving numerous inquiries for secretaries of the commercial organizations, and the Georgia chamber will be glad to receive information of anyone available to accept these positions. References must be furnished by the applicant.

EX-QUEEN RANAVALONA, OF MADAGASCAR, DIES

Algiers, May 24.—(Via Paris.)—Former Queen Ranavalona, of Madagascar, is dead at her home here.

Queen Ranavalona had been living in exile in Algiers since 1896, when she was deposed by the French following anti-Christian outbreaks in Madagascar. Queen Ranavalona succeeded an aunt of the same name as ruler of Madagascar in July, 1883. The island was at that time a French protectorate, but the native government was abolished by the French military authorities after the uprising of 1896. It was during the French campaigns in Madagascar that Marshal Joffre laid the foundations of his military reputation.

SUBMARINES DODGED BY FRENCH MISSION

Paris, May 24.—The steamer on which Marshal Joffre, former Premier Viviani and the other members of the French mission to the United States, returned to France, changed her course shortly before reaching port owing to the reported presence of German submarines in the vicinity, according to The Temps today.

The warning, says the newspaper, was received off Ushant, when the wireless reported that one or two German submarines had succeeded in sinking three cargo steamers in the same day in the locality in question.

Lynching Condemned.

Memphis, Tenn., May 24.—A resolution condemning the lynching near Memphis on Tuesday of Ell Persons, the negro who confessed to the brutal murder of 15-year-old Antoinette Raphal, were adopted at a meeting of approximately 25 pastors, representing various creeds and denominations, here today. The meeting was held behind closed doors.

REBUILDING PLANS WILL BE DISCUSSED

Property Owners of Burned District Will Hold Meeting This Evening.

The resolution introduced in council Tuesday to establish a big park in the burned district in the fourth ward will be discussed at a meeting at 8 o'clock tonight, in the auditorium of the North Avenue school, corner of North avenue and Hunt street.

A big rally of property owners all along North Jackson, Boulevard and the other streets where houses were burned, is to be held at this time, and every plan that has been suggested for rebuilding the fourth ward will be thrashed out.

One movement likely to meet with enthusiasm on the part of the property owners is the plan of council to build, at the southern end of the ward, a big park, separating the negro district from that of the white. This scheme, of course, will have to be carried out by an agreement between the leaders of the two races who reside in this section.

The proposed plan of uniting all of the city's various high schools and building one big central high school, with playgrounds, and parks surrounding, in the Boulevard district, is likely to meet with favor from the fourth warders.

JACKSON'S PICTURE SAVED FROM BLAZE BY PETERS FAMILY

One of the best stories told about the recent disastrous fire comes from Thomas Peters, a pioneer citizen, whose home was totally destroyed at No. 378 Forrest avenue.

"I had in my home," states Mr. Peters, "a picture showing Stonewall Jackson holding a prayer meeting with several other noted confederate officers present. Just after the war between the states, when this picture was first printed, the national government ordered the plate destroyed and made it an offense against the law for any person to have a copy of the picture in his possession. My sister had a copy and she preserved it by hiding it between mattresses. When I was trying to save some of my most treasured household effects last Monday I went up a ladder when everything was scorching hot and got my confederate picture and laid it in the yard for some of my folks to pick up. After the fire I asked about the picture and was told that it had been buried in the yard of our home to save it. When the fire cooled off I went into the yard and dug up my valued picture and it was not even scratched."

SOCIETY

Missionary Societies To Aid Red Cross Work.

Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin has accepted the chairmanship of the church missionary societies in an organized movement to help the Red Cross society, the movement to be known as Red Cross Auxiliary of Church Missionary Societies. In order to save time for the women of these organizations, the majority of whom are faithful workers in many directions, the plan agreed upon is that the president of each missionary society shall appoint a chairman to represent that society in the auxiliary. It shall be the duty of that chairman to communicate with every member of her missionary society and ask that she give one garment of a practical nature, to be purchased or made by the member herself. These garments will then be sent to the chairman of that church society at the church at a time to be named by each chairman.

Then these garments will be put in a package, marked with the name of the church society, collected by a committee and sent directly to the distribution center of the local Red Cross society.

Mrs. Lumpkin urges that presidents of all church missionary societies in the organization known as the Atlanta Missionary Societies, at once appoint chairmen who will take up this work, and proceed with the making and collecting of the garments. Chairmen will report their progress to their society presidents, and the presidents in turn will report to Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin.

To Mrs. Henry.

One of the prettiest of the many parties in honor of Mrs. William L. Henry, a recent bride, was the afternoon bridge given yesterday by Mrs. Thomas H. Morgan at her home.

That prettiest of the May flowers, the Dorothy Perkins rose, was used in decoration, and its color was continued in hospitable detail. A dainty luncheon was served.

Mrs. Morgan was gowned in taupe chiffon over rose color, with finish in gold. Mrs. Henry wore a smart white pongee with finish in color, and her hat was in becoming harmony. Mrs. Edward S. Lewis wore white taffeta and chiffon.

Alumnae of Lucy Cobb To Meet in Athens Today.

Mrs. Alfred C. Newell will head a group of Atlanta's most prominent women to leave today for Athens, Ga., to attend the annual meeting of the Alumnae association of the Lucy Cobb institute. Mrs. Newell is president of the association, and attending the meeting will be large delegations from all sections of Georgia and from many places outside of Georgia.

Mrs. Katherine Tift Jones will make the annual address at the banquet which will follow the day sessions devoted to discussion of the business of the alumnae.

Among the Atlanta women who will attend the meeting are Mrs. Clark Howell, Mrs. Hugh Dorsey, Mrs. Mell Wilkinson, Mrs. Wilmer Moore, Mrs. Quill Orme, Mrs. R. O. Campbell, Mrs. Robert Foreman, Mrs. Richard Johnston, Mrs. Hollins Randolph, Mrs. Reuben Arnold, Mrs. Ulric Atkinson, Mrs. George Cady, Mrs. Charles Seidell, Mrs. Vassar Wooley, Mrs. Stephens Hook, Mrs. Shepard Bryan, Mrs. Maud Barker Cobb, Mrs. W. D. Ellis, Jr., Mrs. Ben Watkins, Mrs. Charles McGehee.

Atlanta Chapter To Hold Open House.

Mrs. Howard McCall, state regent, requests the ladies who were to meet at her home on Friday afternoon to decide on the definite plans for the D. A. R. war relief work and the formation of D. A. R. auxiliaries to the Red Cross society, to meet her at the residence of Mrs. Charles Rice, who has kindly offered her home after the burning of Mrs. McCall's on Monday.

Those who will be present are the regents, vice regents and chairmen of the boards of the Atlanta chapter, Joseph Habersham chapter and Piedmont chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution: Mrs. Charles Rice, Mrs. William Hurd Hillyer, Mrs. J. B. Robers, Mrs. Joseph Morgan, Mrs. John Marshall Slaton, Mrs. C. L. Dean, Mrs. Charles Davis, Mrs. W. F. Dykes, Mrs. J. T. Harwell, Mrs. P. H. Mell, Mrs. George L. Pratt, Mrs. W. S. Coleman, Mrs. John A. Perdue, Mrs. Minnie E. Hogan, Mrs. James D. Carter, Mrs. Lewis D. Lowe and Mrs. Sheppard W. Foster.

The Atlanta chapter has offered to keep open house in their chapter house this summer, so that the three Atlanta D. A. R. chapters can accomplish more by co-operation in Red Cross and war relief work.

Concert and Supper at Capital City Country Club.

The success of last Sunday evening's entertainment at the Capital City Country club will be repeated next Sunday in a concert and supper on the terrace.

An orchestra will present a bright program from 6:30 to 8:30 o'clock, and supper will be served at 7:30 o'clock. It is requested that reservations be made by Saturday noon.

Lawn Fete.

A beautiful entertainment yesterday was the lawn fete at "Mildorella," the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Harmon at East Lake, the occasion handled by one of the auxiliaries to the Red Cross.

Music and aesthetic dancing formed an enjoyable program, the feature a group of songs by Miss Dorothy Harmon, who has recently returned from a winter study in New York, and whose lovely voice was heard to advantage in a selection of ballads.

Other beautiful music was rendered by Miss Voorhees, violinist; Miss Louise Richardson, soprano, and Miss Douglas Paine and Miss Jennie Johnson, who danced.

Serving punch were: Miss Virginia Ashe, Miss Mariana Goldsmith, Miss Helen Whitehurst, Miss Nora Stirling, Miss Margaret Rogers and Miss Katherine Hook.

Patriotic Party.

John Collier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Collier, was the handsome honor guest at a party given yesterday by his grandfather, Mr. F. J. Spratling, and the occasion was a delightful one, assembling fifty boys and girls to celebrate the fifth birthday of Master Collier.

The national colors were observed in elaborate detail of decoration, favors and refreshments.

Smith-Chambers.

Mrs. M. J. Smith announces the marriage of her daughter, Leenette, to Mr. Chalmers Grady Chambers, on Sunday afternoon, May 20, Rev. C. L. Foote officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Chambers will be at home to their friends at 813 Hill street.

Wilson-Harber.

Mr. and Mrs. Manson Wilson have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, May Hall, to Mr. Paul Talfourd Harber, the wedding to take place at the residence, 470 Spring street, on the evening of June 6, at 8:30 o'clock.

Atlanta Woman's Club.

The executive board of the Atlanta Woman's club will meet this morning at 10 o'clock at the club house. This is the last meeting of the year, and Mrs. McEachern, the president, urges that all members be present.

Closing Recital.

The closing recital planned by the Barrill School of Music for Saturday afternoon has been called off on account of the fire.

Southern Univ. of Music.

The Southern University of Music announces for Saturday evening, May 26, a joint voice recital to be given by Miss Henrietta Keese, of Atlanta, and Miss Ariene Thrasher, of College Park. These two young ladies will be heard to good advantage in a program of well-selected numbers chosen from the works of both native and foreign writers. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Brown Guest Of Mrs. McAdoo.

Washington, May 24.—(Special)—Mrs. Brown, wife of Col. E. T. Brown, of Atlanta, who has been the guest of Mrs. McAdoo for a few days, after making a short visit in the white house, left last evening for her home. Colonel Brown, who is still a guest of the president, will not return to his home until the end of this week.

Catchings-Brogdon.

One of the most interesting June weddings will be that of Miss Louise Catchings and Mr. John Swift Brogdon, which will take place Saturday, June 16, at high noon at St. Mark Methodist church. Mrs. Thomas H. Shields, of Mississippi, and Mrs. Frederick A. Watt will be matrons of honor, and Miss Katherine Catchings, the bride's little niece, flower girl.

Mr. Will C. Dumas will be best man. The ushers will be Mr. Carl F. Dodd, Mr. Richard Kirk, Mr. E. Burton Cooks and Mr. Ray C. Werner. Mrs. William Owens will be the soloist.

The bride will be given away by her cousin, Mr. Robert S. Therrel, of Nashville, Tenn., and Dr. W. R. Hendrix will officiate.

In accordance with the wishes of the bride, there will be no pre-nuptial parties. After the ceremony the bridal party will be given a luncheon at the Winecoff.

Benefit for Fire Sufferers.

The junior high school students of the North Avenue Presbyterian school will do their "bit" for the children destitute and homeless from the fire by giving a play at the Georgia Tech Y. M. C. A. this afternoon at 5 o'clock. The students are now raising a fund for children who are among the fire sufferers, and at the play will ask their guests to make a freewill offering to swell the fund.

The play is one peculiarly suited to the present war situation, since it represents scenes from the warring countries. Doctors, Red Cross nurses, women munition workers, Uncle Sam and his new army, the food products, are among those who bow before the spirit of freedom. Below is a list of participants:

Margaret Nelson, Mary Shedden, Caroline Howard, Emmie Nixon, Mary Hill Bloodworth, Louise Paine, Carroll Hood, Mary Taylor, Rebekah Harman, Ernest Hartsock, Leon Mandeville, Harris Robinson, G. B. Strickler, Jennie Robinson, Mary Taylor, Lottie Witherspoon, Elizabeth Smith, Marie H. Baby Show.

The largest and most elaborate children's entertainment ever undertaken in Atlanta will be the baby show and children's party to be given by a committee of prominent young women next Tuesday afternoon on Mr. and Mrs. Preston Arkwright's lawn in Druid Hills.

The baby contest, which will be decided by several well-known baby specialists, will be the most important event of the afternoon, but there will be amusements for children of all ages.

Among the little folks already entered in the contest are:

Class No. 1.

Age 4 weeks to 6 months: Virginia Lipscomb Hurt, Lolile Baxter Maddox, D. C. Black, Jr., Louis Philip DeGive, Anne Nunnally Gray, Julia Dancy Hoyt, Katherine Chambers, Margaret Wright Alston.

Don't Use Curling Iron! Here's a Better Method

Thousands of ruined heads of hair bear striking testimony to the injurious effects of the heated curling iron. The continued use of such instrument invariably means dull, dry, shriveled hair, with split, broken, uneven ends.

If more women only knew it, the hair can be kept beautifully wavy, soft and fluffy—without any harmful result whatever—by the occasional use of plain liquid silmerine. A small quantity is applied before doing up the hair, using a clean toothbrush for the purpose, drawing this down the full length of the hair. The curly effect is quickly acquired and lasts quite a considerable time. It is so natural looking, and the texture and lustre of the hair are so improved that the woman who adopts this simple method will never go back to the atrocious waving iron. A few ounces of liquid silmerine from the druggist will last for weeks. The liquid is agreeable to use, and it leaves no gummy, greasy or odorous trace.

Cheap and big can Baking Powders do not save you money. Calumet does—it's Pure and far superior to sour milk and soda.

MRS. BROWN HONORED.

Elected President of King's Daughters and Sons.

The Atlanta Libby Circle of the International Order of King's Daughters and Sons ended its convention here last night with the installation of new officers, at the Central Congregational church.

The following is the official directory of the order for the new term: Mrs. B. F. Brown, of Augusta, president; Mrs. T. J. Gurr, of Waycross, vice president; Mrs. J. C. Meredith, of Columbus, recording secretary; Mrs. H. E. Crittenden, of Savannah, treasurer; Miss Beryl Elliott, of Augusta, corresponding secretary; Mrs. B. F. Brown, of Augusta, member of central committee; Mrs. L. M. Oates, of Columbus; Miss Nina Pate, of Savannah; Mrs. Troxler, of Waycross, and Mrs. C. F. Goree, of Atlanta, advisory board; Mrs. T. J. Darling, of Waycross, custodian; Mrs. W. E. Reeves, of Augusta, chairman of state expansion committee.

Mayor Asa G. Candler was the guest of the Libby circle at dinner Thursday at the Aragon hotel. He delivered a splendid address to the members and in the name of the Libby circle presented beautiful bouquets of carnations to Mrs. B. F. Brown, newly-elected state president, and Mrs. R. L. McLauren, of Mississippi, who was guest of honor of the convention. He also presented a birthday cake to Mrs. T. J. Darling, of Waycross.

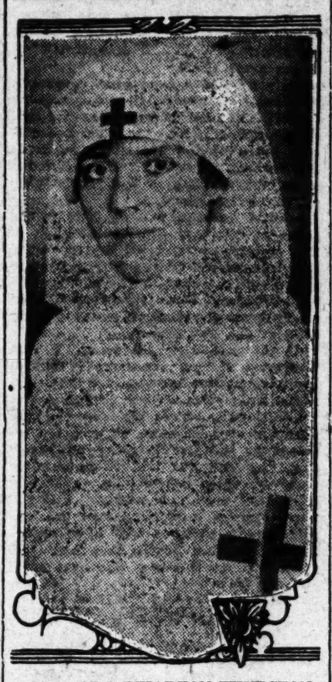

At the Thursday afternoon assembly, J. A. Harris, who is at the head of the Georgia Industrial home at Macon, delivered the principal address.

The 1917 convention was one of the most successful ever held by the King's Daughters.

ADVANCE SALES INSURE "ARIZONA" BIG SUCCESS

Play for Benefit of Fire Sufferers to Be Memorable Affair.

Although a great deal has been written in these columns for the last three weeks pertaining to the play "Arizona," which will be presented tonight under the auspices of the Georgia Division, National League for Woman's Service, there probably has not been in Atlanta's history a benefit entertainment more timely than this one, the proceeds to go toward the Red Cross work being done for Atlanta's fire sufferers.

MISS MARY WHARTON THURSTON
As "Miss MacCullagh" in "Arizona."

The play is being presented by a talented group of people belonging to the Habersham players, who two years ago gave several most creditable open-air performances, one of these "As You Like It." The players have been putting their best efforts into the rehearsals, and those who have witnessed them prophesy that the performance will be one of highest rank. The performance will be at the Atlanta theater. Aside from the play with its talented cast, there will be a series of patriotic taxleaux, in which a number of beautiful women will pose, representing the nations of the allied forces.

An orchestra will present a program of suitable music for the occasion and the sale of seats indicates just that generous patronage one might anticipate in view of the merits of the entertainment, and the worthy cause for which it is given.

In the tableaux will be Mrs. Brooks Morgan, Miss Louise Broyles and Mrs. Joseph Gatins, Jr.

The Cast.

MADE DIXIE MANAGER.

Floro Appointed by General Fire Extinguisher Co.

News of the appointment of Thomas Floro to be manager of the southern district, which includes 11 states, of the gas-heating department of the General Fire Extinguisher company, of Providence, R. I., has been received in Atanta.

Mr. Floro, who formerly lived in Providence, but came to this city about six months ago to introduce a new and, it is claimed, revolutionary method of heating houses by gas, is an engineer of note, and has represented the General Fire company in various sections of the United States for several years.

While in Atlanta Mr. Floro made his home at the Ansley hotel. He has already made a wide circle of friends, who will be delighted to learn of his recent promotion, which will make him a fixture in Atlanta. General offices of the gas-heating department will be for the present located with the Atlanta branch of the General Fire Extinguisher company, No. 276 Marietta street.

PEACHTREE HEIGHTS PARK

SELECT YOUR LOT AND WE WILL FINANCE THE BUILDING OF YOUR HOME

YOU know, of course, where Peachtree Heights Park is, but there are some points about its location we would like to have you think about carefully.

There is no more important element of value in your home than the location of it. Well placed, it is not only a joy while you live in it, but it is a quickly salable commodity, at market price, when occasion comes for you to dispose of it.

The location of Peachtree Heights Park is just such as will give permanent and ever-increasing value to the home built there, as well as pleasure to the occupant.

Some of Atlanta's prettiest homes have already been built in Peachtree Heights Park. It is where Atlanta home-builders are going.

We have all of the conveniences, including Arc Lights for streets, a $40,000.00 Public School is now under construction and will be ready for Fall term; there is a North Side Southern Railway Station being built at Brookwood.

RESTRICTIONS: Lots can not be subdivided so as to make any lot less than One Hundred feet frontage; only one house can be built on One Hundred feet frontage; homes cannot be built at a cost of less than $4,000.00 within the next fifteen years; building lines are Eighty feet; no sanatoriums, hospitals or stores; and cannot be sold, leased, rented or lent to negroes or persons of color.

For your home, the location of Peachtree Heights Park cannot be beat. Let us show it to you, or consult your own agent.

Ware County Ready.

Waycross, Ga., May 24.—(Special.)—Ware county will be prepared for the registration of men between the ages of 21 and 31 years June 5, in compliance with the proclamation issued by President Wilson. The local court officials in charge of arrangements have everything lined up for the day. Many have volunteered to assist in registering the men. At least four registration booths will be used in Waycross.

STATE PREPARES FOR REGISTRATION

Mayor Candler's Committee Will Meet This Morning — 56 Georgia Counties Ready, Reports Governor Harris.

Mayor Candler's central committee, composed of a representative from each ward, will meet at 11 o'clock this morning in the mayor's office, for the purpose of completing the details of the registration on June 5 of men subject to the army draft.

All wards have been very thoroughly organized, having in most cases a sufficient number of registrars and registration booths, but the fifth ward is very much behind her sister wards in this respect. Steps will be taken at this morning's meeting to bring this ward up to the standard.

Another meeting will be held in the office of Ordinary Jeffries at noon of the county registration board, when complete details for the registration of persons residing in the county will be completed. Sheriff Lowery has already appointed managing registrars in each of the four districts.

At the office of Governor Harris, Thursday, it was announced that 56 Georgia counties had reported that their registration plans were complete.

Additional instructions from the registration committee at Washington received in Atlanta Thursday stipulated that the colleges and schools could carry on their registration separately from the civil authorities. Georgia Tech, Emory university and the various negro colleges will have separate registration booths for their students who are between the ages of 21 and 30, inclusive.

Also, the student officers at the reserve training camp must be registered, as they are not yet in the service of the army.

There are absolutely no exempitons from registration except for men already in the army. Men in prisons are also included.

ANDREWS GOLD MEDAL IS WON BY P. A. LEE

P. A. Lee, of the freshman class at Georgia Tech, was the winner of the Walter P. Andrews gold medal in the freshman oratorical contest held Wednesday night. His subject was "America's Obligation to France." J. M. Robinson, who spoke on "The League to Enforce Peace," won second place. Both compositions were original. H. W. Arant, Dr. Wroth and Mrs. Spiker acted as judges.

Opening of Wigwam.

The Wigwam, Indian Springs, Ga., will open for the reception of guests Saturday morning. The roads are in excellent condition.

Atlanta Man Offers Device to Protect Ships From "Subs"

Ysbrand de Dood, of 420 Peachtree street, fomerly of Plainfield, N. J., has mailed to Secretary of War Baker plans for a new device designed to protect battleships and merchantmen from torpedoes.

The device consists of an eveloping wall of armor plate buoys, which completely surrounds the ship in moments of danger, but which, ordinarily is open at both ends, allowing for the free passage of water between the wall of bouys and the sides of the vessel.

The wall of buoys is held at a distance of some 15 feet from the sides of the vessel by arms attached to the vessel. The wall of buoys is of narrow construction so as not to impede the speed of the vessel any more than possible. Moreover, the wall is built in sections, so that when struck by a torpedo the injured section may be removed and replaced by a new one. The construction of the wall by sections also has two other advantages. First, the wall of buoys may be made of any length desired and so may be made to fit any vessel. Second, it is a "bendable" wall, thus absorbing shocks to some degree, both from missiles and from water.

Mr. de Dood points out that a vessel coming into port protected by such a wall of buoys may detach the buoys, sail out from between the walls and another may immediately sail in and depart.

"I do not know whether the idea is worth anything or not," he said, "but I am submitting it to Washington for whatever it may be worth in the war of the country."

MOTHER SAID TRY IT

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Mrs. Copner after Doctor's Failed.

Cincinnati, Ohio.—"I want you to know the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was in such bad health from female troubles that I could hardly get off my bed. I had been doctoring for a long time and my mother said, 'I want you to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.' So I did, and it has certainly made me a well woman. I am able to do my house work and am so happy as I never expected to go around the way I do again, and I want others to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. Josie Copner, 1668 Harrison Ave., Fairmount, Cincinnati, Ohio.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from choice roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

Pull Down Chimneys In the Burned Area, Urges C. J. Bowen

There are many dangerous chimneys standing in the burned area, and C. J. Bowen, city building inspector-elect, wants the property owners to have them pulled down at once. Mr. Bowen stated it would be impossible for his department to mail orders to this effect to the property owners.

"I would like to do this work myself," said Mr. Bowen, "but my department has no appropriation for this work. I will have a conference with Mayor Candler Friday morning to see if we can get the county forces to do this work for us. Otherwise the property owners must pull down their dangerous chimneys at once and consider this notice through the press sufficient."

FREE LAUNDRY OFFERED SUFFERERS FROM FIRE

James W. De Gunther, proprietor of the Model Laundry, corner Boulevard and Houston street, has volunteered to do free of charge the laundry of any of the Atlanta fire sufferers who are unable to pay for it.

This offer was made to the Atlanta Red Cross association and the work will be done in co-operation with the Red Cross relief committee.

Asthma Sufferers

Don't go on night after night, week after week, choking, gasping, struggling for breath.

No matter how many remedies you have tried, NACOR should strike at the cause of your trouble and remove that cause.

Here's a message of interest from a young man who suffered from asthma—read it!

"I had suffered from asthma and catarrh, and the doctor said my lungs were weak. I was losing weight, coughing and expectorating, and had pains in my chest.

I began taking NACOR on April 5, and after I had finished about one-fourth of a bottle, I could eat and sleep better. I gained from two to three pounds a week. After I had finished the bottle, I stopped coughing and even gained more in weight and strength. I now feel strong and as healthy as any one, and my doctor upon examination states that I am all right now."

If you want relief from Asthma, send right away for our booklet, "Health and Happiness." Write for it now

BOARD TO CONTINUE OPERATING SCHOOLS IN BURNED DISTRICT

The board of education decided at Thursday's meeting to continue to operate Forrest Avenue school, Boulevard, North Avenue and the negro school on Yonge street, all of which are in the fire-swept area.

On Thursday one-third of the pupils who attended these schools were in their seats, and it is believed that a larger percentage of these children will return when street car service in the burned area is resumed the latter part of this week.

The board of education, following recommendations of Superintendent L. M. Landrum, also decided to promote or graduate all children, whether in the public or high schools, who will be compelled to discontinue going to school the remainder of this season because of being burned out in Monday's fire.

"We recognize that there will be many parents who will be unable to send their children back to school," said the superintendent. "The proper thing for us to do is to promote these children, provided their standing in their grades before the fire was such as to warrant a promotion. This will also apply to high school students who lived in the burned district, and will not be able to continue the rest of the term.

"We are going to continue to hold school in the four schools in the burned district for as many as can attend."

There are 99 white school teachers and 19 negro school teachers living in the burned district who lost practically everything they had, including their homes and clothing. The board, subject to Mayor Candler's indorsement, passed a resolution whereby these teachers will be given their pay checks for this month immediately, instead of having to wait until June 5, and also be excused from school duties for the remainder of this week.

HEARING SET TODAY TO NAME RECEIVER FOR ROSE COMPANY

A hearing has been set for this morning of a petition for a receiver for the Randolph Rose company, which was applied for yesterday by the George Moore Ice Cream company, through its attorney, Hugh Howell. The ice cream company has a claim for $280 against the Rose concern, which is the owner of a string of cigar stores and soda fountains in Atlanta and other southern cities and also of Rose-O, a soft drink.

Prior to the filing of this petition, Chattanooga creditors of the Rose company, including Paul Heyman and L. I. Frank, receivers of the Rose whisky mail order house, which was put into bankruptcy some time ago, and the Fox-Ney company and David's printery, filed a petition in involuntary bankruptcy against the Atlanta corporation.

The receivers of the Chattanooga house allege that Randolph Rose owes them $40,000.

Harry Cohen, Atlanta manager of Randolph Rose, stated that the purpose of the action against the Rose company was to divorce the whisky business from the new Randolph Rose concern, which he declared was perfectly solvent. He stated that the suit was entirely a friendly one.

He said that Wednesday night in Chattanooga a petition for a receiver for the Randolph Rose company was granted and that Alvin S. Spears, a personal friend of Mr. Rose, was appointed receiver. Attorneys for both the Rose companies were in consultation in Atlanta Thursday.

KIRKWOOD FIRE FIGHTERS REACHED BIG BLAZE EARLY

Among the sister cities that responded to Atlanta's need in Monday's conflagration, the little suburb of Kirkwood will never be forgotten, although in the rush of collating the thousand and one angles of the fire "story" for Tuesday morning's paper, Kirkwood's part was unwittingly overlooked.

Led by Mayor Cassels, the dauntless fire-fighters of Kirkwood were the first from outside of Atlanta on the field of action, and they continued to battle the flames, unmindful of personal danger, to the very end, thereby winning a lasting place in the hearts of all Atlantans.

Just as soon as the magnitude of the peril was manifest, Kirkwood, even before she was called upon, sent her complete fire equipment to the scene, and it abundantly proved its value on that day, as any member of the Atlanta fire department will gladly testify.

$45,000 Still Needed To Make City's Income Balance the Expenses

After an all-day wrestle with the June finance sheet, the finance committee was still $45,000 out of balance, with the shortage being on the receipts side of the sheet. Anticipated revenue for the next six months from every conceivable source was considered, and when this side of the sheet had been carefully gone over, and income sources raised considerable, the balance was still $45,000 short of meeting the disbursements.

SILVER CHEST BURIED, FOUND SAFE FROM FIRE

Quick thinking on the part of Mrs. O. B. Stevens, widow of the late state commissioner of agriculture, resulted in saving from destruction by Monday's big fire a very valuable silver set which was presented to Mr. Stevens by the oil and fertilizer inspectors of the state while he was commissioner.

As soon as it became apparent that her home, at 304 East Linden street, was in danger, Mrs. Stevens had several men dig a big hole in the yard and bury the chest of silver in it. She dug it up after the fire and found all of it intact and uninjured.

ANNUAL FEAST TONIGHT OF MORRIS MANAGERS

The branch managers of Morris & Co., of Chicago, will have a banquet at the East Lake Country club this evening at 8 o'clock. The object of this banquet is to hear E. S. La Barth, of Chicago, on advertising. Others will give talks. This is an annual affair and is looked forward to as an interesting occasion. The banquet will be served on the spacious terrace overlooking the lake and the lights at the water front will make a beautiful setting for the party. E. G. Thomas, of the Atlanta branch, is in charge of the entertainment.

SHOW HARROUN CHASSIS AND TOURING CAR HERE

A Harroun chassis and touring car are now on display at the show rooms of the Atlanta Stearns headquarters, local distributors of the car.

Public faith and confidence in Ray Harroun, the great automobile driver, and his motor, made possible the Harroun car, according to Burton Smith, of Detroit, financial representative of the Harroun company, who is in Atlanta. The manufacture of the car for sale to the public will begin by June 1.

SCHOOL FOR TEACHING SPANISH ESTABLISHED

Senors de Correa and D. R. Touriel have started a Spanish school in room 518 Flatiron building. The opening date has been set for May 29. A large enrollment has already been obtained.

WILL SELL WAR BONDS ON INSTALLMENT PLAN

Employees of Insurance Companies Will Benefit by the Policy Announced.

W. E. Hawkins, Atlanta representative of the Aetna Life Insurance company, the Aetna Casualty and Surety company and the Automobile Insurance company, of Hartford, has been advised that these companies have adopted a system of disposing of liberty bonds to their employees on a co-operative installment plan, thus giving their employees an opportunity to make a safe business investment and at the same time rendering valuable aid to the country.

A total of $1,500,000 has been subscribed by these companies. Three and one-half per cent interest will be paid by the government on these bonds.

The following is the plan in detail as announced by M. G. Bulkeley, president of these companies:

"To make it as easy as possible for the various members of the Aetna family to subscribe for the liberty loan the following plan has been devised:

"You may apply in your own name, but through the Aetna Life Insurance company, for such amount of bonds as you may wish to subscribe for, agreeing to pay 5 per cent promptly on the 1st of each month thereafter until the bonds are paid for. The company will purchase the bonds to the amount of your subscription and hold them for you until you have completed your payments.

"Delivery of the bonds will be made at any time on payment of the balance due with accrued interest and the company will allow interest at 3½ per cent on the partial payment. Adjustment of interest will be made at the time the final payments are made.

"If at a later date the United States government should issue other bonds of this nature bearing a higher rate of interest we will arrange to exchange your bond or bonds for an equal amount of the new issue bearing the higher rate.

"Bonds will be coupon in form and in denominations of $50, $100, $500 and $1,000."

RECORDER JOHNSON PROTECTS PROPERTY IN DESTROYED AREA

The police department is doing all in its power to suppress theft of articles from the devastated area of the city. Three junk dealers were locked up at police headquarters last night under blanket charges of disorderly conduct. They are suspected of having received stolen goods from negro thieves.

J. Moret, of 67 Martin street, was held on $200 bond, pending a more thorough investigation of his connection with the thefts and sale of stolen articles. W. M. Reeves and his brother, J. R. Reeves, junk peddlers, were arrested for the same offense and are held without bond.

On the complaint of T. H. W. Philpot, of 47 Irwin street, John Simmons, a negro drayman, with an office at 123 Houston street, was arrested and held pending further investigation. Accordingly the police, Simmons took a dray-load of trunks, furniture and rugs from Mr. Philpot's residence and failed to deliver them at the proper address. When located, the goods were in a vacant house on Walton street, and the trunks had been opened and several valuable articles taken.

Recorder George Johnson is making it hot for persons who go prowling around the burned district for the purpose of stealing or "just picking up something," as the thieves express it.

Seven negroes and two white men were tried in the police court Thursday for carrying household goods away from the burned district that did not belong to them. The recorder fined each prisoner $25 or thirty days in the stockade.

The negroes tried and convicted were C. C. Anderson, Will Thomas, Doc Samuel, Kelle Heard, Walter Haynes, Mose Williams and Felix Roland. The two white men were J. R. and W. M. Reeves, junk gatherers.

SPLENDID GASOLINE RECORDS ARE MADE BY MAXWELL AUTOS

In a gasoline run test held by Maxwell automobile dealers all over the country Wednesday, the Atlanta Maxwell company was presented by a fleet of stock cars that made remarkable records. The run was made with only one gallon of gasoline in the tanks of the cars at the start.

One of the local Maxwell cars driven by John McCaslin, made 34.7 miles on one gallon, and another driven by Mrs. Henry Guimares, made an even 30 miles on the gallon.

Mr. Guimares reports that these records are highly pleasing to him, as well as to Maxwell dealers all over the country.

BIG MEETING IS HELD BY SIXTH WARD CLUB

There was a large and enthusiastic meeting of the Sixth Ward Improvement club Wednesday night at Fraternity hall, 424 Marietta street, with W. W. Waitts presiding and Judge O. H. Puckett acting as secretary.

The report of the special school committee calling for changes in the system, together with the resolutions proposed to be presented to council, was read and discussed with a great deal of interest, and a committee was appointed to go more thoroughly into the matter and report to the next meeting of the club their recommendations.

Taking part in the various discussions were Dr. Allen Johnson, Judge George E. Johnson and O. H. Starnes.

Before adjourning the meeting indorsed Dr. Ed Mincey for council and I. F. Styron for alderman at the coming city primary.

PLAY WILL BE STAGED FOR VICTIMS OF FIRE

With a cast composed of talented members of the Girls' High school and the Tech High school, "The Man from Home," the famous Booth Tarkington-Harry Leon Wilson play, will be staged for the benefit of the fire sufferers at the Atlanta theater the night of June 2.

"The Man from Home" is one of the most successful productions of the American theater and the lovable, genial, sensible Pike, as played by William Hodge, is known from coast to coast. This role will be in the hands of Roy L. Doyal, a Tech High football star, while Miss Evelyn Lovett, naive and accomplished, will be seen in the part of Ethel Granger Simpson.

Others in the cast will be John Kellum, Robert Willett, Clifford Near, Henry Reid, William McWhorter, Theodore Chase, Sidney Bleckley, Harry Jones, Sidney Rosser, J. A. Setze, Miss Billie Farnsworth and Miss Bennie Camp.

Fire Sufferers Are Given Aid By Atlanta Chapter, U. D. C.

Atlanta chapter, U. D. C., met on Thursday afternoon at the Woman's club. Mrs. T. T. Stevens presided, first stating the purpose of the meeting, to discuss the disastrous fire and the ways and means of aiding the many sufferers.

Mrs. Bun Wylie was present and invited the chapter to patronize an entertainment to be given by Atlanta chapter, D. A. R., at the Chapter house for the war relief fund.

Mrs. John C. Henderson, registrar, announced three new members as follows: Mrs. Edward Barnes, 148 Juniper street; Mrs. Ola Alford Anderson, 107 Trinity avenue, and Mrs. Catherine Lynch Wooten, Washington, D. C.

The announcement was made of the sad death yesterday of a beloved member, Mrs. W. O. Trammell, and resolutions of sympathy to the family voted.

Mrs. John C. Henderson presented a flag, given by Mrs. W. W. Northern, of Nashville, to the Atlanta chapter.

Miss Sallie Melone, custodian of properties, took charge of the beautiful confederate flag and a rising vote of thanks and appreciation was voted Mrs. Northern for the gracious gift.

A letter of sympathy voted and sent Mrs. R. D. Spalding on account of illness by Mrs. Dalton Mitchell.

Mrs. A. McD. Wilson invited the chapter to the May festival to be given Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Wren's Nest, the proceeds to aid the fire sufferers. Children especially invited.

Mrs. M. Haralson spoke of the great fire caused by General Sherman in the sixties. Mrs. Haralson is one of the pioneer women and knows from experience the awful times during that period of Atlanta's history.

Mr. Fred Paxon, chairman of the relief work for fire sufferers, spoke of the work in detail and spoke with appreciation of the untiring efforts of the women of Atlanta in this present situation.

General West spoke of the great fires of Atlanta since the sixties up to the present time. His recapitulation of the fires of the United States in the last 100 years, in which the losses far exceeded the losses sustained in the recent Atlanta fire, showed cause for thankfulness that this disaster was no worse.

Others who spoke feelingly in regard to the fire were: Mrs. Morgan, of the Pioneer society; Mrs. Helen Plane, Mrs. L. C. Weddell, who spoke of the work of the Needlework guild; Mrs. McGlaughin and Miss Hanna. Mrs. Woodward and Mrs. Fudge also had a few words to say.

The members of the chapter who lost their homes by the fire are as follows:

Mrs. Thomas Peters, Mrs. John C. Henderson, Mrs. J. H. Beckham, Mrs. Howard McCall, Mrs. R. M. Jones, Mrs. J. D. Carter, Miss Lillian Tidwell, Mrs. E. E. Pomeroy, Mrs. Pink Cherry, Mrs. C. H. Banks, Mrs. P. H. Randall, Mrs. Otis Adair, Mrs. James L. Baird, Mrs. W. A. Osborne, Mrs. Spence, on Boulevard; Misses Harwell, Mrs. A. A. Little, Mrs. Frank Fitten, Misses Bowen, Mrs. J. A. Manget and others.

MANY FRIENDS VISIT M'PHERSON TO SEE STUDENT OFFICERS

The Officers' Reserve corps candidates put in a hard day training yesterday, and it was a tired, but smiling bunch of men that marched to the Y. M. C. A. building to see their friends and relatives, who had assembled there awaiting their arrival at 4:30 o'clock.

Every afternoon hundreds of people go out to the fort to see friends among the candidates, and an exceptionally large number was present Thursday. The systematic work at the Y. M. C. A. building eliminates any waste of time in finding the desired candidates. Many mothers, sisters and sweethearts bring large boxes of "eats" to the candidates.

The men were drilled Thursday in handling firearms. They are taught not only the mechanism of the guns, but are drilled in shooting from every position. The officers are very careful to see that the men hug the ground as closely as possible.

Almost every company has adopted a mascot, which in every instance is a dog, and it seems to be the pride of each company to say that they have the smallest dog. The little dogs have picked out a member of their respective companies to follow, and the men are exceedingly careful lest harm should befall their mascots. Cards have been placed around the necks of the little dogs, telling to which company they belong, and if the animals are found from their rightful thoroughfares they are taken in charge and held for toll. But the mascots are fast learning their rightful territories and seldom stray from the company street.

Crackers Walk Away With First Game With Travelers, 8 to 0

EDITED BY LESLIE RAWLINGS

Pfeifer Fullenweider Was Too Much for Travelers; Result: 8 to 0 Shutout

Entire Team Played Jam-Up Ball—Cable on Second and Picinich Behind the Bat Brought Old Line-Up Into Play.

Little Rock, Ark., May 24.—(Special.) Led by slugging Roy Moran, the Crackers hammered the ball during the nine innings of play just as far and as hard as they smashed it in batting practice, and with their mighty bludgeons hammered themselves to an 8 to 0 win over Little Rock in the first game of the series.

When they weren't bombarding George Baumgardner, they were playing faultless ball behind Pfifer Fullenweider, who was pitching shut-out baseball. Many were the times that the Travelers had gunners waiting to score, but never was Fullenweider touched for the hit that would have scored a run against him. It was a game of hit the ball for the Crackers. Moran got a double and two singles, Munch and McDonald drove out triples and each made a single to go with his long clout. Bridwell had a perfect day with the two singles, a pair of bases on balls and a sacrifice.

The attack on Baumgardner started in the second round, when four hits, some ragged Traveler playing and heady playing by the Crackers put two runners over. McDonald drove a single to right. Bridwell bunted to Kennedy, who broke all records for altitude with a chuck over first base. McDonald scored and Bridwell went to third while Covington was retrieving the ball. Mayer beat out a bunt and Bridwell scored.

Baumgardner fell in fielding Munch's bunt. Jake getting a hit and Mayer taking second. "Bummie" threw wild in an effort to catch Mayer off second, and Sammy took third, Munch went to second. Picinich fanned, but Fullenweider soaked a single to center, scoring Mayer and Munch. Cable forced Fullenweider at second, and Reilly flied to Covington.

The Crackers took another in the fifth, when they pulled a double steal on the Travelers. After Cable flied out, Reilly rapped a single to right. Moran shot a single by Manning, Reilly taking third. Reilly and Moran worked the double steal, Captain Tom scoring. McDonald skied to Tincup. Moran was out at the plate, when the delayed steal failed. The seventh was another big inning for the Crackers. Cable walked, but was caught attempting to steal second. Reilly walked and scored when Moran hammered a double to left-center. McDonald slugged a triple to the same spot, and Moran scored. Bridwell shot a single by third to score McDonald. Mayer grounded out to Baumgardner, but Munch was safe on Kennedy's boot. He stole second, but Picinich fanned again, and the side was retired.

Barons Win From Chicks.

Memphis, May 24.—Birmingham had an easy time defeating Memphis today, 6 to 2, due as much to faulty fielding as to ineffective pitching. Perryman, pitching for Birmingham, allowed eight hits, but in no inning did he allow more than one. Four hits and two errors gave Birmingham three runs in the third inning. Bratchi's home run with Manda waiting to score, accounted for the Memphis runs.

LES DARCY SUCCUMBS TO PNEUMONIA ATTACK

Australian Pugilist Had Enlisted in Aviation Corps for War.

Memphis, Tenn., May 24.—Les Darcy, the Australian pugilist, died at a hospital here this afternoon from pneumonia. He had been ill more than a month.

Darcy died about 1:45 o'clock, his manager and trainer, Fred Gilmore and Mick Hawkins, respectively, being at the bedside. Gilmore immediately sent a cablegram to the dead man's mother in Australia, and the body will be held here pending instructions from her.

Darcy had enlisted in the aviation reserve corps here shortly before he was taken ill. At that time he was pronounced by Captain Christie, officer in charge of the corps, as the most perfect specimen of manhood that had applied for enlistment in the corps.

Darcy arrived in this country December 23 last year. He was met by Tex Rickard, boxing promoter, who was then making arrangements for the Australian middleweight champion to meet Georges Carpentier, the French heavyweight champion, in a ten-round bout at Madison Square garden.

This and other matches in which Darcy was to have been a principal had to be abandoned. Governor Whitman later issued an edict forbidding the Australian champion to appear in any glove contest in this state. In Ohio and Louisiana the governors followed the lead taken by Governor Whitman. Darcy never appeared in a real ring contest in this country. The only opportunity he had to show his skill was on a brief theatrical tour giving boxing exhibitions.

All Brennan Wants Is Unconditional Release From Club

Perry May Go to Braves and Thrasher Is Undecided Whether to Come Back or Not—Pelicans Anxious to Get Ad.

In an interview with Ad Brennan, the Cracker southpaw, whom C. Frank released several days ago, the star pitcher asserts that he isn't a bit sore over being released by Frank, although he should have been given a chance to square things, but he does think that the only way for Frank to have done under circumstances which existed was to have given him his unconditional release and not asked the other clubs to waive on him.

Brennan is now claimed by Mobile, but the veteran doesn't particularly fancy the idea of going to the Gulls and is endeavoring to have Johnny Dobbs dicker with the Gull pilot in an effort to hitch up with the Pelicans for the rest of the season.

Dobbs and Heinemann are both trying to get Ad and there is no question but what they would be doing themselves a big favor by doing so.

Another interesting feature of the Brennan-Frank argument came to light Thursday, when it was learned here that Frank must pay the Chicago club $526 for Brennan. The payment was ordered by the national commission Wednesday and came about after an agreement which the Cub manager had with Charlie Frank more than a year ago.

When Brennan came to the Crackers last year the agreement was that Frank was to pay the Cubs $500 with his transportation to Atlanta, in the event he was kept longer than a month.

It is possible now that George Stallings, of the Braves, will get Scott Perry, inasmuch as the purchase price of the hurler has been given the Boston manager by Frank. Charlie wants $3,000 for Scott and Boston is liable to need him bad enough to pay that price for him. Scott has already brought the Dutchman $2,000 and there's a good chance for another wad.

Frank Thrasher drifted into Atlanta Thursday and when interviewed by newspaper men admitted that he might return to Poncey in a Cracker uniform, although Mrs. Thrasher is mighty anxious for her husband to give up the game and devote his entire time to the Thrasher drug store in Madison.

Frank is undecided, but states that he will give Frank an answer by the time the team gets home.

"Lil" Marcan and Carl Thompson, former Crackers, were also around town Thursday. Marcan lost his job when the Georgia-Alabama went by the smoke route Wednesday, and Carl is at present employed by the Studebaker corporation here.

GRIFFIN SEEKS BERTH WITH SOUTH ATLANTIC

President Corish, However, Announces That Organization Will Remain Intact.

Griffin, Ga., May 24.—(Special.)—At a largely-attended meeting of citizens of Griffin and Spalding county this morning, $1,250 was raised in less than an hour for the purpose of securing a berth in the South Atlantic league. The canvass is being continued and more than $2,000 will be raised. The discontinuance of the Georgia-Alabama league is a great disappointment here and citizens are determined to keep organized baseball going if possible. Efforts are being made to secure a place in the South Atlantic or Dixie leagues, and President Nichols is awaiting an answer from both leagues, there being a probability that a franchise of one of the weaker clubs can be secured.

Augusta, Ga., May 24.—The South Atlantic league, consisting of Augusta, Charleston, Columbia and Jacksonville, will remain intact. President N. P. Corish announced here tonight, following the receipt of a petition for a franchise from Griffin, Ga. Mr. Corish states that the league is in excellent condition and there is every reason to expect a successful season.

DANGEROUS 'BEAN BALL' BARRED BY COMMISSION

National Commission Seeks Permission for Sunday Benefit Games.

Chicago, May 24.—Pitchers convicted of using the "bean ball" will be expelled from organized baseball as a result of a ruling by the national commission here today. The ruling was not alone directed to players in the major leagues, but to every member of clubs operating under the national agreement.

The commission's ruling, as announced by Chairman August Herrmann, follows:

"It has come to the notice of the national commission that certain pitchers are being charged with using the 'bean ball,' which charges, if true, would not only be a great detriment to the game, but would result in most severe injuries to players and would be unsportsmanlike in the highest degree.

"The commission therefore serves notice that if a charge of this kind is presented to it at any time against any player and, after an examination therefore, the same is proven, it will result in the expulsion of the player or players so charged from the game."

Chairman Herrmann characterized the "bean ball" as brutal and added that he could not force himself to believe that a pitcher would deliberately hurl a ball at a batter's head with the intention of injuring him. He declared that such a practice might result fatally.

Expulsion of a player for use of the illegal ball means that he cannot enter the employ of a club operating under the national agreement for at least five years, as a petition for reinstatement will not be considered in less time.

The commission made tentative plans to play Sunday games in six eastern cities—New York, Brooklyn, Washington, Philadelphia, Boston and Pittsburg, the receipts to be donated to the army and navy for a war relief fund. Chairman Herrmann estimated that $100,000 could be raised by six Sunday games.

The commission also arranged to stir up enthusiasm at all major league games on June 5, the date for army registration. Bands will be engaged for the occasion.

Making "Cigarette-Comfort" for a Nation

Every minute of every day great batteries of throbbing machines are whirling out Fatimas by thousands.

Fifty-eight per clock-tick is Fatima's average—an average that is growing day by day because of Fatima's comfort.

Throughout the length and breadth of this great country, more smokers are daily learning the comfort-lesson Fatimas teach—the comfort to throat and tongue while smoking and the man-comfort that follows after smoking.

It's this constantly growing demand for Fatima-comfort that keeps the Fatima machines pouring forth thousands upon thousands of these famous cigarettes.

And it's this common-sense "cigarette-comfort" that makes men call Fatimas a sensible cigarette.

New York, May 24.—Early irregularity was followed by renewed strength and activity in the cotton market today, with prices working above yesterday's best levels. October contracts sold up from 20.50 to 20.85 and closed at 20.78, with the general list closing steady at a net advance of 13 to 19 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 30 points on May, and of 6 to 11 points on later deliveries. Sentiment seemed to have been unsettled by the sharp break of late yesterday, and there were liquidating orders around the ring, with realizations encouraged by the continued good weather in the south. The market very soon firmed up, however, with attention attracted by the final evening up of May contracts in which trading ended at midday. The remaining interest in the spot month was not a large one, but shorts found very few sellers, and before covering had been completed the price had advanced 70 to 80 points above last night's close, 9 cents a pound above the low level of February 1, and within 5 points of the season's high level established last November. The strength in this position exerted an influence all along the line, and after May was disposed of the market sold up very sharply on covering and a renewal of bull support. An optimistic view of the war news based upon reports of Italian successes and the publication of rumors that Russia had rejected a peace offer from Germany, appeared to be among the factors on the advance. There was also a reiteration of bullish crop reports, and for a time the market was active, with July contracts selling up from 20.85, the low point of the morning, to 21.21, and December from 20.58 to 20.99, or about 25 to 32 points net higher. The advance was checked at this level by realizing, and there was some Liverpool selling in the later trading, with the close showing reactions of 10 to 12 points from the best. One of the private cables here from Liverpool this morning said that the trading was absorbing all contracts offering around the ring, and the early afternoon advance was encouraged by talk of a larger spot business in the south.

Spot cotton steady; middling, 21.00.

In New Orleans.

New Orleans, May 24.—Further advances into new high ground were made by cotton on this market today on buying stimulated by continued cold weather over the belt and evidences of a spot demand which the south appeared to have difficulty in meeting. While all months made new high levels for the present bull movement, October sold at the highest price—20.25 cents a pound—ever recorded against that position. There was much profit-taking by recent buyers which held the market within bounds. At the topmost levels of the session active months were 23 to 28 points over yesterday's last quotations. Closing prices showed net gains of from 15 to 18 points.

On the opening the tone was none too good and prices fell off 13 to 19 points under short selling and liquidation stimulated by poor cables. Bearish traders were confident of a reaction of consequence, but gradually all offerings were absorbed and the loss recovered. By the middle of the morning prices were at a net advance, but the highest levels were reached in the afternoon.

Part of the buying apparently was founded on the belief that the first condition report of the season, carrying the crop down to tomorrow, would be very low.

BIG CROP REPORTS SEND WHEAT LOWER

Advices Forecast Huge Spring Crop — Rumors of German Naval Defeat Also Aid Bears.

Chicago, May 24.—Prospects of a bumper crop of spring wheat did a good deal today to lower prices and so did vague and unverified rumors of an important naval victory over the Germans. The market closed heavy at 5 to 7⅛c net decline, with July at $2.22 and September at $1.93½. Corn lost 4½ to 6⅝c and oats 1¼ to 3⅛ to 3¼c. Provisions finished irregular, ranging from a setback of 10c to a gain of 2½c.

Optimism regarding the crop outlook as to wheat prevailed from the start. Advices describing conditions in the Dakotas and Minnesota were especially encouraging. In addition, dispatches from Kansas suggested a winter wheat yield of 60,000,000 bushels in that commonwealth as against 42,500,000 harvested last year.

Lowest quotations of the day in the wheat pit came during the last hour, and were associated directly with altogether unconfirmed reports that the German navy lost heavily in a battle off Helgoland.

Enlarged country offerings here, together with apparent complete stoppage of shipment demand from the east, led to sharp breaks in the price of corn. Besides, crop conditions were said to be ideal.

Oats went down grade in price owing chiefly to favorable weather. Selling of July and buying of September was a favorite operation.

Provisions reflected the weakness of the grain and hog markets. On the declines, though, packers seemed to have turned to the buying side.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, May 24.—(Special.)—Liberal selling on the part of Liverpool brought about a decline in this market at the opening today but immediately the foreign offerings stopped. Prices moved upward in response to domestic demand. The shortage of cotton goods the world over is becoming more acut each day and orders for replishment place such a tax upon the limited supply of raw matrial that it can only be equalized by advancing prices. The war's great wastage is enhancing the value of labor and materials beyond all precedent.

BOND, M'ENANY & CO.

New York, May 24.—(Special.)—Warm weather over the cotton belt caused a recession during the first hour; supporting orders, however, soon appeared and the market advanced to a new high point, to lose ten points in the lats hour. The advance was due to the low temperatures reported last night in some sections of the Carolinas and Tennessee. All of the local traders feel the constant suppodt given to prices by the western and Wall street buyers in exception of many bullish crop reports to follow from the complaints of cold weather. This naturally creates a bullish feeling about the market which is increased by the advance in prices. They all look for higher markets tomorrow.

U. S. STEEL GOES TO NEW HIGH MARK

With One-Third of Day's Trading, U. S. Steel Gains 3 3-4 Points—Other Industrials Gain.

New York, May 24.—All other developments of today's feverishly active market seemed insignificant compared with the further rise of United States Steel to the new record of 131¼. This represented an overnight gain of 3¾ points and surpassed the previous maximum by 1¾ points.

The ease and confidence with which steel changed hands in countless lots of 1,000 to almost 10,000 shares was regarded as one of the most phenomenal features in the annals of the local exchange. Steel's portion of the day's total output of 1,115,000 shares approximated 33 per cent.

Other industrials, notably those included in the wide variety of equipments and munitions, kept pace with steel as to actual gains, but the so-called "war brides" while strong, were for the most part far below highest quotations recorded in the spectacular markets of the two preceding years.

Standard rails also augmented recent gains, the extreme weakness of several low-priced issues evidently exerting no adverse effect. New Haven fell 5⅛ to the minimum of 32⅝, but rallied later on announcement of probable favorable action by the Massachusetts legislature regarding the company's application to issue preferred stock.

Denver and Rio Grande issues continued under the handicap imposed by a recent court decision. The preferred fell 5¼ to 13¾, its lowest price in many years, and the common dropped 1¾ to 7¼.

Metals, shippings, oils and divers issues which move in common with the war divisions, registered extreme gains of 1 to 3 points. Exceptions to this tendency were manifested by some of the motors, Peoples Gas, American Zinc, Brookly Transit and Virginia Iron.

Commission houses reported a decided accession of public interest, the inquiry originating at leading industrial centers. The short interest also paid its heavy toll, especially in United States Steel. Another large export of gold to Japan and prospects of a revival of the gold movement to South America were among the financial incidents of the day. Foreign exchange underwent no material alteration, but call loans stiffened.

Bonds were irregular on the heaviness of minor railway issues and an easier tone in internationals. Total sales, par value, aggregated $2,250,000.

United States coupon 3s lost 1¼ per cen on call and Panama coupon 3s fell 9 points to 90 on one sale.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

The renting agencies continued to do a land-office business throughout Thursday, as a result of Monday's big fire in which some 1,000 odd families were burned out of homes.

There were no building permits of consequence issued Thursday.

C. J. Bowen, building inspector- elect, has issued a request to property owners in the burned area, to have dangerous chimneys standing pulled down.

NEW YORKERS TO GET GOVERNMENT CONTRACT

Senator Hoke Smith Anxious to Give Georgia Contractors Chance to Bid.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, May 24.—(Special.)—Contracts for the construction of the two cantonments at Atlanta and one at Augusta to house the draft army to be raised this fall has not yet been let, but from the best information available today, the award is liable to go to the W. A. Fuller Construction Company of New York, although another report is that Burton & Co., of New York, were the successful ones.

Senator Hoke Smith, upon hearing the report today, made efforts to hold up the award until contractors in Georgia had an opportunity to be heard. A delegation from Augusta, headed by H. D. Twiggs, is already here. B. H. Hardaway, of Columbus, is also on the grounds and a large number of Atlanta contractors are expected to arrive tomorrow.

It is extremely difficult to learn who is responsible contracting party on behalf of the government. Colonel I. W. Littell, of the quartermaster general's department, is in charge of construction, but is acting in co-operation with the lumber committee of the Council of National Defense. Between the two the contracts are let, but who casts the deciding vote is a profound mystery.

Representative Howard, of Georgia, has already made a vigorous attack upon the Council of National Defense, in a speech in the house, and Senator Hoke Smith is expected to turn his guns upon that body in the senate.

Under the acts pased by congress governing the award of contracts, especially the act of June 17, 1910, it is provided that purchases shall be made "except in emergency," by advertising for proposals, but in an emergency may be obtained by open purchase.

Since a war emergency exists, it seems that almost all restrictions may be and are being waived, except possibly restrictions as to "quality, cost of transportation ,and the interests of the government."

To Become Vice Admiral.

Washington, May 24.—President Wilson will soon nominate Rear Admiral Sims to a vice admiral in view of his position as commander of the American naval forces co-operating with the allies in European waters.

Girl and Father's Remarkable Recovery

Mr. Otto Alabaugh, R. R. 1, West Union, Ill., says: "I was in very bad health, I doctored with two doctors and received no benefit. They told me I had asthma and bronchitis. I could not sleep good and had no appetite, and was so run down I could not do anything. I lost in flesh, got down to 120, and my normal weight is 145. So a friend asked me to try Nature's Creation. I purchased two bottles, but before I had taken one bottle I could sleep good and had a good appetite, and can truly say I can do any work I want to do. I have gained in weight, back to my normal weight, and certainly feel fine. My little daughter, five years old, has also never been well. She always complained of her limbs and head hurting, but since she began taking Nature's Creation she does not complain and has gained 10 pounds in weight since taking Nature's Creation. We cannot praise the medicine too much and we certainly will recommend it to all suffering as we did." Write or call for FREE BOOKLET. No obligation. Examination free. Nature's Creation, 303 Cent. AMERICAN LABOR CHIEF TURNS DOWN PEACE PLAN

Gompers Refuses to Send Delegates to Stockholm — German Influence Suspected.

Washington, May 24.—Another effort to get Americans to participate in peace parleys at Stockholm failed today when President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, declined an invitation to send delegates to a Stockholm trade union congress to discuss the claims of labor in connection with peace negotiations. The congress will meet simultaneously with the socialist peace conference on which the state department has put its stamp of disapproval by refusing passports to Americans expecting to participate and by warning citizens that such participation would be in violation of the law.

The federation of labor's invitation came in a cablegram from President Oudegeest, of the Dutch Federation of Trade Unions. Mr. Gompers cabled this reply:

"Long before the United States entered the war the American Federation of Labor proposed an international conference after the war and at the time and place where the representatives of each government were to meet to determine the treaties and international relations. That proposition was rejected. Now, after the United States is in the war, you propose a conference to be held at Stockholm at the same time and place when the so-called international socialist conference is to be held at Stockholm and this proposition, too, without consultation with trade union centers of the United States and other countries.

"There is no time by which American organized labor could select delegates to attend the Stockholm conference June 8, and I cannot see how any good could come from our participation in such a congress at this time."

Federation of Labor officials interpreted the Dutch move as having been prompted by German interests, inasmuch as the head of the International Federation of Trade Unions, which ordered the Dutch organization to arrange the conference, is Carl Legein, a German labor leader. No meetings of the international federation have been held since the war started.

Succulent Onion To Be Saved From Wicked Plotters

Boston, May 24.—Eighty-eight corporations and individuals were indicted by the federal grand jury here today for conspiring to monopolize interstate commerce in onions.

The indictments, which were returned as a result of a nation-wide inquiry into the cost of food conducted last winter by Federal Attorney Anderson, allege that the defendants divided the territory of the country between them for the purpose of eliminating competition; that maximum prices were fixed for the purchase of onions, and that the supply was hoarded in order to increase prices.

Mr. Anderson estimated that the annual crop of onions amounted to 200,000,000 pounds, three-fourths of which he said was alleged to have been controlled by the defendants. In a statement outlining the case, Mr. Anderson said:

"It is a part of the plan of this association to have monthly meetings in various parts of the country so as to get as large an attendance as possible of members who might otherwise be reached only through the mails. After these monthly meetings the secretary issues to the members printed "confidential reports" containing a summary or review of the amount of onions available in various producing sections, followed by such suggestions as: 'The bulk of the onion crop is now in the hands of speculators, fully 75 per cent of whom are members of this association.' 'This report shows that the movement for the entire United States need be only 80 cars per day. The results rest with the members, and by all means arrange to keep onions moving regularly.' 'We should not fool ourselves and make this a fictitious value market, but be sure of conditions, and the key to the situation is to keep some moving all the time.'

"For the 1916 crop the producers probably received less than 2 cents per pound. In midwinter many of these onions were sold to retailers and through them to consumers at 10 to 15 cents a pound. It is claimed by the government that this tremendous margin between the price accruing to the producer and the price paid by the consumer was largely due to the illegal control of the trade exercised by this association."

The Value of Accuracy

The difference between accuracy and inaccuracy in an audit may mean the difference between business security and positive loss.

A partial or an incorrect audit by an inexperienced accountant is often worse than no audit at all. It is not only useless, but may be dangerous.

For accuracy, for ALL the facts, be sure you employ a firm of established reputation, that KNOWS its business.
